

Split in Ranks Of Backers Is New Obstacle For Daladier

French Premier's Attack on Reds Causes Comment

BID FOR PEACE?

Observers Look for Rupture With Soviet Russia

Paris—(U)—Grave new troubles at home and abroad plagued France today in the still-unfinished aftermath of Germany's diplomatic victory at Munich and Japan's conquest of China.

A break was threatened in Premier Daladier's radical-socialist following which might seriously undermine his government at a time when France is struggling to reconstruct her finances and diplomacy.

French political observers said such a split, reaching even to high cabinet officers, already had occurred because of Daladier's violent attack against communists yesterday.

There were two reasons for radical-socialist discontent with Daladier's stand. His own power has been based partly on communist support in the now-strained popular front. Second, many observers interpreted Daladier's blast as an attack on Soviet Russia foreshadowing a rupture with France's ally.

See Peace Accord

In Paris meanwhile plans were disclosed for a joint French-German declaration renouncing war against each other. Germany and Britain already are linked by such a statement, signed by Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Prime Minister Chamberlain at the Munich conference.

In Rome, meanwhile, Premier Mussolini told fascists Europe's "political horizon is clearing." While Reichsfuehrer Hitler's partner spoke at a celebration of the sixteenth anniversary of the fascist march on Rome, his foreign minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, and the German foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, discussed the joint attitude of the Rome-Berlin axis on European affairs.

Accept Czech Proposal

One subject was the Czechoslovak-Hungarian territorial dispute which, after weeks of threatening hostilities, appeared to be on the way to peaceful solution. Hungary has agreed to a Czechoslovak proposal for cession outright of part of the disputed territory and arbitration of disputed areas by an Italian-German commission.

The Japanese foreign office was silent on a United States note demanding equitable treatment of American interests in China by the influential newspaper Asahi said the government considered American insistence on a continued open door as "unsuitable."

It said Japan's advances in China created a new situation, necessitating treaty revisions.

Japanese forces pressed ahead from Hankow, captured provisional capital, taking Sianning, 50 miles south, and establishing a line for and advance down the vital Hankow-Canton railroad.

In Spain both insurgent and government reinforcements moved up on a front south of Madrid where insurgent forces twice this week have failed to crack government lines.

Huge Fire Breaks Out In Heart of Marseille

Marseille—(U)—A huge fire broke out in the heart of Marseille today and spread to Hotel Noailles, where Premier Daladier, most cabinet members, and delegates to the radical-socialist party congress are staying.

The fire destroyed a big department store on Boulevard Canebiere and spread across the street to the hotel and adjoining buildings. It was accompanied by a number of gas explosions.

Twenty persons were reported injured. Daladier and other prominent guests were at the party congress hall, which was untouched.

FORGIVES WIFE WHO POISONED HIM

Turnkeys at the county jail at Madison, Wis., said John Peters (left) had apparently forgiven his wife, Florence (right), 38, who confessed poisoning her first husband eight years ago and trying to kill her present man in the same manner. She pleaded guilty to a murder charge and received a mandatory life sentence today. Peters recovered last summer after being seriously ill of poisoning.

Japanese Warn France to Stop Supplying Chinese With Arms Or 'Measures' May be Taken

Tokio—(U)—A foreign office statement today said Premier Prince Konohe had warned France that Japan "might be compelled to take measures" if the French continued to supply China with arms.

It was believed this meant possible Japanese occupation of Hainan island, just off the South China coast, one of the points of the French sphere of influence and a strategic dagger aimed at the heart of the vast French oriental possessions.

Yotaro Sugimura, Japanese ambassador to Paris, protested in Paris and, the statement today said, Premier Konohe told French Ambassador Charles Arsene Henry that Japan was "gravely concerned with a possible development in the situation."

The newspaper Asahi meanwhile declared the Japanese government considered "unsuitable" American insistence on a continued open door to trade in China.

Claim Situation Changed

A new situation existed in the Far East because of Japanese advances in China, said the large independent-liberal newspaper. It predicted Japan would seek to induce the United States government to accept this thesis.

A 3,000-word protest against unwarranted interference with American rights in China, made public in Washington yesterday, was not published here but Asahi, nevertheless, dealt with the subject of the open door policy generally.

The foreign office spokesman said the date of replying to the United States note was indefinite but belief grew here the reply would be soon.

Would Modify Pact

Another authoritative spokesman agreed with the newspaper's intimation the nine-power pact "must be modified in consideration of the greatly changed situation in China" since the fall of Hankow and Canton.

(The nine-power pact on respect for the territorial integrity of China includes as signatories China, Japan, the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Portugal.)

Imperial headquarters in a new statement on damage by Japanese bombs to the British gunboat Sandpiper at Changsha Monday denied the damage was deliberate.

States note, presented Oct. 6 by Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, was indefinite but belief grew here the reply would be soon.

Reich Forces Polish Jews to Leave Country

Several Thousand Already Ordered to Return To Poland

EFFECT OF NEW LAW

Reich Officials Fear Group May Become Public Charges

Warsaw—(U)—An authoritative source said tonight that "in all probability" German measures against Polish Jews would be withdrawn.

The authoritative informant here said the German government's action presumably resulted from "a misunderstanding" of Poland's new citizenship law requiring revalidation of all Polish passports held by residents abroad.

In official Polish quarters, however, no details concerning possible rescinding of German action could be obtained.

Berlin—(U)—Authoritative informants said today Nazi authorities already had sent several thousand Polish Jews living in Germany back into Poland following a nation-wide roundup.

In Berlin alone several hundred Polish Jews were routed from their beds in early morning raids semi-officially explained as intended to forestall application of a new Polish law that might deprive thousands of Jews in Germany of Polish citizenship.

The German government estimated that 150,000 residents of Germany are Polish citizens. According to a Polish law coming into effect Oct. 30 all these by that date must have their passports revalidated by Polish consulates.

Jewish circles estimated that the law applied to between 4,000 and 6,000 Jews in Germany.

Would be Barred

Failure to obtain such revalidation will mean that the passport holder never again can enter Poland.

Semi-official German sources said it was feared that those who did not receive revalidation might become public charges. After midnight tomorrow they could not be sent back to Poland.

Failure to reach an agreement with Poland until now, these sources said, "compelled German authorities to take measures for reducing the number of those who, in all likelihood, will not receive the revalidation stamp."

Germany gave Jews first attention in keeping with her anti-Semitic policies.

The new Polish regulations were said in Warsaw to have been planned to make possible cancellation of the passports of Polish citizens

Silent on Seizure Of Four Valises

Customs Agents Search Apartment of New York Justice

New York—(U)—Customs officials maintained silence today on the contents of four valises taken from the Park avenue apartment of Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Lauer after a six-hour search for smuggled wearing apparel.

Affidavits sworn by Gordon H. Pike, customs agent, and by Rosa Weber, former maid in the Lauer home, led to the search.

Justice Lauer attributed the trouble to the "exaggerated and distorted story told by a discharged German maid who apparently wishes revenge for her discharge."

Albert N. Chaperau was arrested, charged with falsely representing himself as a Nicaraguan official in order to gain free entry of taxable merchandise.

Justice Lauer paid customs authorities $10,400 on Sept. 17, 1937, in settlement of claims for failure to declare dutiable goods.

Reich Foreign Office Newspaper Says U. S. Is 'Encumbrance' to European Conciliation Efforts

Berlin—(U)—The German foreign office mouthpiece, Deutsche Diplomatische Politische Korrespondenz, today accused the United States of being "an encumbrance to European conciliation efforts" since the peace of Munich.

In a bitter attack on "American meddling in European affairs," the publication said "it already has gone so far that authorized English sources have found it necessary, in the face of American objection, to justify the conduct of western European powers."

The attack apparently was prompted by President Roosevelt's Wednesday night address against "peace by fear." The Nazi press has treated the speech with derision.

"It appears more and more the intention (in America) to lay down the law to European countries on

Says Whitney Case Reveals Bad Practices

SEC ISSUES REPORT

False Rumor on Floor of Exchange Led to Exposure

Washington—(U)—President Roosevelt said today a securities commission report on the activities of Richard Whitney was very "horrible," because it revealed practices which everyone was trying to prevent.

In response to press conference questions, the president said that all concerned, including the stock exchange, was interested in preventing the recurrence of any of the practices in the Whitney case.

Mr. Roosevelt said he understood that the SEC would make its report on the Whitney case in three sections, the first of which was made public today.

His discussion followed an SEC description of how a false rumor on the floor of the exchange finally led to exposure of the methods by which the now-imprisoned Wall Street leader misappropriated customers' securities.

Borrowed 27 Million

In its official report on the failure of Whitney's firm, the commission also disclosed for the first time that the former exchange president had negotiated in five months no less than 111 loans amounting to more than $27,000,000 in a desperate attempt to stave off failure. Whitney is serving a prison term.

The commission's report said information which led to an exchange committee to investigate Richard Whitney and Company originated with John B. Shethar, a specialist in the stock of Greyhound corporation.

Shethar had noted "distress selling" in Greyhound which he believed to have come from the Whitney firm.

Clue Without Basis

"It is perhaps ironical," the report said, "that this clue which eventually led to Richard Whitney's exclusion from the exchange was without substantial foundation in fact."

The report added that Shethar himself recognized his information about Whitney's connection with the distress selling was vague and based on his own "impression."

Of the $27,361,500 borrowed by Whitney in the last five months of his financial career, the report said, $25,222,500 was borrowed from eight commercial banks. By March 8, 1938, the date of the failure, all but $1,632,500 had been repaid.

The remainder was borrowed from firms or individuals associated with the stock exchange. Of this amount, $1,647,000 was still owed on March 8.

Holt Expects Congress To Bar Use of Relief Money for Politics

Washington—(U)—Senator Holt (D-W. Va.) predicted today that complaints of WPA activities in the election campaign would lead congress to prohibit use of relief money for political purposes.

Holt, a critic of the WPA, charged that manipulation of relief funds to influence voters had become "a national scandal that should lead to some grand jury indictments."

He praised work of the senate campaign expenditures committee, which has investigated charges that the WPA was being used for the benefit of candidates. The committee has criticized relief officials in some cases.

"Certainly," Holt declared, "no one can say that Senator Sheppard, (D-Texas) who is chairman of the committee, is not an administration supporter. And no one can say that the committee has been biased in any way in investigating these charges."

Sheppard's committee will meet again next Wednesday and Thursday to hear final reports on investigations in a half-dozen states.

Sheppard said further information on charges of WPA political activity in Pennsylvania, North Dakota, Tennessee, Kentucky and New Jersey would be included, along with reports on other investigations in Ohio and Illinois.

Heart Attack Fatal to Auto Accident Victim

Selma, Ala.—(U)—Mrs. Edward C. Crane, Oshkosh, Wis., injured when her automobile overturned Monday, died in a hospital here today of a heart attack. Her injuries had not been considered critical.

The accident occurred shortly after Mrs. Crane and Mrs. J. H. Davidson had departed for home from Uniontown. The body is being returned to Oshkosh for burial.

Survivors include a son, Charles Crane, a Chicago investment banker.

Governor Scores GOP Attempts to Defame Wisconsin

Says Selfish Politicians Slander for Political Advantage

Attacking the state Republican party with both guns loaded, Governor Philip LaFollette, a candidate for reelection on the Progressive ticket, told about 400 persons at Lawrence Memorial chapel last night that "Progressives always have had an up-hill fight against the reactionary Republicans in the state" and that "all the real progress in social legislation was made by Progressives."

The governor claimed the state has all its bills paid and now operates under a law, passed by the 1937 legislature, which says the state must operate on a "pay as you go basis."

Scoring persons who slander the state, LaFollette attacked "selfish politicians who slander Wisconsin's excellent industrial conditions for their own political advantage." He claimed Wisconsin was a better state for industry than any other in the Union.

"It may be all right for Republicans to say it's open season on Phil LaFollette," the governor said, "but it's hitting below the belt to throw mud at the state of Wisconsin. Why, it's the best darn state in the Union."

Industry's Friend

The governor pointed to the newly created state department of commerce as evidence of the state's natural friendliness for an aggressive aid to industry saying: "The prosperity of Wisconsin is rooted in the prosperity of industry as well as that of labor and agriculture. The new department is working to promote the welfare of business in the state."

LaFollette justified the expenditure of 25 to 30 millions more now

Ask Duffy to Help 'Model Resident'

Case of Escaped Virginia Prisoner Laid Before Senator

Marquette—(U)—Persons interested in the case of Dewey L. Roush, 40, "model" resident of the town of Amberg farming community recently arrested after escaping from the Lorton, Va., reformatory honor camp 12 years ago, have sought the aid of Senator F. Ryan Duffy in obtaining clemency for him.

J. Emmet McCarthy, assistant district attorney who said he was convinced Roush's case has merit, laid the case before Duffy at a recent political meeting. He said Duffy told him he would contact Joseph B. Keenan of the United States attorney general's office, after he had received written details of the matter.

Since Roush was convicted of Dyer act violation in the District of Columbia, it would be necessary to obtain a pardon from the president. Petitions testifying to Roush's character, honesty and morals since his residence locally, have been circulated in the northern part of Marinette county and reportedly bear hundreds of signatures.

Roush said he walked off the premises of the honor camp after serving six months of a three-year sentence for theft of an automobile. He is being held in the county jail here pending disposition of the case. He was apprehended by the Wisconsin, D. C. superintendent of penal institutions when traced through an application for soldier's bonus, made three years ago.

WON'T SURRENDER

Hong Kong—(U)—A Central News agency (Chinese) dispatch from Chungking today said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek had declared China would fight on and that "a decisive battle" between a united China and that the Japanese armies would be fought west of the present area of Japanese conquest.

The dispatch quoted a telegram sent by the Chinese leader—presumably from new headquarters somewhere west of fallen Hankow—to the people's central political council at Chungking, provisional capital.

Shiocton Kraut Company Resumes Operations Today

No Agreement Reached, But Union Calls Off Pickets

Operations were resumed at the Shiocton Kraut company plant, Shiocton, this morning after it had been closed for a day by union pickets.

No agreement on a closed shop was reached at a 2-hour meeting yesterday afternoon of union representatives and Alden C. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Shiocton company, but the union officials at a general meeting at New London last night decided to give Smith another week to reconsider. The firm's products then will be boycotted by the union, officials said, if an agreement is not reached.

The strike was called by the International Hod Carriers, Common Laborers and Canning Factory Employees union, local No. 1300, affiliated with the A. F. of L. Picket lines were formed at the plant yesterday morning and the workers prevented from entering the plant.

Smith said that none of his employees was involved in the strike and that he had received a statement from them that they were satisfied with their pay and working conditions.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was terminated when Smith declared that he would reopen the plant this morning and asked for police protection.

Sheriff John Lappen, District Attorney Raymond J. Dohr and Supervisors George Schofer, Green, and Arthur Zuitches, Seymour, attended the conference yesterday.

Propaganda Plan Is Aired at Trial

Woman Says Germans Discussed Proposal for Villa in Washington

New York—(U)—The unfinished story of how two high officials of the German war ministry in one breath praised President Roosevelt as "the greatest navy man in the world" and in the next breathed a plot to open a Nazi propaganda salon in Washington was resumed in federal court today.

Mrs. Kate Moog Busch, testifying for the government against three alleged German spies on trial, said the scheme was proposed to her in 1937 by Lieutenant-Commander Udo von Bonin and Lieutenant-Commander Hermann Menzel, both attached to the espionage branch of the reich war ministry.

Von Bonin and Menzel are fugitives from a federal indictment charging them with directing a plot to steal American military secrets.

Mrs. Busch, who has been under guard since the spy case broke last February with the arrest of Frauella Johanna "Wendy" Hofmann, 25, Erich Glaser, 28, and Otto Herman Voss, 38, said the German officials were interested in her because they had heard she had many friends in Washington.

"Did they discuss that you rent a villa in Washington to entertain these people?" she was asked.

"Yes, I was to be the hostess."

BOOST OUTLAYS

Increase Facilities in War Material Manufacturing Areas

Washington—(U)—Heads of a dozen leading utilities companies announced "definite commitments" today to place immediate orders for power generating equipment for 1,000,000 kilowatts.

They said it was the "first step" in a program of expenditures estimated at a billion dollars a year for the next two years.

Floyd L. Carlisle, of the Consolidated Edison company of New York, said this would be approximately double the national outlays for the purpose in the last two years.

The commitments were given as a part of the administration's efforts to strengthen power facilities of the nation's strategic war material manufacturing centers.

Announcement of the program came from a session of the national defense power committee headed by Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, which has been making a survey of power needs since early this year.

Government Financing

Carlisle, acting as spokesman for the group of utilities executives which met with the power committee, said "substantial" government financing was involved, but would not be in the form of grants.

The government, he said, would "do nothing more than lend money or buy securities, in the same manner as a bank."

The utilities executives said the new equipment for 1,000,000 kilowatts of generating capacity represented about one and one-third million horsepower equivalent to the total power produced by any two or three middle western or southeastern cities. New York city's generating capacity, they estimated, is about 2,900,000 horsepower.

Stressing that the commitments were "not the final step" Johnson indicated the administration hoped other utilities would agree shortly to enter the expansion program.

Phil Is Target As Foes Demand Probe of Charge

Claim Political Campaign Misuse of State Pen- sion Lists

Milwaukee—(P)—Governor Philip LaFollette was the target today of attacks by two Milwaukee Democrats, one acting in official capacity, who demanded immediate formal investigation of what they charge has been political campaign misuse of old age pensioners' names and addresses by the governor.

Harry R. McLogan, chairman, called the state pension board to meet today at Madison, with the declared intention of demanding that department employees make sworn statements before the board regarding their knowledge, if any, of how the names were obtained.

Assemblyman Francis T. Murphy, who incidentally petitioned Attorney General Omer Loomis asking that special state counsel be appointed to investigate from the standpoint of the corrupt practices statute, and whether state funds were used in the circulation of any letters to relief recipients.

Announcing Meeting
"I have called a meeting for 2:30 p. m. Friday at the office of the state pension department in Madison," McLogan said. "I will ask the board to have employees of the department brought in and placed under oath. I feel there is a grave responsibility on the board to find out how the pension lists got out. If the other members of the board vote me down, that's their responsibility and not mine."

"If the department's employees thought he (the governor) was getting those lists for legitimate purposes, why don't they come out and tell us so?"

McLogan declared he wanted the press to attend, in order that the matter receive a thorough airing. McLogan also is a member of the state industrial commission, and is Democratic candidate for Milwaukee county district attorney.

BOLENS ASKS ACTION

Milwaukee—(P)—State Senator Harry Bolens, Democratic candidate for governor, today asked the federal prosecutor in Milwaukee to take "legal proceedings" against Governor Philip F. LaFollette on the ground of "misuse" of the mails in the "recent pension scandal" and against those he said had coerced WPA workers to "vote the Progressive ticket."

Bolens' request was addressed to United States Attorney B. J. Huston, the latter declined commenting other than that he had received Bolens' communication.

The text of Bolens' request follows:
"I request that you take legal proceedings against Governor LaFollette and others.
"First, for misuse of the United States mails in the recent pension scandal, which I have exposed. I believe that if it was illegal for the governor to have obtained the list of pensioners, the use of the mails constituted a conspiracy against the United States, and mail was sent to people in your district.
"Second, I further ask you to take legal action against those who have attempted and are attempting to prevent a free ballot by coercing WPA workers to vote the Progressive ticket. Threats, enticements, cajoling, and various means have been used to induce those who are compelled for their livelihood to work on WPA, to vote the Progressive ticket. A large number of such complaints have already been filed with Howard Hunter, one of the federal agencies investigating this matter."

"I herewith present to you affidavits and a statement and names all indicating to my mind a clear violation of the law. For the protection of those who have furnished me the information, I request that their names be not made public until there has been a judicial proceeding."
"One of the flagrant instances that I call attention to is that in the middle of September, 1938, a dinner was given at St. Seventh street and W. Cleveland avenue, by all the foremen on the WPA upon an invitation by means of postal cards, which in substance read: 'From those who have received an increase in salary, and during that dinner candidates for the Progressive ticket were permitted to attend and the foremen were told in substance that they were to vote for LaFollette and his ticket, using such language: "Well, you have got to go to bed for them, or fire..."'"

PRESIDENT, CARDINAL VIEW NAVY DAY CEREMONY

'Lincoln-Douglas' Debates are Continued by Ohio Candidates

Toledo, Ohio—(P)—New Deal pleas for renewed support in lifting from labor "the burdens of economic injustice" vied for votes today in Ohio's bustling senatorial campaign with Republican contentions of "the policy that helps the laboring man is the policy that helps everyone."

Carrying their "Lincoln-Douglas" platform discussions into this diversified economic cross-section, where industry and agriculture are close neighbors, Senator Robert J. Bulkley and Robert A. Taft, his Republican opponent in the November election, debated New Deal labor philosophy last night before an agrarian labor audience whose enthusiasm for a time threatened to halt the speakers.

"The growth, the welfare and the happiness of our nation depend on the well-being of that part of our population which must by the labor of their bodies obtain the necessities of life for themselves and their families," said Bulkley, New Deal supporter seeking reelection.

"It has been the aim of the Roosevelt administration and of the New Deal to lift from them the burdens of economic injustice."

Retorted Taft, Cincinnati lawyer and son of the late Chief justice and former president:
"The workman today is more interested than anyone else in the adoption of a policy to cure the problems of unemployment. There is no solution except to put men back to work in private industry. But the New Deal policy of regulation by hundreds of thousands of bureaucrats operating out of Washington, the New Deal policy of government waste and increasing debt and taxes, has utterly choked the improvement of private industry."

"The policy that helps the working man is the policy that helps everyone, labor, industry and agriculture."

Ekern Points to Experience With Pension Question
Manitowoc—(P)—Aged persons should be prepared to present a united front in congress on the issue of pensions, Lieutenant Governor Herman L. Ekern, Progressive nominee for United States senator, said last night.

"I am very familiar with the problems which arise in congress in passing a pension law," Ekern said. "I had considerable experience with this question in carrying on the fight for a pension law for railroad employees. . . . My first objective in that fight was through hearings before the committee, to bring out the best possible bill and so to unify our strength. This was accomplished and we had the law passed by congress."

The present old age pension question is in the same situation, Ekern said, and should follow the same procedure.
"This isn't something to be done in 10 or 15 years from now, but immediately so that our present aged will receive the benefits which are so urgently needed in these times of depression," Ekern asserted.

than was spent by the state during the last Republican administration and said the "increase is the fulfillment of a promise eight years ago to promote better schools and roads and to send more money back to local governments."

The governor laughed at the Republican claim that, if elected, they would cut state expenses by 15 millions and said it could not be done.

Hopes Team Wins

Madison—(P)—Governor Philip LaFollette, who is campaigning for reelection, will not be on hand for the Wisconsin homecoming celebration tonight but he sent a telegram of encouragement from Appleton to Football Coach Harry Stuhldreher.

Wishing success in tomorrow's game with Indiana, the governor said:
"Among the great aggregations that have represented Wisconsin on the gridiron during the past 50 years, the 1938 team will, I am sure, go down in history as fulfilling the best traditions of Wisconsin football. We are all with you, win or lose."

LaFollette explained briefly what his administration had done for conservation in the state, for old age pensions, in organizing and over-hauling state government and machinery, labor relations and for relief of Wisconsin's destitute.

He explained that the Wisconsin Hydro Authority, the $25 million plan to develop power and conserve water in central Wisconsin, was promoted in the event the state could get extra money over the usual PWA grants. He maintained the project would be a great help to the state and would give employment to thousands of men.

"It is up to the Progressives to blaze a trail through this economic wilderness but first we must rid the nation of its terrific indifference to politics. We must create an interest among citizens in the problems of government," the governor said.

"America is going to win through this fight. We will solve our own problems at home and set an example to the rest of the world. The statue of liberty then will serve as a beacon to guide civilization back to security."

Previous to his talk at the chapel, the governor was entertained at a banquet in his honor at the Appleton hotel. Congressman George J. Schneider introduced the governor and spoke briefly at the chapel.

Special Privileges
"When the Republicans talk about decreasing taxes, they mean special privileges in the form of reduced taxes for the wealthy; they don't mean decreased taxes for the small home-owner and the farmer," the speaker said.

The governor broke down the state tax dollar and explained where it was spent. He claimed 25 cents went to the highway commission and was sent back to local governments; 25 cents went to local governments for school aid; 25 cents went back to local governments in the form of reduced taxes for the farmer; 11 cents went to support state schools and the vocational school system; 7 cents to the state prison and other state institutions and the final 7 cents to finance state departments and administration.

Lawrence Theater Will Present Four Plays This Season

Cloak Returns as Director After Absence of Two Years

Returning to Lawrence after two years of study at Yale, F. Theodore Cloak, associate professor of dramatics, will direct the Lawrence college players in a series of four full length plays this season.

The first of these will be "Excursion," written by Victor Wolfson, which was highly successful in New York last winter. This play will be presented at Memorial chapel Nov. 7 and 8.

A month later the college players will produce "Dot," written by Dion Boucicault and arranged by Cloak for the Lawrence showing. A Christmas play, it dramatizes Dickens' famous "Cricket on the Hearth."

A 3-act drama, the name of which has not been announced, will be presented early in the spring. And late in April the Lawrence players will produce one of the finest of the Gilbert and Sullivan works, "Utopia Limited," in cooperation with the Lawrence Conservatory of Music. Dean Carl J. Waterman will arrange the music and Professor Percy Fullinwider will direct the orchestra.

During the last two summers Professor Cloak has been director of one of the most famous summer playhouses in the nation, Berkshire at Stockbridge, Mass. During the two seasons, such widely known players as Jane Wyatt, Alexander Kirkland, Aline McMahon, Donald Meek, Claude Rains, Katherine Hepburn, Edith Barrett, and Irene Rich appeared in productions directed by the Lawrence professor.

Members of his casts at Berkshire have appeared in successful New York plays. Among them "Boys Meets Girl," Walter Hampden's "Cyrano de Bergerac," "Dead End," John Gielgud's "Hamlet," "Our Town," Maurice Evans' "Richard III," "Three Men on a Horse," and "The Eternal Road."

Roger Sherman, instructor in art, who spent three years studying at Yale and two seasons of designing for the South Shore Players at Cohasset, Mass., will assist Professor Cloak in producing the four plays. Sherman will be in charge of designing and technical work.

Barkley Praises Duffy; Advocates Straight Ticket

Lends Administration Approval to Wisconsin Democratic Senator

Milwaukee—(P)—Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, majority leader of the senate, urged an audience at the auditorium last night to vote the state Democratic ticket "without exception."

Ostensibly here to lend administration approval to Senator F. Ryan Duffy's campaign for reelection, Barkley said:

"I think I know that his (Duffy's) reelection to the senate will be entirely pleasing to persons in high stations in the nation."

The Democratic party, Barkley said, "today is the only liberal progressive party that has a national viewpoint and a national existence." Then he added, "I do not mean to discount the loyal and devoted efforts of some to set liberal movements in motion locally and regionally."

Asked after his speech if he had the LaFollette in mind when he made this statement, Barkley replied:
"I did not mean to exclude the LaFollette." He did not refer to Governor Philip F. LaFollette, nor Senator Robert LaFollette, nor the new national Progressive party in his address, however.

The Kentuckian, who devoted most of his hour's remarks to praise of the Roosevelt administration, predicted that "whatever happens on Nov. 8, the senate and house will continue to be overwhelmingly Democratic."

Praises Duffy
Should any state replace a Democrat with a Republican, Barkley said, "I beg you not to let that be in Wisconsin. I am here to speak in behalf of a great senator—there is no one more devoted to the welfare of his state and nation than F. Ryan Duffy. I have never had a more loyal supporter or a more dependable lieutenant than your junior senator.

"I am here to advocate the election of all Democrats.
"I hope you will send back to Washington these fine congressmen who have also been a part of the great program of which I have been speaking."

Barkley said he desired "with equal force to recommend, if I may do so without impropriety, the election of Senator Bolens (of Port Washington) as governor of this great state."

Duffy himself was not present. He had announced he had previously committed himself to an address at Manitowoc.

Major Parties Swing Into Last Week of Intensive Campaigning

Washington—(P)—Democratic and Republican headquarters are rushing their star orators north-east and west for a rousing finish to the congressional election campaign.

President Is Not Consistent in His Criticism of Dies

Objects to Methods but Not Wagner Act Procedure, Lawrence Says

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — Inadvertently perhaps, but nevertheless not without considerable significance, President Roosevelt has opened up the whole subject of the conduct of commissions as well as congressional committees with respect to rules of evidence.

The president objects to the fact that the Dies committee of the house of representatives investigating un-American activities has not been governed by rules of evidence. He said, for instance, in his public statement this week:

"Mere opinion evidence has been used in court since the American system of legislative and judicial procedure was started."

But has it? Take, for instance, the National Labor Relations act, usually called the Wagner act. It was signed by President Roosevelt himself, and contains a provision with respect to proceedings growing out of complaints of "unfair labor practice" as follows:

"In any such proceeding, the rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling."

Causes Friction
This has been one of the chief sources of friction between the labor board and its critics. He says and opinion are not only included, but a trial examiner is permitted in his report to give his "impressions" of the credibility of witnesses. The procedure of the labor board is naturally in conformity with the language of the statute, so no blame attaches to the board for carrying out the law as written by congress and approved by the president.

Mr. Roosevelt's solicitude for persons who are mentioned in congressional hearings is very much in line with the complaints that have been heard for years about the way investigating committees injure the reputation of persons and yet are not amenable to any libel laws.

If the president's interest has been awakened to the point of considering what is or what is not a fair hearing for the citizen or fair treatment by a governmental body, especially with respect to "mere opinion" or hearsay evidence, he will find in the proposals to amend the Wagner act some interesting suggestions. Thus, John Lord O'Brien, noted attorney who appears just now to be running on the Republican ticket in New York state against Senator Wagner, but who previous to this campaign has been liberal enough and able enough to be one of the chief attorneys for the government in the TVA cases, had this to say a few nights ago in a public address bearing on this very point:

Describes Procedure
"There is no fair hearing provided in this statute (the Wagner act). What is the method prescribed? The National Labor board files a complaint with itself. To hear and try out the complaint, the board appoints a trial examiner whose salary is paid by it. It designates one of its own lawyers to prosecute the case. The trial examiner holds a hearing or trial and later reports his recommendations to the board. The board itself then reviews the records and makes the final decision upon the complaint originally filed by it, prosecuted by it, and heard by its trial examiner.

"If there is any substantial evidence which will support its decisions on the facts, the findings of the board as to these facts are binding upon the courts. In some fields of departmental government involving purely administrative questions, arguments might be made for justifying this type of procedure, but not in cases of the character arising under the labor act, where fundamental questions of human right and even of human liberty are constantly involved. These issues are very different in character from those dealt with by the so-called quasi-judicial bodies like the Interstate Commerce commission. They concern human relations. As the spokesmen of the American Federation of Labor have pointed out, they are judicial questions of grave character and importance."

The A. F. of L. in its recent convention announced advocacy of certain procedural changes, but not a word has come from the president about them, even though they relate to fair hearings. Nor has the president indicated that the rule which he wants the Dies committee to follow by barring "mere opinion evidence" may now, with his consent, be written as an amendment to the Wagner law.

160 Registered for First Forum Meeting

Reservations for the Appleton Chamber of Commerce's first forum meeting Monday noon in the Conway hotel already total 160, indicating that the program which brings in outside speakers to address the city's business men will be off to a snappy start.

Philip S. Hanna, editor of the Chicago Journal of Commerce, will be the speaker at the meeting, which will be attended by members of the chamber and of three service clubs, Kiwanis, Lions, and Rotary.

Hanna, for 20 years an outstanding writer on economic and financial subjects, is probably best known for his daily column, "The Round Table of Business." He will talk on "The Business Outlook."

Electrical Department Budget Set at $2,600

The 1939 budget estimate for the city electrical department is $2,600, a drop of $100, according to figures filed in the city clerk's office today.

Last year's appropriation was $2,700. However, $500 was added to the fund during the year for the purchase of a truck and to cover operating expenses. Listed expenses for next year include: office expenses, $100; energy charge for traffic lights, $500; lamp replacements, $150; assistant electrician's salary, $1,000; operation of truck, $150; replacement of tools and cost of new tools, $100.

Pupils of Public Schools Save $171 During This Week

Pupils of Appleton's public schools this week deposited $171.86 in the school savings bank, bringing the total on deposit to $8,149.06, according to a report compiled at the office of Ben J. Rohan, superintendent of schools.

During the week, 14 pupils withdrew a total of $58.96. The percentage of students who deposited money was 43 per cent.

Of 1,703 pupils present in 12 schools, 730 deposited money. Following is the percentage and amounts deposited at each of the schools: Washington, 65 per cent, $35.05; Edison, 64 per cent, $32.57; Franklin, 58 per cent, $4.79; Jefferson, 56 per cent, $9.97; Columbus, 54 per cent, $17.23; deaf room, 50 per cent, 85 cents; opportunity room, 47 per cent, $8.25; McKinley grades, 44 per cent, $5.03; Morgan, 43 per cent, $4.74; McKinley Junior High, 41 per cent, $7.26; Wilson Junior High, 39 per cent, $40.02; Roosevelt Junior High, 31 per cent, $36.10.

Moving Things Seen Upside Down to Boy With Vision Quirk

Chicago —(AP)— Everything that moves seems upside down to 8-year-old Richard Kenealy.

The discovery by his parents and teachers that Richard's world is topsy-turvy made him an object of scientific curiosity today.

The boy, a second grade pupil, reads upside down and backward. A moving automobile, he said, seems as though its wheels are in the air but when it stops it is instantaneously back to normal.

On the playground Richard's friends appear to be running upside down, and a ball thrown overhead appeared to be delivered with an underhand sweep.

Dr. S. J. Krump, a public school oculist, said the case was unique in his 19 years of practice. He expressed the belief that careful and patient muscular training would make Richard's vision normal.

The red-haired youngster was described as a normal except for his vision.

Radio Broadcasts From Balloons Give Data on Cosmic Rays

Washington—(7)—Radio broadcasts from devices carried by balloons 10 miles above the earth, have given bureau of standards scientists definite data on cosmic rays.

The last of 20 experiments, in which the devices were sent into the stratosphere, was made this morning and Dr. L. F. Curtiss and Dr. A. V. Astin, collaborating on the work, said that they have established "fairly definitely" that the maximum cosmic ray intensity is reached 12 miles above the earth. There it is 200 times as intense as on the earth's surface, they said.
Above 12 miles, the rays become less intense.

The apparatus they send up transmits signals to the ground revealing cosmic ray intensity.
It is borne aloft by six balloons, some of which break in two to three hours. The remaining balloons bring the transmitters gradually back to earth.

Cosmic rays, described as the most penetrating emanations known, have been the subject of wide scientific research since they were identified about forty years ago.

Kaws Ready for Conference Tilt Against Phantoms

Little's Squad Will Defend League Lead Saturday Afternoon

Kaukauna — A practice against West De Pere plays concluded heavy work for the Kaws yesterday as the conference leaders prepared for Saturday's game here against the Black Phantoms. This afternoon the Kaws brushed up on their signals, and everyone is in good shape for the 2 o'clock kickoff Saturday.

Kaukauna has a score from last season to even up tomorrow, as last October they journeyed to De Pere and came back on the worst end of a 19 to 6 count. Kaukauna scored first as Peterson dashed 60 yards and Kobussen plunged over for the touchdown but the hard running Berken was too much for them the rest of the way. This year De Pere has lost its entire first string backfield through graduation.

In the line the visitors are probably better than last year, with the big Bob Berken, a brother of Connie, holding down a tackle spot, and VanSistine working toward all conference recognition at end. These will be two men the Kaws will have to take special care of.

Lineup Unchanged

The same lineup which started and defeated Shawano last week will take the field for Kaukauna tomorrow. Bill Alger and Leo Rohan will be at end, Sherm Powers and Leroy Frank at tackle, Cliff Fernal and Bob Dougherty at guard, Leo Wolfe at center, and Carl Gior-dana, Earl Kobussen, Bob Niesen and Clayton Watson in the backfield.

Kaukauna has two conference games remaining, against De Pere and Menasha, and must win or tie each to clinch the championship. A defeat in either would erode Kaukauna's reputation, as the Kaws have already tied one game, 6 to 6, against Neenah.

New Funeral Home to Open for Inspection

Kaukauna—The new Greenwood Funeral home will be opened to the public tomorrow and Sunday. Visitors will be received from 10 o'clock in the morning to 10 o'clock at night.

Two stories high, the home is constructed of stone. The entrance connects with the main chapel, the men's lounge and smoking room, the office and the reception room.

A private family room adjoins the chapel. The porte cochere is at the southern side of the house, where the family and relatives enter the funeral procession.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Greenwood, who have operated in Kaukauna since October of 1929 when they purchased the business of Leo C. Feehan, are the owners.

Funeral Services are Held for Crash Victim

Kaukauna—Funeral services for Mrs. Joseph Jirikowic, 39, 117 Sixth street, who died Sunday in Green Bay of injuries received in an automobile accident, were held at 9 o'clock yesterday morning at the residence and at 9:30 at St. Mary's church, with the Rev. Alphonse Roder in charge. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery.

Bearers were Ben Melchior, C. Hishon, and Eldor, Orville, Elroy and Eugene Fluhr.

Athletic Council to Sponsor Dance Monday

Kaukauna — A Halloween dance will be held at the high school gymnasium Monday evening under the sponsorship of the athletic council. Fay Posson is general chairman for the affair. Music will be furnished by the high school orchestra, with high school students and the general public invited.

Catholic Youth Group To Hold Party Tonight

Kaukauna — St. Mary's Catholic Youth Organization, senior group, is holding a Halloween dance beginning at 8:30 tonight in the church basement. The high school party orchestra will play. In charge are Esther Hennes, Laverne King, Delia DeWitt and Dolores Landreman.

Fraternal League to Continue Play Tonight

Kaukauna — Fraternal league bowlers roll again tonight with the Masons and Foresters, and Legion and Elks meeting on the 7 o'clock shift. On the second shift Moose play the Kaukauna K. C.'s and Greenwoods clash with the Hollandtown K. C.'s.

Kaukauna Delegation At W. A. T. A. Conclave

Kaukauna — Dr. C. D. Boyd and Mrs. George Boyd, Mrs. Verna Butler and Mrs. Alice Sabien, Riverside Sanatorium nurses, are attending the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association meeting at Milwaukee. The meeting will close tomorrow.

RUBBISH TUESDAY

Kaukauna — North side rubbish collections will be begun Tuesday. Road Chairman Julie Mertes announced this morning. He suggested that residents wait until that day to put out their rubbish, as Halloween is on Monday.

Kaukauna Fans Will See U. W. Homecoming Battle Saturday

Kaukauna—Many Kaukauna people are planning to attend the annual homecoming celebration of the University of Wisconsin at Madison tomorrow. Included in those who will attend the Wisconsin-Indiana football game, a highlight of the homecoming, are Miss Germaine Kalupa, Miss Dorothy Bedal, Miss Joan Mayer, Miss Lucille Kilian, Miss Dorothy Bodde, Mark Van Lieshout, Miss Kathryn Nelson, Miss Lucille Hildebrandt, James T. Judd, William Peterson, Leo Connors, Joseph Casey, Miss Evelyn Gerhartz, James McFadden, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Noie, Melvin Heinz, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Chopin and Mr. and Mrs. Paul West.

A hayride party for the evening of Nov. 9 is being planned by the senior Holy Cross Catholic Youth Organization. Lois Wagner, Jack Hatchell and Ray Vanervenhoven are in charge of arrangements. The group held a scavenger hunt Wednesday, with the team including Gretchen Banning, Mildred Maley, Frances Wagner, Monroe Romanesko and Jack Geigle winning. A quart of ice cream was the prize. Refreshments were served.

The Sheephead club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Archie Creviere, Whitney street, with Mrs. Katherine Van Lieshout, Mrs. T. Murphy and Mrs. L. Vandenberg winning prizes. The traveling prize was received by Mrs. Joseph Derus, who will be hostess to the group at its next meeting.

Clapper Says U. S. Must Put Its House in Order for Protection

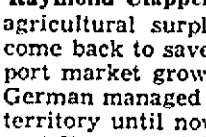

Washington—To meet the strain which is placed upon us by the new post-Munich world, in which Hitler is dominant in Europe and Japan on the entire Asiatic coast, with Britain supplanted as a major influence in both areas, the United States is obliged to proceed more energetically to put its own house in order.

First a new spirit of national unity is called for. That is an urgent necessity and it will not be surprising to see Roosevelt shortly engaged in trying to bring about such national unity.

For nearly 10 years we have had millions unemployed. For nearly 10 years business has operated at only partial capacity. Pressure to put people back to work, pressure to use our surplus productivity, pressure to get our democracy back on its feet economically and to restore our national morale—that is the effect of world events on America, and many outward indications of it soon will be evident. Indeed, they already are appearing. There is good reason to believe that Roosevelt has inspired recent moves to end the internal feud of labor, and that more along this line will develop shortly.

For more than 10 years we have struggled with agricultural surpluses, hoping that in time the export market would come back to save us. But as time goes on the prospect of a reviving export market grows more remote. The trend is all the other way, as the German managed system of closed trade reaches out over more and more territory until now it embraces practically all of continental Europe except France and Scandinavia.

Our foreign trade never has amounted to more than 10 per cent of our business. But although small in quantity, it has produced effects upon prices which have been out of all proportion to its volume, especially in cotton and wheat. The export market is so variable, so completely beyond control, that many have advised that we turn voluntarily toward a domestic basis as much as possible and waste no subsidies on exports. Conditions appear to be making that decision for us. We face it acutely in wheat and cotton now, having huge unmovable surpluses of both. That has prompted Secretary Wallace to propose subsidizing domestic consumption, to use our surplus at home instead of subsidizing foreign consumers to take it.

Rearmament Program

New Industrial Factor

In industry, our productive plant has a capacity far in excess of current domestic demand. Yet many economists say that if everyone in America were properly clothed, properly housed and properly fed, our present industrial capacity would be grossly inadequate, and there would be work for all.

Can these two situations be corrected without more government control than we have used thus far? Possibly the industrial problem can. It is doubtful if the farm surplus problem can.

Another factor soon to come into play will be the heavy rearmament program which the changed world situation makes inevitable. Modern war preparation is a huge industry

Cleo LaBorde Wins Prize for Costume At Girl Scout Party

Kaukauna — Cleo LaBorde was awarded first prize for the prettiest costume as Kaukauna girl scouts held a Halloween party Wednesday evening at Legion hall. Joy Sullivan received the prize for the funniest, dressing as Popeye. Cleo was dressed in Hawaiian garb. Sally Bay won the spelling bee for the younger scouts, with Agnes Rohn winning the contest for the older girls. Louise Berg won the prize for the best ghost story. The party was given by the Eagle patrol, composed of Betty Klumb, Doris Nagel, Betty Miller, Carol Leigh, Mary Lou Haas, Carol Schley and Rosemary Stegeman. The grand march was led by Ramona Mangold and Mary McCarty. Sixty-four scouts attended. No meeting will be held next week because of the teachers' convention.

FLASHY CANDIDATES COUNT IN WISCONSIN TOO

It has sometimes been the misfortune of great political movements to wreck themselves upon the jagged rocks of ambition.

That is a risk that attends the travels of all mass human endeavors but becomes more noticeable in a democracy than elsewhere.

There are several hundred thousand voters in Wisconsin who look with approving eye upon policies that for the moment we may call conservative. There are farmers, workers, professional and business men. But their desires cannot become articulate without leadership and can never be crowned with success excepting under sound and capable leadership.

Mr. Heil seeks this leadership. He bases his effort largely upon the fact that he has been a highly successful business man. He is reputed to be wealthy. He assumes that business success fits one naturally for the governor's chair. But he reveals to the public no other indication why success should dog his particular footsteps. His perfectly Potsdam effort which wrecked the coalition movement foretells a method and a disposition aimed primarily at personal aggrandizement.

Nothing could so chill the future fortunes of the great body of conservative thinking people in Wisconsin as flashy, showy or merely pretentious leadership.

Yet that is the sort of stuff that gains a quick response in the popular mind. Many voters flock to the standard of success without show of reason. Perhaps a winner in the Irish sweepstakes would hypnotize as readily.

But no man ever did a greater disservice to the conservatives in Wisconsin than Mr. Heil. He waited until leaders from all over the state had devoted every effort to bringing forth a truly representative ticket consisting of unusually capable men, all of good reputation and with dependable records, and after that work was all performed he threw his hat and a roll of bills in the ring and broke up the accord.

How long the flashy attraction he holds will persist can only be told by election figures.

FIRE AT SEA

"I could a tale unfold whose lightest word would harrow up thy soul, freeze thy young blood, make thy two eyes, like stars, start from their spheres, thy knotted and combined locks to part, and each particular hair to stand on end, like quills upon the fretful porcupine."

Man alone has made friends with fire, chained it into useful service and choked it into submission so that it comes and goes at his slightest nod.

But, like a sleek black panther, no amount of training can permit the abandonment of care else the beast will be upon the back of him whose hand it just licked and warmed.

Down the long gamut of terror there are no words that freeze the blood like fire at sea. For if the fire becomes uncontrolled the passengers have but a choice of which death they will accept, the torture of the stake or the salt and chilling depths of bottomless waters.

When men made vessels of steel they fondly reported that this greatest terror of the deep had been outwitted and destroyed. But experience showed quite the contrary. The use of oil for fuel, the extensive splashing of lubricants, and the necessity of carrying inflammable cargoes, meant that fire at sea became a more frightful fiend than ever for though the vessel did not turn to ashes it reflected and intensified the heat and made suffering more acute than ever.

Fortunately the Deutschland escaped but much greater steel boats have been destroyed within recent years and their crews and passengers roasted to a turn.

A great blaze continues to be, as Samuel Johnson observed, the noblest of spectacles—but only to him who is unthreatened by its existence.

TO BURY, NOT TO PRAISE

The adherents of the Popular Front recently received the following sad notice: The third government of the Popular Front regrets to inform you of the terrible loss it has sustained in the person of the forty-hour week in its second year, as a result of a ministerial address. May it rest in peace!

The funeral took place yesterday in the presence of a highly select company. M. Daladier spoke a few moving words over the grave. The forty-hour week, he said, "born of the combined efforts of the different factions of the Popular Front, was always of a delicate constitution. One always felt that it was at the mercy of any wind. Poor frail child!"

The ceremony ended with the Two Hundred Families tacitly receiving the compliments and felicitations of all present. Let us add that the forty-hour week has been buried in the common grave where are already reposing the tax on capital, the law against tax evaders and old age security. —Canard Enchaîné, Paris.

As a result of recent increases the British government now has 17,000 infantry, two regiments of cavalry, one battery of artillery and several commando units in Palestine to preserve order.

Under our electoral system a President may be elected after he receives fewer popular votes than his chief opponent. This has occurred three times, in 1824, 1876 and 1888.

Jerusalem derives part of its present water supply from an aqueduct dating back to biblical days.

DALE HARRISON'S In Old New York

New York—The papers say One-Eyed Connolly was back in action at the World Series, crashing the gate, and it was about time. We've been a-missing you, pal.

There was a time when no sporting event was a success unless Connolly was around to give it his personal gate-crashing attention. His hey-day was the hey-day of Tex Rickard and Jack Dempsey and the million dollar gates. His good eye could generally be seen glittering on the fringe of crowds wherever sports celebrities gathered.

As time went on, One-Eyed Connolly became a gate crashing institution. Promoters got so they gave him complimentary tickets. He was famous. But the free tickets took all the color out of the thing. Anybody can get in with a ticket.

The original One-eyed Connolly—no kin to the incumbent gate-crashing king—came over from England a half century or so ago. There, boys, was a gate crasher.

He had nerve. He attached himself to sporting circles and took it for granted that he should walk into every sporting event without being insulted by being asked to show a ticket. Nobody could think up reasons for saying "no," and it got to be a habit. It was sheer personality.

They say that when Corbett and Fitzsimmons fought at Carson City in '97 there was more betting on whether Connolly would crash the gate than on who would win the fight. Connolly crashed.

Once, in the days when fighting was an outlaw enterprise, a match was being held in an Indiana church. I don't know why. The contestants were Billy Myers and Jack McAuliffe. As the crowd sneaked in and found seats, a brick sailed through the window.

"Do not be alarmed," the promoter said, picking up the brick. "It is just a calling card from One-eyed Connolly who, seemingly, has been rebuffed at the entrance. Let him in, and the fight will proceed."

Ah, those were the happy days.

Bricks that come in the Mail: A number of ladies have taken umbrage at a bit of literature I dashed off recently dealing with the loneliness of many women in New York.

"Believe me," one Philadelphia lady asserts, vigorously, "there are women who can go places, do things and really enjoy themselves with never a thought of a man."

It must get monotonous, picking up the check.

Another lady, a West Virginian, views the item more tolerantly, concedes the facts are practically as stated, and would like to have me do an item of the same type about lonely men. And so I shall; and then I'll branch off into other dumb animals.

A lady in Newark, N. J., says that women who are alone are not the lone ones.

She writes: "You will also find Lonely Ladies among the mothers of large families. I think there are souls that are born that way—sort of like the Foolish Virgins wandering in a darkness they cannot dispel." Well, I wouldn't go so far as to say that, but you can, madam.

At Jack White's "18," where customers are insulted without fear or favor, Norma Shearer got hers during her recent New York visit. Apparently she was unfamiliar with the madness of the procedure, for when White and his aides began making wisecracks about her, she arose indignantly; whereupon White voice boomed out: "Sit Down—and Stay Down!"

Miss Shearer sat down. Later, White said: "And now, folks, I would like to introduce one of the screen's most famous actresses, a performer par excellence, one of cinema's noble-women, etc., etc." Miss Shearer, realizing he was speaking about her, got ready to make her bow. Then came the crusher: "... that marvelous laugh provoker—Miss (pointing to Norma) Zasu Pitts!"

They just don't give celebrities a break at "18."

10 YEARS AGO
Friday, Oct. 26, 1928

The immense new chimney of the John Stranace Paper company at Menasha, which was to replace a brick one that was torn down, was beginning to take shape. It was of cement construction and was to be one of the tallest in the Twin Cities.

As a part of the homecoming program, the cornerstone of the new Lawrence gymnasium was to be laid at 1:15 Saturday afternoon, Nov. 17, previous to the Lawrence-Carroll homecoming game. Lewis M. Alexander, president of the board of trustees and one of the principal donors of the building which was to bear his name, was to lay the cornerstone.

15 YEARS AGO
Friday, Oct. 31, 1913

During the previous night the government thermometer at Thiede's registered 20 degrees, the coldest mark for the season.

The Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company had erected a number of new shelters at stopping places along country roads between Kaukauna, Appleton and Neenah for interurban patrons.

The bartenders of the city organized a union the previous evening. George Kauser was elected president; John Stroupe, vice president; Charles Nieder, recording secretary; W. H. Muehlbach, financial secretary and treasurer; Henry Kreutzman, chaplain; Reuben Hubert, inspector; Joseph Cleveland, outside guard.

Thomas Flanagan, income tax assessor, went to Waupaca that morning on business.

A Verse for Today

by Anne Campbell

ADOPTED

The baby that she gave away
Lies in her arms sometimes at night.
And often in the busy day.
A secret image brings delight.

Only the wail of poverty
That stalks forever at her heels
Is clearer than the child that she Close to her yearning bosom feels.

Her precious baby will not know,
On its adopted mother's arms,
The cold harsh wind, the utter woe
Of her who placed it safe from harm.

Unselfishness must be a gem
Mined from a troubled soul, forgiven;
And she will wear a diadem
When sacrifice brings her to heaven.

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—Army officers can't speak out on controversial subjects while they wear the army pants but until Secretary of War Woodring clamped down on Gen. George Van Horn Moseley, they had thought they regained freedom of speech when they retired.

The net is that army officers (ever so quietly) and the semi-official journals of the military services (ever so loudly) have loosed an anguished cry against the sort of suppression they thought Woodring had attempted.

The thing started when Moseley on the day he recently retired from the army, issued a public statement boiling over with criticism of certain administration policies.

The General Fires

"Not since the days of the secession has the future of America hung by so narrow a thread," he said. He criticised Aubrey Williams of the National Youth Administration for predicting that U. S. contributions to relief were here to stay. "Increased paternalism will inevitably become dictatorship," said Moseley. He called some projects "visionary" and said "others appear to cloak a sinister ulterior motive behind a humanitarian front."

In truth these were sharp words and the general run of officers were a bit surprised at the heat, but not half so surprised as when Woodring issued a brief but biting statement saying Moseley's remarks were evidence of "pique" at his failure of selection for Chief of Staff, a job that went to Gen. Malin Craig. Altogether, said Woodring, it was a "flagrant disloyal statement."

Woodring 'Shocked' Them

It was on that last point that the soldier services balked. The Army and Navy Register and Navy Journal, semi-official publications, carried editorials expressing "shock at the strong words of Secretary Woodring."

Moseley himself retorted that he had not been eligible for the job of chief of staff. He said he had been too closely associated in an official capacity with the Hoover administration for that and further, that he hadn't enough time to serve in the army before retirement to justify his appointment.

"Army officers," said the Register, "have been brought up to believe that 'loyalty' works both ways: that a man who expects loyalty from subordinates must display loyalty toward them."

The Journal said the general had "performed a public service in suggesting that we forget foreign affairs and tend to our own while we settle our own problems."

Some Precedents Cited

As an immediate precedent, the Journal suggested that General Martin, just defeated for reelection as governor of Oregon, "has never hesitated to criticize policies he believed harmful."

Other officers have spoken out after retirement, notably General Smedley D. Butler of the Marines, General Johnson Hagood, the late Admiral Sims, and General William Mitchell. The latter spoke out before hand, too, and left the service as a result.

In the main they aimed their shots at military conditions, but the officers felt that a man retired from the army was entitled to cut loose at will and their joy was no end great when a check—sample of editorial opinion showed it strong in support of their position.

Your Birthday

"SCORPIO"

If October 29 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:15 a. m. to 1:15 p. m.; from 3:15 to 5:15 p. m. and from 7:15 to 9:15 p. m. The danger periods are from 9:15 to 11:15 a. m.; from 5:15 to 7:15 p. m. and from 9:15 to 11:15 p. m.

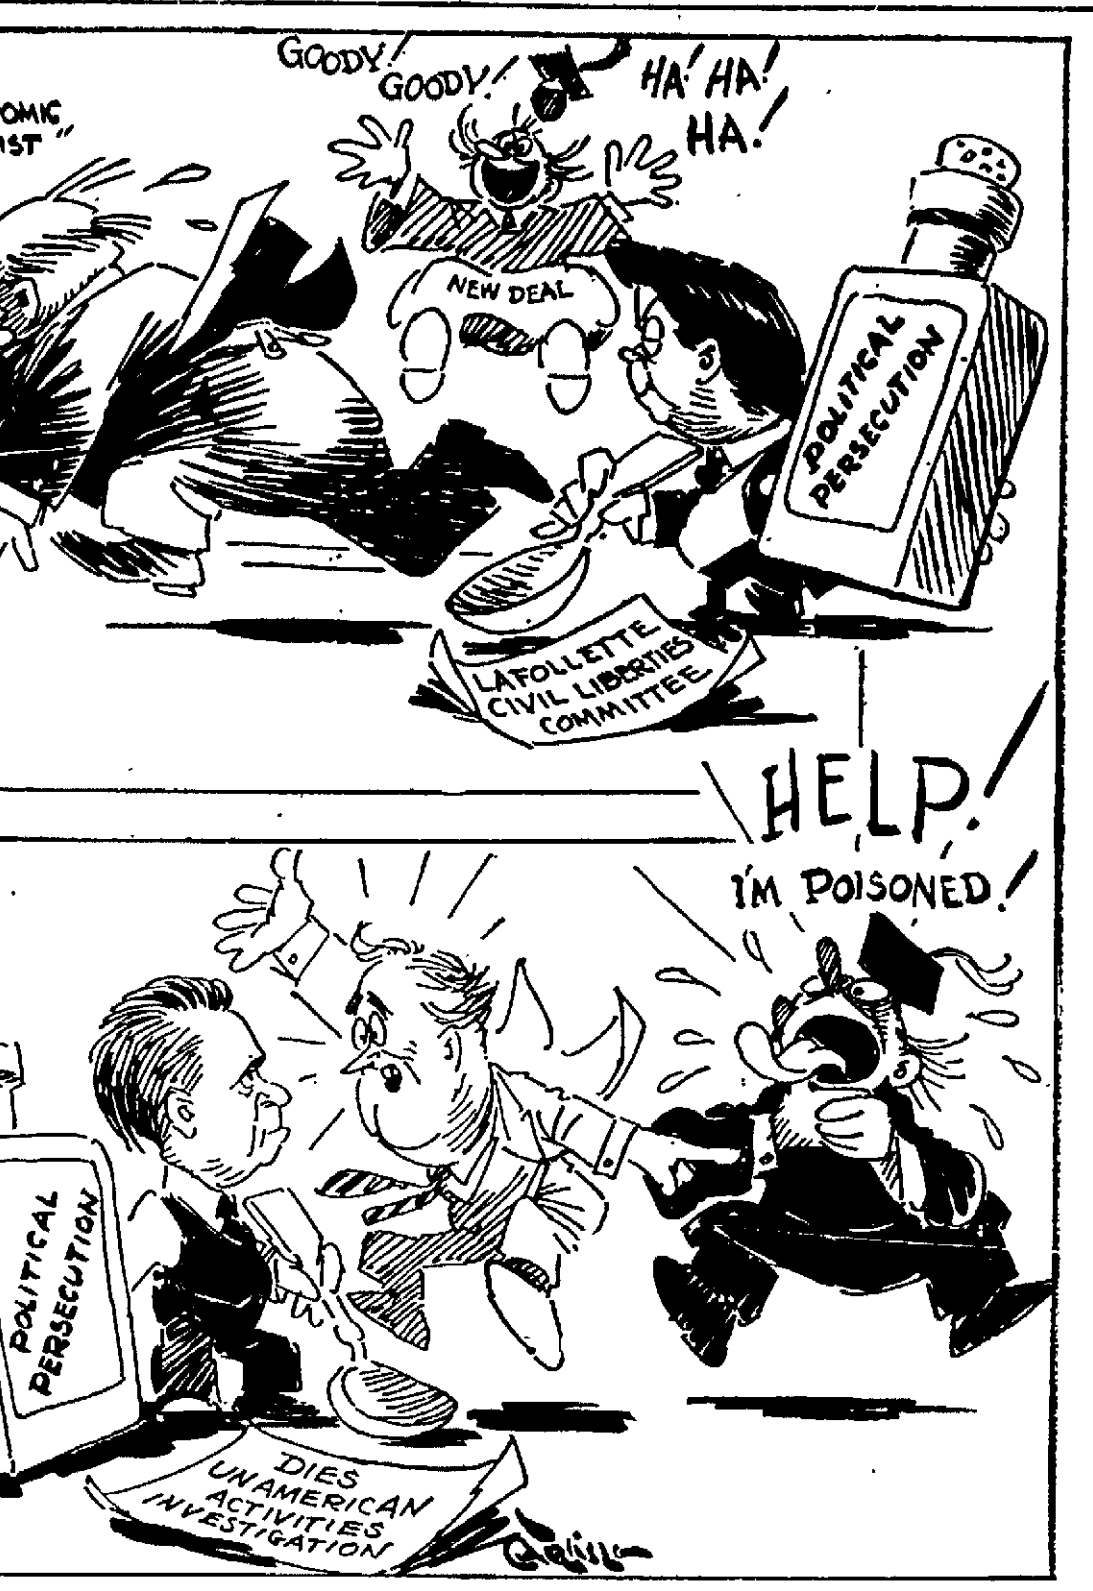

Speed may play a vital part in human affairs this day. Trying to handle breakable articles in double-quick time is likely to result in needless destruction. Speeding automobile drivers probably will wind up in a hospital or jail. Pedestrians, walking fast, particularly in crossing streets, are apt to be injured. Remember, "haste makes waste," and that it frequently pays to do things in an orderly fashion. Temptations to spend money in either a reckless or decidedly foolish manner today seem to prevail. Married and engaged couples, as well as those courting or being courted, will do well this day to preach nothing that they are not willing to put into practice.

If a woman and October 29 is your birthday, you should be entitled to have many complimentary remarks made about you this day. Good fortune apparently is in store for you, and ample evidence of this perhaps will be manifested during the next twelve months. You may be very methodical in everything you do. Be prudent in business matters, if you wish to be successful in a commercial enterprise. You ought to be very careful, especially if you "trip the light fantastic." Secretarial work, journalism, painting, radio broadcasting, the concert or lecture platform, some missionary activity or selling may be among the best activities for you to engage in. Marriage seems to be your key to happiness, as well as prosperity.

The child born on October 29 generally has many gratifying experiences during its school days. Popularity is likely to be one of the blessings this youngster will enjoy throughout life. Some outstanding achievement can be expected of the average child born on this date.

If a man and October 29 is your

Michigan's Murphy Battles Ex-Governor Over New Deal

GOV. FRANK MURPHY
Considered presidential timber.

FRANK D. FITZGERALD
'Voters . . . are going to dictate'

This is the third in a series of articles describing election campaigns of national significance.

Detroit—(1)—The governorship fight in Michigan—a state with two potential presidential candidates—has commanded the attention of national political leaders in both major parties.

Michigan Democrats are counting on electing Governor Frank Murphy to a second term.

Republicans predict former Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald will sweep the state, return it to Republican control, and place it squarely behind Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg as a possible 1940 presidential candidate.

Murphy a 'True Liberal'

Murphy, like Vandenberg, has been spoken of as presidential timber. The Michigan governor, a frequent visitor at the White House, has been described by President Roosevelt as a "true liberal." Vandenberg has advocated a coalition of Republicans and "Jeffersonian Democrats" to beat the New Deal.

Murphy, a former Detroit mayor, returned in 1936 from his post as American high commissioner to the Philippines and defeated Fitzgerald.

Heavy Vote Indicated

The red-haired, 45-year-old bachelor governor, citing huge grants in aid that the state has received from the Roosevelt administration, is urging Michigan to string along with the president.

Fitzgerald's recent reply was "The voters and not President Roosevelt are going to dictate who shall be governor." Michigan election officials report huge increases in registrations and predict a record vote.

The bitter fight to return Michigan to the Republican side of the ledger where she was listed during most of her statehood, has been carried into the congressional districts. Neither Republican Senator Vandenberg nor Democratic Senator Prentiss Brown faces an election this year.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

SCRAWNY PLACES

In certain cases of overweight, or rather say oversize south of the equator, the fat accumulates mainly about the hips and thighs, and the face may be positively gaunt. Intelligent moderate regulation of the diet—sometimes the patient finds it hard to consume all the food the physician prescribes—combined with endocrine treatment, that is administration of pituitary hormone by the physician, will bring about a redistribution of the fat. In some cases judicious use of thyroid hormone alone or with pituitary, gives better results—but that is a problem for the physician to consider in each individual case.

Aside from that, I know of no method or means of causing either a deposit of fat or flesh in a particular place or removing fat or flesh from one portion of the body without affecting the fat or flesh elsewhere. But then, I don't believe in Santa Claus any more either. If you are susceptible to persuasion there are plenty of charlatans who are willing to show you, at your expense, that they can bake, massage, burn, dissolve, break down or otherwise get the fat off or on wherever you want it off or on. I'm telling you, without obligation on your part, that it can't be done. You pay your money and takes your choice.

But now we come a-runnin' with good news for the Slim Jims and the Skinny Winnies. Remember the insulin method of gaining weight which we suggested here some time ago? Well, that proved highly satisfactory in a few instances, moderately effective in more, disappointing in most cases. I gather from the tone of the reports that trickles in from various parts of the country.

But here is the good word, and I hope ten thousand skinny readers will make a note of it and begin the treatment without delay. One who has been underweight for years, of low vitality or vite, with poor appetite, nervousness, rapid pulse rate, will generally improve in every respect if he or she supplements the regular diet with not less than 1000 international units of vitamin B, in the form of vitamin B complex tablets (each tablet contains 250 units of vitamin B) or vitamin B complex syrup (each teaspoonful contains 150 units of vitamin B) or not less than six or eight ounces of wheat germ daily or not less than four or five ounces of dried brewers yeast daily. Until the appetite improves perhaps the vitamin B complex tablets are easiest to take. But remember, vitamin B complex is FOOD, not medicine, and you would not expect to benefit much from food unless you took it every day in the year, would you?

Families Get Along Better When Father Is in Command

BY DOROTHY DIX

Have husbands, domesticated speaking gottens soft and wives become tough? There was a time, and not so long ago, when the man was the head of the house and the cock of the walk, but now it is the hen who rules the roost, and Chanticleer crows very mildly in his own barnyard.

Consider the families you know, omitting, of course, your own. Isn't it the wife who is the supreme dictator and arbiter of the family destiny? Doesn't she decide where it shall live and in what style? Doesn't she rear the children single-handed, according to her own formula, and settle every problem connected with them, from the kind of baby food they shall eat to what professions they shall follow and whom they shall marry, entirely without reference to their father's views on the subject?

Aren't the people that a family know solely the wife's friends and never the husband's? Don't the Smiths break their necks in trying to keep up with the Joneses if the father had so enslaved his children that they cowered before him.

But there is a long difference between the man who is an autocrat in his family and the one who washes his hands of all responsibility for it beyond supplying its physical needs. I for one, think it a great pity that husbands and fathers have abdicated and turned over the domestic thrones to their wives.

I believe that it would save many a family from coming to grief if the man who brings the money reigned and his expenditure and forced his wife to live within their income. There are wise and prudent women who can be trusted to spend judiciously, but there are thousands of others in whose hands a dollar burns until they throw it away, who ruin their husbands with their extravagance and kill them trying to pay their bills.

And I am very sure there would not be so many wilful girls and boys who bring their parents shame and sorrow if Father was still head of the house, and established an authority that had to be respected; if Father still laid down principles to which children had to conform and if his word was still law in his household.

It takes a cool head and a firm hand to guide children, especially in these lax days, and women have neither when it comes to dealing with their own precious pampered darlings. And I think that even women are happier when they are bossed by their husbands than they are when they boss them.

(Copyright, 1938)

Now, of course, no man is going to admit that he is henpecked, that he is scared to death of his wife and that he doesn't dare to pipe in his own home, much less to stand up for his rights, but he will concede that most men are nothing but bill-payments in their families and that they don't even have any say-so about where their money goes.

There is poor old Jones whose wife drags him around to parties at nights when he is so tired that all that he wants to do is to sit down in an easy chair and rest his feet. There is Smith whose wife bankrupted him in making him buy a house he couldn't afford to keep up. And he is so on. But the reason that they, themselves, let their wives run everything and manage the children is because they are so much engrossed in their business, etc., etc. Which is as good an alibi as any.

As Brother Jasper says, "the world do move," and naturally no one would wish to go back to the time when a man's position as head of the house gave him the opportunity of exercising a grinding tyranny over his family, such as was so graphically portrayed in "The Barrets of Wimpole Street," where

Mothers Worry Needlessly Over Child's Table Manners

BY ANGELO PATRI

"Herbie, don't make that noise with your soup. Do you hear me? Eat quiet so as not to take your elbows off the table. Who'd you ever see sitting at a table like that?"

"Uncle Walt."

"Then don't imitate him. I've told you a hundred times about table manners."

Herbie finished his soup without too much ado, then took a piece of bread and wiped the plate as if scouring it, stuffed the bread in his mouth so that his whole face bulged and gulped it down.

"Herbie, either you eat properly or you'll finish your meal in the kitchen. I won't sit at the table with you if you behave like that."

"All right. Can I have the first slice of meat, pa? I hate the piece that isn't brown."

"Eat what is given you. How many times must you be told not to ask for the piece you like best at table?"

"If I didn't pa wouldn't know and I'd get the inside, and I can't eat inside. Thanks, pa. Give me another potato."

"I didn't hear you say please."

"I didn't, I said thanks, though. Didn't I, pa? You heard me say it, didn't you, pa?"

"Yes, yes. Don't talk with your mouth full. You might choke, and anyway it isn't very nice. Now eat your dinner, and let's hear no more from you."

Herbie, the first edge of his hunger dulled, managed to eat without further correction until dessert was served. His mother gave him two plums and a slice of sponge cake. Herbie lifted one plum on his spoon, held the whole slice of sponge cake close to his mouth, ready for the bite, both elbows on the table.

"Herbie," screamed mother "What do you mean?"

There was a stone in that plum and Herbie was rolling it about in preparation for its ejection when his mother startled him with her scream of rage. The stone slipped. Herbie choked and spluttered.

"Spit it out, spit it out," pa shouted.

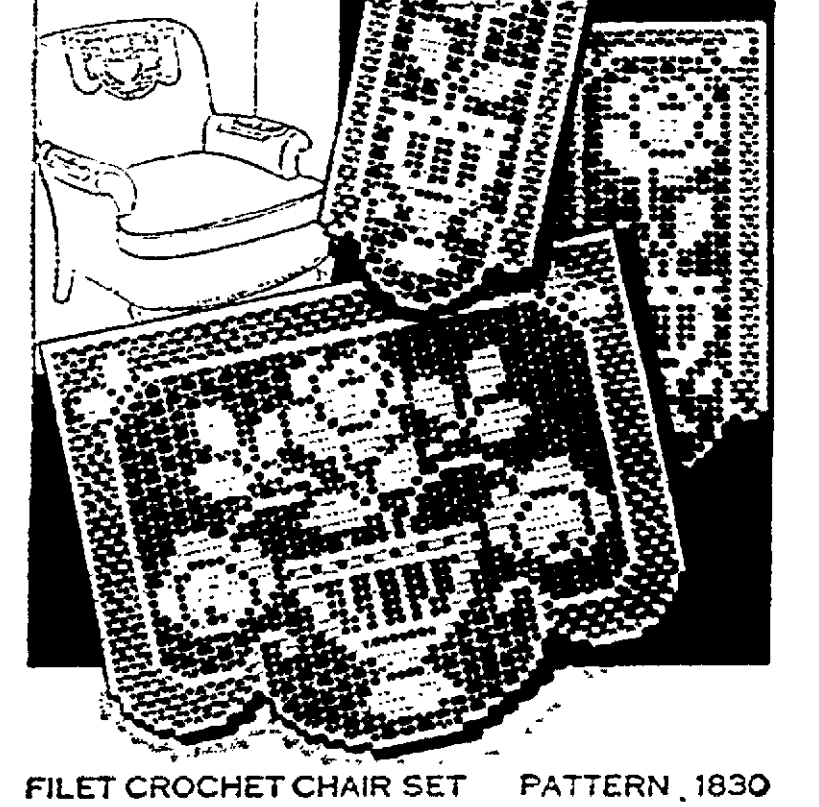

Herbie spluttered and grew redder in the face. Pa jumped and grabbed him, turned him upside down and gave him a resounding whack on the back. Out came the plum pit. Herbie sagged into his chair, pa into his. "Twasn't my fault, you hadn't any business to yell at me," said Herbie, tears streaming in his eyes. Mother was too overcome to speak.

"Never mind, Mary," said pa, later. "He'll learn. He's just at the age."

"No. He'll never learn. And he's going to the party Friday. I won't let him go. I won't be disgraced."

But when Friday came Herbie

GOOD THINGS FOR THE HOME Marie Schneider's Tested Recipes

Lighter Meal

Rice is ideally suited for the basic, energy dish of the lighter meals of the day. To this good foundation, add tomatoes, bacon, and onion and you have the main dish for lunch, soup or supper. The apple muffins help to round out the meal in a satisfying way.

For these autumn days when you want to serve something quite unusual and exciting, here's a dessert that's lovely to look at, and delightful to eat. It is made of orange jelly, ginger ale, and peaches, and served with cream cheese and crackers.

Luncheon or Supper Menu

Vegetable Salad French Dressing
Apple Muffins Butter
Autumn Glow
Spanish Rice

3 cups cooked rice 3 slices bacon
1 onion, 2 cups tomatoes chopped fine Salt and pepper
Cook bacon and onion until brown. Add rice, salt, pepper and tomatoes. Mix thoroughly. Cook in frying pan thirty minutes or longer, or place in a baking dish, cover with buttered crumbs and brown in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

French Dressing

1 cup salad oil 8 tsp. sugar
1 cup vinegar 2 tsp. salt
1 can tomato 2 tsp. dry soup mustard
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce 1 tiny clove
Beat all ingredients together well. Keep in refrigerator and always shake well before using.

Apple Muffins

1 cup butter 3 tsp. baking
6 tsp. sugar powder
1 egg, beaten 1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk 2 cups chopped
2 cups flour apples
Cream butter, add sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Add the beaten egg. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add the creamed mixture alternately with the milk. Bake in greased muffin pans.

A NEW HAM FLAVOR

Here is a new flavor suggestion. Spread a little prepared mustard on sliced smoked ham then cover with strained honey and sprinkle with a little powdered cloves and cinnamon. Broil or bake until ham is very tender.

My Neighbor Says—

Add coconut to apples to be baked and you will have a "little different" flavor. Remember to add lemon juice to all baked fruits and the flavor will be improved.

Salt improves the flavor of candy and frostings.

Never starch linens that are to be stored away for a long time. They are apt to crack. Rinse free from starch, dry and fold away, if possible, in blue paper. The blue paper prevents them turning yellow.

CASE RECORDS OF A PSYCHOLOGIST By Dr. George W. Crane

Happiness can be obtained very simply and at scarcely any cost to us. A stamped, self-addressed envelope will bring you an application blank to the Compliment Club and start you on the Road to Happiness.

CASE L-153: Martha R., aged 29, is an attractive housewife. "I thought you'd be interested in our results with your Compliment Club," she smilingly began our interview.

"We tried it as a family—my husband, myself and our 8-year-old son. Every night at the dinner table we would compare notes and describe the reactions we had observed in those whom we praised. We all noticed a very definite improvement in our personalities. It was surprising how self-centered we all had been until we tried this interesting experiment."

"On several occasions we reached dinner without having paid our three compliments, so as soon as

I didn't know that before. In fact, I feel rather conscience-stricken about my previous attitude toward her.

Kindness Breeds Kindness

"It has been a revelation to me to observe how kind and considerate people become after you give them a sincere word of praise.

"Store clerks are overly eager to assist me now, and the children are much more considerate of the lawn and flower beds.

"After four years in this neighborhood, I don't believe I was on speaking terms with more than five or six of my neighbors until I enrolled in this Compliment Club.

"Now I am greeted with smiles by all the neighbors I pass. It certainly seems that kindness breeds kindness."

"But somebody must break the ice, so to speak, and do the first act of kindness, or say the first complimentary word. I always used to wait for the other person to speak first."

"Now I take the lead. And I don't feel so shy or embarrassed in a crowd. My attention is no longer focused on myself, for I am now eagerly looking at those I meet seeking something commendable about them, so that I can pay them a deserved compliment."

A Good Code For Living

"Our pastor has also taken up the idea and we are launching the Compliment Club in our entire Sunday school the first of next month. I wish everybody would try it, Dr. Crane."

"This 30-day social psychology experiment, called the Compliment Club, can start everybody on the road to happiness. Most of us are preoccupied with our own problems that we are unintentionally rude, thoughtless of others, or actually selfish."

"As we must account for every idle word," said wise old Benjamin Franklin, "so we must for every idle silence." And most of us are too reticent with praise. At the funeral we become suddenly aware of the good qualities of our loved ones, but it is then too late.

"Dr. Crane will give personal attention to questions on psychological problems. Write him, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a 3-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply. Letters and readers' names are never published." (Copyright by The Hooking Syndicate, Inc.)

Old Gardener Says:

Only a few of the early tulips should be planted in comparison with the later ones, which are much larger and more impressive. The cottage tulips are especially useful for home gardens because they are unusually hardy and will go on blooming for several years without attention. Many gardeners like to scatter them through the perennial borders. Mixtures in good colors may be bought cheaply, but most growers like to pay a little more in order to have named varieties. Some of the good kinds are: Fairy Queen, rose lilac; Moonlight, soft yellow; Orange King, deep orange; Picotee, white with rose-pink margin; Salt-rice Queen, soft rose, and Orange Beauty, orange-red. Was Too Hasty In Making Bid Of 3 No Trump

BY ELY CULBERTSON

Last Friday's Question, Restated And Answered

Question 7: You are West, declarer at a three no trump contract. Your hand and dummy are as follows:

DECLARER DUMMY

♠ A 10 2 ♠ Q 7 3
♥ K Q 4 ♥ J 7 3
♦ J 9 2 ♦ A 10 8 6 3
♣ A 9 ♣ K 8 4

North's opening lead is the six of spades. What card do you play from dummy, and why? (One sentence will be sufficient for the explanation.)

Answer: You must play dummy's seven of spades, not the queen. Your possession of the spade ten makes this play obligatory: By ducking in dummy, you assure yourself of two spade stoppers, against any law of the suit. If you play dummy's queen and South covers with the king, your ten spot will not be a second stopper if North (as is likely) holds the spade Jack. (Twenty points demerit for playing spade queen.)

TODAY'S QUESTION

Question 15: You are East, defending against a three no trump contract. Your hand and dummy are as follows:

DUMMY (North)

♠ A 8 2
♥ K 7 3
♦ K Q 10 9 6
♣ A Q

♠ K 4
♥ A Q 10 6 5
♣ 6 5 3 2

West, your partner, opens the spade jack and dummy plays the deuce. In a few words, state your best defense, as you see it. What is your "hope"?

TODAY'S HAND

NORTH

♠ A 5
♥ K Q J 8 2
♦ K 6 2

WEST

♠ K Q 10 4 2
♦ A 5 4
♣ K 10 7

EAST

♠ J 9 7
♥ 10 6
♦ 10 9 8 7
♣ J 8 5 3

The bidding:

East South West North
Pass 1 club Pass 1 heart
Pass 1 no trump Pass 3 no trump
Pass Pass Pass

"A trap-pass which had surprising success."

"A trap-pass which had surprising success."

North, in this hand, had a definite case of "no trumpitis." Admittedly, if a hand will make as many tricks at no trump as it will at a suit, the former contract is preferable. In this case, however, North was a bit hasty in assuming that no trump would be just as good, or as safe as hearts. He overlooked the fact that he could make a bid which would explore the situation more thoroughly before the final decision had to be made. The correct course was to bid three hearts on the second round. If South (who could be depended upon to think of the superiority of no trump, repeated the no trump bid, North might well decide to refuse from the auction. But there was, of course, a good chance that South would prefer hearts as a matter of fact, that is what would have happened. South would have gone to four hearts instead of three no trump, and instead of a poor score on the hand, North-South would have rolled up a very good match point score.

TOMORROW'S HAND

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♠ 6 4 3 2

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's column.

Don't Marry The Man

By Jeanne Bowman

THE CHARACTERS

Kathleen Gregory, peppery red-haired member of the Gregory clan, goes West incognito to secure a right-of-way for the Golden Girl mine.

Donald MacDonald, owner of the rival Stubbard Boy mine, hates the Gregorys.

Bridget, Kathleen's companion.

Chapter 13

THE STUBBARD BOY

Old Balmly did not speak immediately. He stood up and began to clear away the tea things. He carried the white cloth to a barren spot beyond the terrace and before the crumbs reached the ground, there was the mad chatter of birds.

When he turned back to his guests he was smiling. "It is comforting to know the wild birds recognize their friends without proof," he said.

Long, black lashes veiled Bridget's quick look of astonished understanding. She cast a sidelong glance at Kathleen, but impatient now, Kathleen was urging the old man to relate the story of the feud.

"I'm sorry, Miss Riley, only a MacGregor has the right to hear for him to ask her to go out with him."

"The Lady Prefers..."

Dear Mrs. Post: How does a man refer to his wife when speaking to the waiter? Is he supposed to say "My wife will have the broiled chicken" or "Mrs. Smith"? Or how else does he designate her when he has to?

Answer: To a foreigner he says, "The chicken is for Madame." To a waiter who is colored—or in fact to any one who is not foreign—he says "The chicken is for the lady." In a restaurant to which they go often and are therefore known by name, he would call her "Mrs. Smith" to either a waiter or a waitress who is American. To one who is European he calls her "Madame" (French pronunciation) always.

The Guest of Honor

Dear Mrs. Post: As a guest at a large tea given at the hostess's club, it is necessary to remain until the guest of honor leaves.

Answer: You should leave before she does. At a tea or any other general party the guest of honor remains with the hostess until every one has left. But at a dinner or luncheon party, other guests necessarily wait until the lady of honor has departed.

The Wedding Ring

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been noticing many women wearing a gold band, which looks to be a wedding ring, over an engagement ring. (At least they are wearing both rings on the ring finger of the left hand.) Isn't it still customary to wear the wedding band first and the engagement ring over it? I thought possibly this was a new custom for divorcees or widows or for some reason like that.

Answer: I have not noticed this and cannot imagine the reason for it unless the wedding ring is a little tighter and the engagement ring looser and the wedding ring is being worn therefore as a guard. There is no rule which changes the status of a wedding ring according to where it is worn. After a woman is divorced she always discards her wedding ring, although she may if she chooses wear another which takes its place. This may of course quite possibly be the gold band to which you refer.

BOY WRITES GIRL

Dear Mrs. Post: Who writes the first letter—the boy or the girl? We've been arguing this question and I said that I thought the girl might write first just as she is supposed to speak first to a boy she doesn't know well.

Answer: Between old friends the one who goes away is likely to write first because his (or her) surroundings suggest subjects to write about. On the other hand, any particular happening at home is an even better excuse. When a new friendship starts it is better that the girl wait for the boy to write her the first letter just as she waits

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

Women who have passed their fiftieth birthday belong to that era when cosmetics were looked upon as alluring aids to "ladies of the street." To look "powdered and painted" denoted either of two things. That the "good" woman resorted to make-up to cover up poor health, or she was vainly trying to hang onto her youth because of a "family situation"—which usually meant an erring husband!

Today, praise be to progress which has brought it about, the American woman does not need to grow old until she is ready to do so! Her work is growing less arduous each year, her body may grow stronger—providing she eats of the foods she needs and exercises as science advocates. Her complexion and hair, through numerous reliable aids, may long retain the beauty she desires. Today a woman does not "powder and paint" to cover passing years. She artfully masters a technique for preserving beauty and enhancing it according to her years!

Build Up Your Morale

No one, not even your daughters, cares whether you have gone through life without using cosmetics! It is nothing to boast about unless your skin is soft as clover, your hair lustrous with a healthy sheen, and your eyes sparkling with interest! Then you may well boast. Few women are so fortunate as to bring that amount of beauty to their fiftieth year, if they lived life at all.

As you look among your friends of your own age group, you are more likely to see withered, dry skins, faded unruly hair, and colorless countenances—that is if they have let themselves go and boast loudly of not primping!

But in that same group, look at the woman who has cherished her feminine loveliness and has striven to keep her figure trim, her skin and hair carefully groomed and who uses the very proper shades of rouge and lipstick to enhance her gracious years! Don't you truly envy her? Doesn't she radiate more than her drab, indifferent sisters? Of course she does!

No longer need women of your years be timid in approaching a cosmetic counter or entering a beauty salon. You are dating yourself sadly if you do not embrace these means to make you more lovely! A pat of rouge on a cheek which has been richly lubricated to velvety smoothness, a bit of lip coloring which also adds color to your eyes, nicely coiffured hair, shining with the care you give it, and a figure which permits agility, are yours for the asking... or for a little personal effort! And banish the notion that the acquisition of beauty is costly! It is not, if you will work your way to beauty, and the little final touches such as make-up may be purchased for as little as a dime a piece in your own home town. And of good quality, too! So what reason can you offer now, for not being a more Beautiful You?

Two leaflets will get you off on the right foot—Beauty After Fifty and Beauty at Small Cost. A self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope will bring both to you if you request them. Write me care of this paper. (Copyright, 1938.)

Don't Marry The Man

By Jeanne Bowman

That. Wouldn't you like to see my garden?"

Kathleen now understood how Kit-Smyth must feel toward Balmly; baffled, unable to press a charge against him because of the honest simplicity of the man.

Sunset was gilding the indescribable view from the terrace when they returned. For a little while they sat absorbing the peace of that hour, watching the play of light on the painted cliffs, while Old Balmly explained the natural chemistry which produced the jade green, the pearl white, copper and crimson.

"I'll want all of that for my book," Bridget cried enthusiastically.

And Kathleen told laughingly of her barren desk.

"Ah, lass, but you've ploughed the ground and planted the seed of desire. Soon you'll see your work growing before you."

"I don't know what it will be," mourned Kathleen. "I never before realized how useless I was."

Balmly stuffed tobacco into an old pipe, lighted it and puffed dreamily. "I envy you," he said musically. "Now if I had the time and the talent, I'd build a New Gregory on paper. I'd design coats that would give the miners' wives comfort and pride; I'd build—on paper, of course—a community hall where the young fellows could go of an evening for pool and cards. There'd be a gymnasium, an auditorium, a nursery and a dance floor. But then," he broke off whimsically, "what I would do and what you would do would be different, eh?"

Kathleen decided they must leave immediately. Circle and the forty-niners hadn't been fed. When she thanked Old Balmly for the delightful hour, her eyes were bright with speculation and the moment the girls were out of hearing she gripped Bridget's arm.

"Darling, look, the twiddle has gone out of my thumbs. From now on I work. That Balmly old honey told me exactly what to do. Wouldn't it be amazing?"

Bridget looked at her and shook her head. Verily the Gregorys were obtuse when it came to discerning anything beyond their immediate vision.

Morning found Kathleen at the doors of the unimpressive general store and the moment they had been unlocked she was purchasing blocks of drawing paper, rulers, pens, pencils and colored inks.

Immediately after the delayed breakfast she retreated to her room to build the first of the new Gregory coats: a house three times the size of the MacDonald's.

"Our Tartan"

Bridget, called in to commend, wisely said nothing for the moment. She had been tempted to ask what a miner's wife would want with a drawing room, and to assure Kathleen that one modern bath would be miracle enough for a family.

"You have something there," she admitted. "Remember the miners' children marry young and the old folks won't want too large a house to keep up. Why don't you talk to a few of them and find out what they would like to have."

"I'll do that tomorrow," Kathleen agreed.

But on the morning, Donald MacDonald appeared with an invitation to visit his mine and to dine with him in the evening.

Kathleen dressed appropriately for the trip, and for the weather which was threatening: brown breeches, high-laced boots, a tam o'shanter, sweater and plaid mackinaw.

She hadn't realized how appropriately she had dressed until she heard a cheer from MacDonald.

"You're wearing our tartan," he cried. "The plaid of your mackinaw," he explained.

Kathleen thrust her hands deep into her pockets to keep from ripping the offending garments from her shoulders and throwing it at the man.

It was the last personal remark she heard from him that day. He became, she thought sardonically, "the promising young business man."

The MacDonald's Stubbard Boy was not as impressive as the Gregory's Golden Girl. She was pleased to note. The buildings seemed sturdy enough and there was the same subdued activity on the surface, but there was a lack of shining fresh paint, the pristine newness in the offices. These she noted were filled with Scots, young and old.

"It is a MacDonald policy to give the local MacDonald boys the opportunity of filling these favored posts," Young MacDonald explained. "When one shows an inclination for business, we send him off to school. The Gregorys," he added, "hire strangers and bring them in from the outside. They believe in keeping miners below the surface."

Kathleen closed her lips firmly.

There was little different that she could see in the mine proper. True The Stubbard Boy's shaft went straight down. It seemed, rather than at the slanting angle of The Golden Girl. And the drifts went off to the left instead of to the right.

"Perfunctory thing," MacDonald observed, "but we're working on the same level as the Gregorys here. Their ledge is just beyond this, however, they'll never mine that portion."

"How could they be working this same part of the earth as you without the ledge being one and the same?" questioned Bridget.

"I'll show you when we're above again."

Priority Of Claim

When they reached the surface, he took them to the engineers' office and pointed to a map which hung on the wall. The colors, running parallel to each other, reminded Kathleen of a many-hued hatband. Only this band seemed to have been cut in two, then overlapped at an angle.

"I'll try to explain this in a layman's language," MacDonald told the girls. "Pretend this country was once a huge layer cake, the ledges of ore, the filling. Perhaps the cake was jarred during the process of baking, and one side fell. The baker, disgusted, cut off that section and laid it alongside the other. Thus there are two separate sections of filling, and each section of cake was at a different level. The MacDonalds are the lower section. This enables us to shoot our shaft down at only a slight angle. The Gregorays are the top section and the thin edge of their cake overlaps ours in such a way that they cannot continue digging out the filling without first gaining right-of-way around our shaft. According to law, we are entitled to two hundred and fifty feet on all sides. Further than that we can base our refusal to the right-of-way on the grounds that it would weaken our structure."

"Then the law does grant right-of-ways," interposed Bridget.

"Only when the contestant can prove priority of claim. If he can prove he established his claim before the other fellow, the law gives him the right to all lodes discovered on his line, ledge or vein."

Bridget nodded wisely and asked the question Kathleen longed to ask.

"Then your claim was established first?"

MacDonald's laugh was short. "There is nothing to prove which was established first. It would be a matter of moments. My grandfather and Old Angus filed the same day. The clerk did not foresee the need of establishing the hour."

Kathleen was running her finger along the thin veins. "Isn't this your vein down here? Doesn't it run into the Gregory property?"

"It won't for a long time and when it does," promised MacDonald grimly, "we'll take care of that. Shall we go now? Mrs. Arthur has offered us tea. I'd like you to see one of my model cottages."

Riding back to Neutrality, Kathleen found herself in the tonneau, Bridget comfortably seated next to MacDonald who was discussing mining with her as though she were the only one present with enough intelligence to understand him.

Kathleen sat and hated the back of his head. She wished his ears would stick out so she could hate it the more. He was detestable. And she wasn't going to like Mrs. Arthur whoever she was. She would show off her house like a woman putting her pet through its tricks.

She did nothing of the kind. A tall, dark-browed woman with the quiet dignity of the Scottish people, she met the girls as social equals and Young MacDonald as a son who called too seldom.

Kathleen was forced to admit the house was comfortable, even tastefully furnished.

Thompson are co-general chairmen of the bazaar. Among the sub-chairmen named for the affair are Mrs. S. C. Shannon and Mrs. A. W. Miller, in charge of the dining room; Mrs. William Farnum, publicity chairman; and Mrs. William Rollinson, Mrs. Ward Swartz and Mrs. H. A. Terry, in charge of tickets.

A young people's institute, sponsored by the City-Wide Young People's conference and the Y.M.C.A., will be held Monday, Nov. 7, at the First Congregational church, opening with a dinner at 6:15. Dr. Frank Slutz, Dayton, Ohio, lecturer and psychologist, will be the speaker. All young people and workers with youth have been invited to attend the meeting, tickets for which will be sold by the presidents of the various church young people's groups.

John Yonan will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Fox River Valley Lutheran Federation Sunday at Trinity English Lutheran church. Representatives from St. John's church at Oshkosh and St. Paul's church at Neenah are expected to attend the sessions, which will open with a business meeting at 4:30 in the afternoon. Supper will be served, and the group will convene again at 7:30 in the evening to hear Mr. Yonan talk on "The Contribution of American Missionaries in the Near East," and to see his pictures.

First English Lutheran church will celebrate the Reformation festival with a special service at 10:30 Sunday morning. The Rev. F. C. Reuter will have as his sermon subject "The Challenge of the Reformation." Holy communion will be celebrated at a service at 7:30 Sunday evening, announcements for which will be made this evening from 7:30 to 8.

Lodge Has Program For Mooseheart Day

Mooseheart day, honoring James J. Davis, founder of Mooseheart, was observed Thursday night by Loyal Order of Moose and Women of the Moose at a joint meeting at Moose hall. In observance of Navy day the program opened with "An Ode to the Flag," the salute to the flag and the singing of "America," and Seal's, chairman of the program and entertainment, spoke on "Davis' Dream of Mooseheart 25 Years Ago," his brother, Earl Seal, discussed "Life at Mooseheart Today," and Mrs. Clyde Cavert spoke on "Our Greater Horizons and What Mooseheart Will Be 25 Years from Now." Mrs. Cavert's talk was preceded by a 9 o'clock service and followed by a ceremony in which the childhood pledge of the Moose was repeated. Joe Gazecki and Lloyd Babcock entertained with musical numbers, after which dancing and old-fashioned games provided the rest of the evening's entertainment. Lunch was served by the Mooseheart alumni committee, headed by Mrs. August Haferbecker, alumni chairman. Assisting her were Mrs. Arthur Yohr, Mrs. Ernest Mueller and Mrs. Frank Karweick.

Loretta Verhagen Of Freedom Wed to Clayton Van De Hey

Mrs. Loretta Verhagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Eperen, Freedom, and Clayton Van De Hey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van De Hey, Wrightstown, were married at 6 o'clock Thursday morning at St. Paul's church, Wrightstown, the Rev. Father Buytaert performing the ceremony. The bride's only attendant was her cousin, Miss Helen Verhagen, Wrightstown, and Ralph Van De Hey, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

An all-day reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where dinner and supper were served to 90 guests. In the evening a dance was given at Little Chicago. After a short trip, the couple will live at Wrightstown, where the bridegroom is employed.

Do This If You're NERVOUS

Don't take chances on products you know nothing about or rely on temporary relief when there's need of a good general system tonic like the time-proven Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women from wholesome herbs and roots.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in calming jumpy nerves, lessens distress from female functional disorders and makes life worth living. For over 60 years one woman has told another how to go "unfailing thru" with this tonic. Over 1,000,000 women have written in response to its benefits—IT MUST BE GOOD!

APPLE BOBBING IS STILL HALLOWEEN FEATURE

No Halloween party would be complete without the fun of bobbing for apples, and Mrs. John F. Reeve, 105 W. Atlantic street, realized that when she entertained a group of young women at an attic party Thursday night in honor of two brides-to-be, her sister, Miss Elizabeth Shannon, and Miss Helen Jean Ingold. Here are Miss Mary Alsted, Miss Lola Mae Zuelke and Miss Mary Zelle, left to right, trying to get their teeth into the elusive apples and entertaining the rest of the guests at the same time. Fortune telling and other typical Halloween games and stunts were also on the program. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Regional K. of C. Conference To be Held at Retreat House

THE third and last of the three fall regional meetings, sponsored by Wisconsin State council, Knights of Columbus, and attended by state officers, state committee chairmen and officers of the subordinate councils in the areas nearest each meeting place and the district deputies for the same areas, will be held Sunday, Oct. 30, at Monte Alverno retreat house, near Appleton, starting at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The conference will continue through to 4 o'clock, with time out for lunch in the retreat house dining room.

The first of the regional conferences was held at Madison on Oct. 2 and the second on Oct. 23 at Rice Lake.

Presiding will be State Deputy William T. Methodists To Receive New Members

MARKING the conclusion of the first year of Dr. Harry C. Culver's ministry at First Methodist church, a special service is planned for 11 o'clock Sunday morning at the church. Reception of new members will take place and there will be a recognition and installation service for officers and teachers of the Sunday school and officers of church organizations.

A "Joash's chest" will receive the offering during the service. The spirit of the church will be represented by Miss Ruth Peotter, and 12 young ladies dressed in costume will enter with trumpets while 12 young men will act as Hebrew priests for this service. As the choir sings, the congregation will go forward and place offerings in the "Joash's chest."

Dr. Rufus M. Bagg, emeritus professor of geology and mineralogy at Lawrence college, will speak to the combined M. S. M. club and high school department of the Sunday school at 9:45 Sunday morning. His subject will be "Creation and How it is Related to the Book of Genesis."

The junior and primary departments of the Sunday school of First Methodist church will be entertained at a Halloween costume party from 2:30 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the church gymnasium. Halloween games and other entertainment have been planned. Mrs. William Gallaher, primary superintendent, and a committee consisting of Mrs. C. C. Bailey, Mrs. Clement Ketchum and Mrs. Earl Weitemann have arranged the party.

Circle 5 of the First Congregation church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Zschachner, 726 S. State street. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. G. Herzfeldt, Mrs. J. F. Woehler and Mrs. Arthur Schneider. About 35 women were present. The afternoon was spent playing cards, and prizes were won by Mrs. C. Rockstroh, Mrs. Blanche Jannes, Mrs. Louis Krause, Mrs. William Forbeck and Mrs. W. Hinchliff. Halloween decorations were used. A regular meeting of the circle will be held at the church Nov. 10, beginning with a 12:30 luncheon.

Argosy Club Members
Attend Bridge Party

Twenty-five members of the Argosy club of First Methodist church attended a Halloween dessert-bridge party given for the club last night at the home of Miss Irene Bidwell, 209 W. Lawrence street.

Waltman and Miss Louise Schult. Other members of the club, which will meet on alternate Thursdays, are Mrs. Mabel Heckel, Mrs. Gladys Lemke, Mrs. Mae Wegenke and Miss Genevieve Theiss. The next meeting will be at Miss Waltman's home on N. Oneida street.

GRANGE HEAD, DEAN CHRISTENSEN MEET

The South Greenville Grange celebrated its sixty-fifth anniversary last night and a Post-Crescent photographer was around for some of the doings.

South Greenville Grange Holds Its 65th Anniversary Program

The South Greenville Grange, which has not missed holding a semi-monthly meeting since it was organized, celebrated its sixty-fifth anniversary last night.

Some 400 persons sat down to a satisfying chicken dinner, which was served from 4 to 8 o'clock, while more than 300 remained for the anniversary program which followed.

The celebration was held in the Grange hall which was erected in 1928 and is the third hall occupied by the Grange in its sixty-five years of existence. The organization now has more than 200 members.

Visitors from all parts of the county attended the dinner and meeting, including a large number of county officials.

Leading the work of the Grange, Dean Chris L. Christensen of the college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin, who was the speaker, said that the record of the organization shows the fundamental basis around which it was founded is education.

Pursue Objective

"Through the years you have pursued single-mindedly the objective of an informed and intelligent membership, believing that such Grangers would be in position to make fair decisions and demand courses of action which will be best for the farmer, his family, his community, for agriculture and for society as a whole," he said.

Speaking of the educational program of the Grange for youth, Dean Christensen declared that the development of youth is the "starting point for building good farmers, citizens and neighbors. It gives a renewed confidence in the future."

"There is a desire on part of the farmers that their sons and daughters have an opportunity to assume responsibilities in rural leadership," he continued. "Agriculture is looking to the time when it can act on its home-grown leadership."

Agriculture, the speaker said, has made more progress in the last 60 or 70 years than it did in the previous 2,000 years. A large part of this progress was due, he said, to the educational system that reached back to the average family.

During the progressive stage, agriculture can be classed in three distinct periods, Dean Christensen said.

Agricultural Periods

The first period was a pioneer one, he explained, in which the farmer raised enough crops for his family and neighbors, and marketing was not a problem. The second period was one of expansion and development which occurred about the turn of the century and through the World war when there were foreign outlets for products. Now agriculture is in a stage of readjustment and reconstruction, he declared.

"We are interested in helping the farmer to make these adjustments and to meeting these changed conditions. Our task is that of helping to readjust the way of doing business, farming and marketing of products. The educational process is the way out."

Progressive Programs

Christensen explained that by education he did not mean the holding of high degrees, but education gained through the progressive programs such as offered by the Grange.

George Schaefer, Grange master, presided at the meeting and gave a short history of the growth of the Grange.

Miss Marian Knutson sang two vocal solos. The Outagamie county

Lindsay Brothers Engage in Quiz on History of Manawa

Manawa—Between them, the two Lindsay brothers, George and Arthur, both well over 60 years of age, and both of them natives of Manawa when this village was little more than a wilderness of forests cut up by cow trails, have worked up a question and answer quiz about the early days in this section that has aroused a lot of comment, reminiscence, and fun.

George wrote from Miami, Fla., where he now makes his home to his brother, Arthur C. Lindsay, vice president and manager of the Little Wolf River Lumber company here, asking all the questions, and the latter was forced to go into conference, consultation, and memory to find the answers and send them back to Miami. Here are a few typical questions asked by George and answers by Art:

Q. Where is Metzger street?

A. Metzger street is or was a street on the west side of the Little Wolf river across the street from the Schaup place in Old Manawa.

Q. Who raised the first Wolf river apple?

A. The Wolf River apple was first raised and named by Bill Springer at Fremont.

Q. Where is (or was) Elberton?

A. Manawa, Brickley Bridge, and Elberton are one and the same village. A brother of Thad Scott named Elberton wanted to name the village, but got fooled.

Q. Who was John Brickley?

A. John Brickley was a logger and lumberjack who built the first bridge across the Little Wolf river at Manawa.

Q. Who was Zeb Williams and where did he pass out?

A. A noted character of the early days in and around Manawa. He died in Charley Miller's lively barn.

Q. Who was George Dostator?

A. George Dostator was an Indian with a fairly intelligent head on him, who was a native of these parts. He was buried on the old Indian farm south of Marion and a monument is erected there today.

Q. What was the "barrel house"?

A. A large warehouse situated right where the Little Wolf River Lumber Co. lime house now stands. It was used to store barrels and heading. It was once either painted white or whitewashed.

Q. Where is the nearest Indian mound?

A. On the August Clapps "forty" near the Little Wolf south of Manawa at the bend of the stream.

Q. What was a river hog?

A. Common variety of laborer who worked on the river.

Oshkosh Child Appears In Program at Seymour

Seymour—Nancy Finch of Oshkosh, 8-year-old daughter of Walter Finch, entertained at the meeting of the Kiwanis club on Tuesday evening with several vocal numbers. Nancy is one of the new-comer radio stars and has been selected to appear with the 1938 stars over WTJ. Her father, Walter Finch, was the guest speaker and his subject was on "How Big Business Helps the Retailer." He mentioned that the big producers took upon themselves the responsibility of educating the distributors to the extent that it would be easier to sell products. Men in the field had to keep the industry going during the depression years through proper sales approaches. He presented a talking movie on how a home may be insulated for comfort in winter and summer.

The annual meeting of the club will be held next week when the officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Former service men in the vicinity of Seymour will take part in celebrating the twentieth anniversary of the signing of the armistice Nov. 11. There will be a parade at 10:15 a. m., with a program following it at the high school gymnasium.

Mrs. Albert Dean is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Manning at Two Rivers this week.

E. J. Rankin, proprietor of the Seymour Creamery submitted to an operation Tuesday at St. Vincent hospital, Green Bay.

John B. Clemons Rites Held at Clintonville

Clintonville—Funeral services for John B. Clemons, 76, were conducted Thursday afternoon at the Congregational church by the Rev. Walter E. Schilling. Vocal duets were rendered during the services by the Rev. and Mrs. Schilling and by Mrs. H. B. Dodge and Mrs. C. B. Stanley. Members of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges attended the funeral in a body. Bearers were John Elsbury, Frank Kohl, Sam Finch, William Schuader, Sr., A. H. Otto, and Clarence Rohrer. Interment took place at Graceland cemetery.

Born near Montreal, Canada, Jan. 14, 1862, the deceased came as a child with his parents to Plover, where his early life was spent. After his marriage to Miss Jennie Loudeneck of Marengo, Ill., they lived at Plover, Stevens Point, and Fond du Lac before coming to Clintonville 31 years ago. A few years ago Mr. and Mrs. Clemons spent about a year in the Panama Canal Zone with their son Harry Clemons, and prior to that had spent about two years with him in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Clemons celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in this city about four years ago. The deceased was a member of the Odd Fellow lodge and of the Congregational church in this city. His death occurred unexpectedly at nine o'clock Monday morning at his home on W. Second street.

Survivors are the widow, one son, Harry Clemons of Fort Worth, Texas, two grandchildren, Edward Clemons of Appleton, and Mary Jo Clemons of Fort Worth; and five sisters, Mrs. Louise Beckwith of Milwaukee, Mrs. Edward Durand of Wausau, Mrs. Velene Dorn of Minneapolis, Mrs. Anna Dickenson of Trent, S. D., and Mrs. Agnes Fishback of Sioux Falls, S. D. A son, Zachary Clemons, was killed in an automobile accident at Appleton seven years ago.

Organized Labor Faces Attack at Farm Conference

Building-Loan Executive Charges Farmers Lose In Alliances

Milwaukee—(P)—Organized labor was attacked sharply by a state building and loan executive today who told the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture's meeting here that farmer-labor alliances had not worked out profitably for agriculture.

"Labor has used brutality, force, threats and law violations to enforce its unjust demands for an unfair share of the consumer dollar," Carl Taylor of Milwaukee, a farmer owner and executive secretary of the Wisconsin Building and Loan League, declared.

"The assistance which agriculture has given labor in the proposed partnership in the legislature has resulted in a constantly increasing return to labor and a constantly decreasing return to the farmer," Taylor charged.

"Now the farm laborer can command about 10 cents an hour for heavy physical work, seven days a week, while the law of the land sets a minimum price of 25 cents an hour and 41 hours a week as the minimum standard for city labor."

"Vicious Practices"

Taylor charged labor had "legalized vicious practices and apparently by common consent adopted a system of anarchy to enforce demands beyond the laws," and added:

"Proof of this may be seen in Racine county, where labor ruthlessly disregarded rights of farm labor and farm capital to enforce the closing of a canning plant until the farmer lost his crop."

Presenting labor's viewpoint, Arthur S. Zander of Madison, representing the American Federation of Labor, asserted there was no conflict of interests between the farmer and laborer.

"Any antagonistic attitude between farmer and laborer is all wrong," he said.

Zander urged that groups producing the nation's wealth should harmonize their activities to receive a fair share.

Milo K. Swanson, secretary of the council, said agriculture was not anti-labor, but warned that "the Wisconsin farmer, through the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture, is going to do his own thinking and not be dominated by any one group."

Prof. B. H. Hibbard, economist from the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture, urged that labor, farm and factory prices be brought into a better balance, either through expansion of foreign markets or effective curtailment of production.

"The government offering to pay the farmer for not working under various laws," he said, "but since the farmer has not learned to play, he persists in raising 50 per cent more wheat and 30 per cent more corn than is consumed in this country."

Prof. Hibbard said labor must be able to buy before the farmer can achieve high prices for foodstuffs and for cotton, wool, and other products.

"The real trouble," he added, "is that labor is not getting its high wages. It is only asking for them."

Yesterday Herman Ihde, president of the council, told delegates that labor and agriculture were not getting along together as well as they should.

Shiocton Kraut Company Resumes Operations Today

Supervisors George Schaefer, Greenville, and Arthur Zulties, Seymour, were called in at the conference on the strike situation at the Shiocton Kraut company plant, Shiocton, yesterday afternoon in an attempt to bring about an agreement between the company and union officials. The plant was closed yesterday by union pickets. Union officials called off the strike following the conference to give Alden C. Smith, secretary and treasurer of the Kraut company, a week to reconsider his action in refusing to sign a union agreement. Canvassing Board for Election Is Selected Supervisors Mike Jacobs and Aaron Zerbe, Appleton, and Martin Williams, Combined Locks, have been named to the canvassing board for the general election, according to John E. Hantschel, Outagamie county clerk. The canvass of the votes will be started after Nov. 10.

Force Polish Jews To Leave Germany who have lived away from Poland for more than five years. Polish Jews interpreted the measure as directed primarily against them.

The Polish government issued regulations this month requiring all Poles living permanently abroad to submit their passports to Polish consular offices.

Since then, Polish citizens have been refused re-entry without a note on their passports that they have been certified by Polish consular authorities in the country of their residence.

Citizens who do not present their passports automatically will lose their rights to re-enter Poland.

Only men were held. Hundreds of Jewish women lined up outside two Berlin police barracks, hoping to see their relatives.

Some women waiting at the gates said they understood the men would be transported tonight to the German-Polish border for deportation to Poland. The women, they said, would be sent to Poland later.

From Cologne came news that Polish Jews there had been ordered to report to their respective police precinct stations.

They were told they would be shipped out of the country tonight and would be allowed to take only food and clothing with them.

Dramatic Club May Give Pageant During Dedication of School

The possibility of putting on a pageant for the formal dedication of the new senior high school was discussed at a meeting of Curtin Call, high school dramatic society last night at the high school.

Mary Ann Holzer gave a report of the committee on pins and James Chapelle discussed program committee work for the year. Miss Ruth McKennan, one of the faculty advisers, discussed play work, royalties and available materials.

The group working on projections, directed by Jack Burroughs, inspected a projector and decided the club eventually will take over all the projection work at the school.

Coaching and how it is done will be studied at the next meeting of the club. Miss Kathryn Frahsel also is one of the faculty advisers.

Scout Conference at Gardner Dam Slated

Commissioners and scoutmasters of the valley council will hold a 2-day conference at Gardner Dam, council camp, Nov. 12 and 13, it was announced today from the council office.

The conference will be of the open forum type, with discussions on leadership responsibility, programs, relations with institutions like schools and churches, and other topics. Herb Heilig, chairman of the leadership training committee, will preside. Scout executives from other Wisconsin councils will be guests.

Traffic Death Total Is 21 Per Cent Less

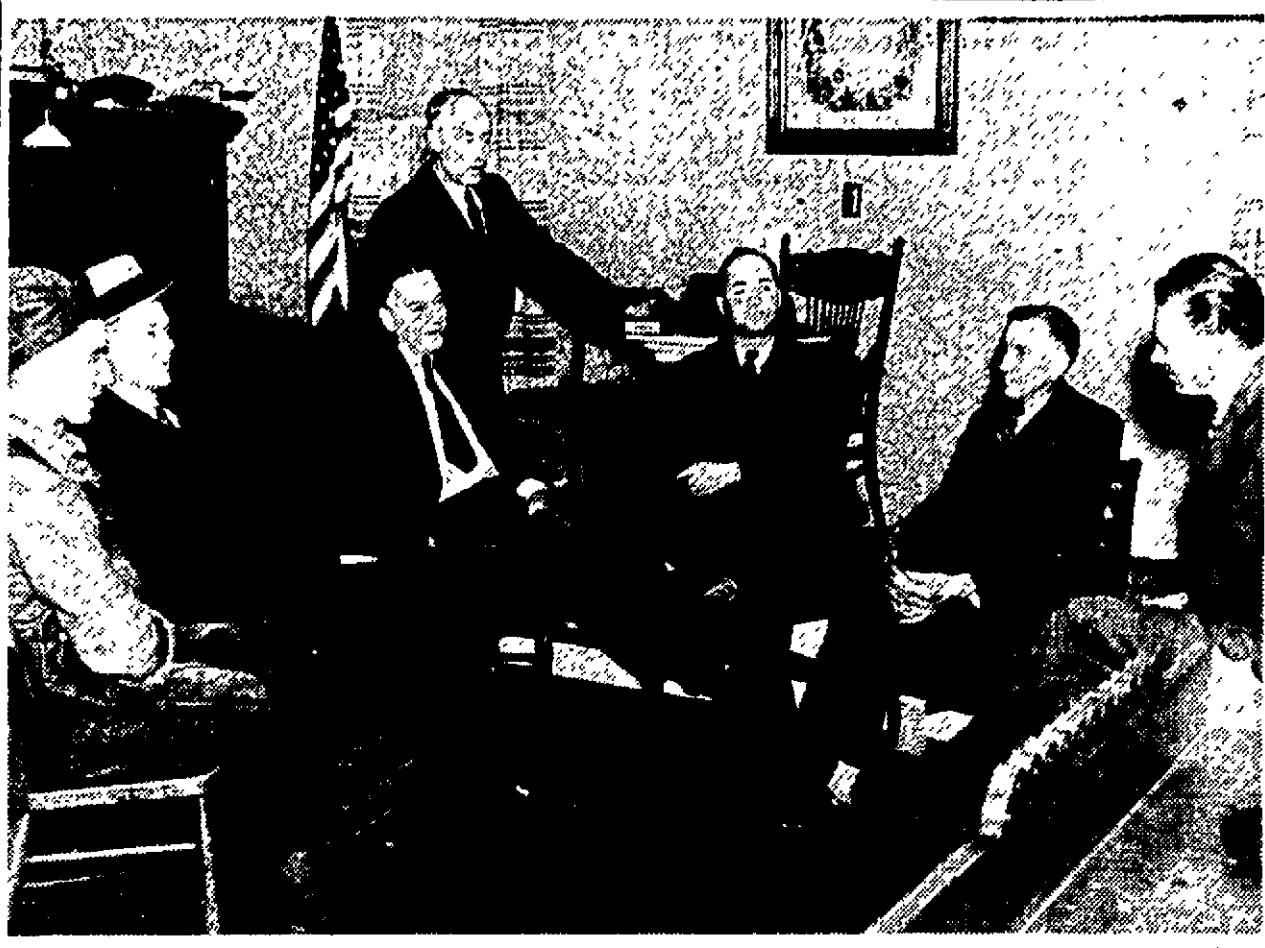

Chicago—(P)—The nation's traffic death total for the first nine months of 1938 was 21 per cent less than that of the same period last year.

In reporting these statistics yesterday, the National Safety Council said the gains were general from coast to coast and that September was the ninth consecutive month this year to show a substantial reduction in fatalities.

There were 22,150 persons killed in traffic accidents during the first nine months of 1938, compared with 27,550 for the first nine in 1937.

Escapes From Jail

Barron, Wis.—(P)—Barron county officials today sought Kenneth Gottham of Chetek, who escaped from the county jail by sawing through two bars. He was facing a charge of car theft.

COUNTY OFFICIALS ACT IN STRIKE AT KRAUT PLANT

Cloudy, Colder, Bureau Reports

Ideal Weather in City Again Today; 63-Degree Reading

The nation's football fans peeked over the weatherman's shoulder at weather charts today, wondering what sort of conditions will prevail tomorrow afternoon when left halfbacks and rangy ends become the man of the hour.

The weatherman looked up from his charts and remarked that the state of Wisconsin can expect partly cloudy weather tonight and tomorrow, with colder temperatures. The breezes that move across southeastern Wisconsin tonight will be warmer, he said.

The weather continued its sparkling performance in Appleton and vicinity today, chalking up the longest spell of pleasant temperatures, blue skies, and sunshine of the autumn season. The thermometer atop the Post-Crescent read 63 degrees at 12:30 this afternoon. For the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning, the highest mark in the city was 57 and the lowest 40, according to charts at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company plant.

Abilene, Tex., and Phoenix, Ariz., each reported 88 degrees yesterday to tie for the top temperature championship of the United States. Havre, Mont., shivered its way to the cellar position, with a score of 28.

No Parking at Fair Grounds Monday Night

Parking will be prohibited at the fair grounds after 6 o'clock next Monday evening as well as on Oneida street between Lawrence street and College avenue after the same hour and Soldiers square throughout the day. Chief of Police George T. Prim said today. The restrictions are ordered because of the mummers parade which will be held Monday evening. Motorists are asked not to park their cars on Soldiers square because that section will be needed and police cannot readily find owners of cars in order to have them moved.

DEATHS

DOROTHY MARTHA WOLTER. Dorothy Martha Wolter, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wolter, 1708 S. Jefferson street, died at 9:15 last night.

Survivors are the parents; one brother, James; two sisters, Marian and Catherine; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Schreiber, all of Appleton.

Funeral services were held at the residence this afternoon, with burial in the Holy Angels cemetery at Dale.

MRS. ORA CARPENTER. Word was received today by Mrs. Mary J. Newell, 1313 N. Division street, of the death of Mrs. Ora Carpenter, 72, who died at her home in Long Beach, Cal., Oct. 8 Mrs. Carpenter formerly lived in Appleton and attended Lawrence college.

KOLLETSCHE FUNERAL. Funeral services for Wilhelm Kolletsche, 77, 402 Tenth street, Neenah, former Appleton resident, were held yesterday afternoon at Brettschneider Funeral home with the Rev. A. W. Wittenborn of Neenah in charge. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

Bearers were Louis and Fred Weigt, Fred Harp, William Domanski, August Wurm, and Rudolph Haase.

WOLK FUNERAL. Funeral services for Henry R. Wolk, prominent Seymour merchant who died yesterday morning at Green Bay after a 2-month illness, will be conducted at 1:30 Sunday afternoon at the Seymour residence and at 2 o'clock at the Seymour Lutheran church by the Rev. F. H. Ohlrogge. Burial will be in the Lutheran cemetery at Seymour.

Duffy, Cashman to Deliver Talks in Appleton Tonight

Speeches Will Climax Series of Meetings in County

United States Senator F. Ryan Duffy, Fond du Lac, Democratic candidate for reelection, and State Senator John Cashman, Denmark, Democratic candidate for congress in the Eighth district, will climax their day in Outagamie county with speeches at the courthouse at 8 o'clock this evening.

Senators Duffy and Cashman arrived in Outagamie county shortly after noon and were to speak at meetings held at Black Creek, Freedom, Little Chute and Kaukauna during the afternoon. They will be guests of Democratic workers at Hotel Appleton at 6:15 this evening. Accompanying the speakers is A. G. Schmiedeman, former Democratic governor.

Gerald Jolin, Stephenville, candidate for the assembly from the First district, will introduce Cashman at tonight's meeting. Dr. C. E. Ryan will introduce Senator Duffy.

On Monday evening a rally will be held by the county Democratic committee at the school gymnasium at Bear Creek. District Attorney Raymond P. Dohr, candidate for reelection, and Ray L. Feuerstein, candidate for county treasurer, will be the speakers.

A mass meeting will be held at Freedom High school Tuesday evening. Senator Cashman will be the speaker and county candidates will be introduced.

Democrats also will be active next Wednesday evening when a meeting will be held at Koehn's hall. Jolin and Feuerstein will be the speakers.

Unknown Painters Smear Fountain at School With Paint

Red paint was smeared all over the fountain in front of Appleton's new senior high school and large red M's were traced on the sidewalk in front of the main entrance last night by unknown persons.

However, as Appleton footballers tangle with Manitowoc High school here Saturday, officials believe the painters might have been Manitowoc students imitating Lawrence and Ripon college students.

The unknown painters were not as courteous as Ripon students, who this year used red cardboard letters to decorate the Lawrence campus thereby saving the school the work and expense involved in removing the paint.

Manitowoc High school officials have been notified and an investigation will be launched. The paint was being removed this morning by high school janitors.

Committeemen Study AAA Work Procedures

Community committeemen under the AAA program in Outagamie county discussed work procedures at a meeting yesterday in the Appleton State bank building. Otto Tischendorf, state AAA fieldman, attended the meeting of which Joseph Garvey, county president, was in charge.

Janitors to Complete Bike Racks Next Week

Janitors at Appleton High school will complete the construction of bicycle parking racks Monday or Tuesday. William Eggert, superintendent of janitors, said today. When the racks are completed, it will be possible to park about 400 bicycles in the area between the academic and shop sections. There still will be room for future expansion to take care of 500 bicycles, he said.

Hearing on Claim May Be Adjourned Today

Adjournment may be taken today in circuit court in the action brought by the First Trust company, Appleton, to have a claim of $144,000 brought against it by bondholders of the Streator Clay company dismissed. The case opened Monday. Clarence H. Benton, Milwaukee, testified yesterday as to an audit made of the Streator company books and depositions were being heard today.

Called to Mill

Firemen were called to the Appleton Woolen mill at 7 o'clock this morning when an automatic alarm went off accidentally. The sprinkler system was being checked when the alarm sounded.

TAXES

"WE THE PEOPLE"

Most of us—The Consumers—are found in the "Majority-Group"—we are the 75% of the people whose incomes are less than $2500 a year . . . Some of us FOOLISHLY THINK that Government Spending does not—HIT US . . . that we are the ones who are benefiting by it and that someone else was going to have to pay it back—well—according to a recent national survey that is just—WHAT MORE THAN 50% OF US DO THINK . . . Therefore, the quicker we all learn the truth the better off all of us will be.

THOSE with large salaries and income carry only a very small part of the tax burden necessary to pay back the money used in Government spending—if, every dollar were taken from the salary of those earning $5000 a year or more—it would run the Government—LESS THAN FOUR MONTHS . . . This means, that our share is taken from us on the basis of—$1 out of every $4 we earn—and yet we are only paying back about ½ of what the Federal Government is spending right NOW.

Do we want our children to grow up loaded down with debts they did not create—to pay ½ of all they earn in taxes . . . for that is what both we and they will probably have to do if the present rate of Government Spending continues. JUST 25 YEARS AGO—WE ONLY HAD TO PAY IN TAXES—$1 OUT OF EVERY $15.50 WHICH WE EARNED—NOW—IT IS $1 OUT OF EVERY $4 WE EARN—It certainly is time we come to realize just what all this means to us—and—to our children.

Government spending has increased these last few years to where there is never enough taxes to pay their bills—so—constant new sources are sought for taxes. In the past, Real Estate—Liquor—Tobacco—duties on imports—paid most of the taxes—now—they can't begin to carry the tax load. So, Income—Sales—Inheritance and many kinds of special Corporation taxes—taxes of all kinds and descriptions—have come into existence—and IN THE END WE THE CONSUMERS HAVE GOT TO PAY MOST OF THEM.

To illustrate—let's take the oil companies—every time we buy a gallon of gasoline we have from 3 to 8 cents added on to the price as "Sales Tax." If we analyzed further we would probably find that in the price of the gasoline itself there would be about another 3 or 4 cents that had to be added to pay for Corporation and many other taxes that had to be absorbed in its final retail price . . . When we buy groceries, drugs or general merchandise at one of the "chain stores" we are confronted with the same situation—that although they do a tremendous volume of business and cut costs to a minimum, yet, WE have to pay most of the taxes assessed against the producer clear down to the Real Estate tax on the building in which the store operates . . . Further—a tax is being considered—called the "Patman Bill tax"—to be levied especially on chain stores and which would again have to be absorbed by us in the store's sale price. This "levy" is so severe it would raise the prices so high that even—WE—the-Consumer—would know that "something-had-happened."

Another group of taxes that DIRECTLY AFFECT US—are—Income—Corporate and Inheritance taxes. They affect our JOBS and our ability to have jobs. Income taxes are now so high we have a definite shortage of "Investment Money" to start new businesses and to assist old ones . . . High corporate taxes take the money that could normally be used to expand the business—To illustrate why high corporate and income taxes have "frozen" investment capital—we look at the biggest of all our steel companies—it paid $8,000,000 more in taxes during the last 10 years than it paid in profits to those who risked their money as owners of the business . . . Inheritance taxes are so severe that when a man dies it sometimes almost wrecks the business he has established to raise "CASH" enough to pay the Government. Most of our jobs are directly affected by these conditions.

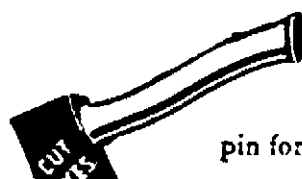

As "Consumers" we must have jobs to earn a living, so what affects our jobs affects us—It thus can be easily seen that Government Spending does DIRECTLY HIT US—from every corner—in every dollar we earn as well as every dollar we spend.

THUS AGAIN WE SEE WHY IT IS SO NECESSARY TO CAREFULLY JUDGE THE KIND OF A MAN WE VOTE FOR AS OUR REPRESENTATIVE IN GOVERNMENT.

Government spending is what makes taxes; cut needless expenditures—reduce deficits—and we can cut taxes!

This advertisement was paid for by local TAXPAYERS who are helping to more clearly inform you and all other taxpayers how Government spending affects everyone of us.

Badgers to Start 3 Sophomores

Embieck, York, Lorenz Are Named by Stuhldreher*JACK MURRAY O. K.
Paskvan Groomed to Replace Weiss if Latter Is Casualty

MADISON—Coach Harry Stuhldreher spent Thursday afternoon in sharpening the Badger offensive and reviewing defensive assignments for Saturday's homecoming game with Indiana at Camp Randall stadium, and said three sophomores will be in Wisconsin's starting lineup.

Two "rookies" will draw starting positions because of injuries to regulars. Dick Embieck of Laurel, Neb., will be at right guard in place of John (Blackie) O'Brien, Rice Lake senior, who is handicapped with a bruised shoulder. O'Brien has not complained of his injury, but his movements are hampered. Embieck did not get in the Purdue fray, but played a lot of ball against Iowa in the Badgers' first Big Ten encounter. He scales 187 pounds and is fast across the line of scrimmage.

York, Lorenz Start

Claude York, Sioux Falls, S. D., who opened at right half against Purdue last week, will again take that position; York was shoved into the first starting lineup when Bill Schmitz, varsity left half, bruised his shoulder against Pitt and Roy Bellin, regular right half, was shifted to Schmitz's position. Schmitz will not be in condition to play this Saturday. The starting post at right end will go to Al Lorenz, 185 pound Chicago lad.

Jack Murray, giant center who was kept out of the starting lineup against the Boilermakers because of an ankle injury, has rounded into shape and will take over at center in place of Johnny Doyle, a tough and willing Irishman who started last week's battle.

Work With Paskvan

Weiss, acting captain for the Badgers, is also operating under a handicap; he has a nerve pinch in his right shoulder, that prevents his passing and which, if aggravated, may put him out of the Hoosier clash.

Coach Stuhldreher prepared for just such an emergency in Thursday's practice; he used George (Bruiser) Paskvan, reserve sophomore, at Weiss' fullback spot on the first eleven. Stuhldreher said, "Paskvan is coming along rapidly;

Kimberly Eleven To Play Sunday

Holy Name Opposes Two Rivers in Homecoming Struggle

Kimberly—The Holy Name school gridders have elected Sunday as their homecoming day. They will be host to St. Luke's Cardinals of Two Rivers with the game starting at two o'clock at the ball park.

The Holy Name will enter the game as the underdogs, due to the fact that several of its members failed to meet scholastic requirements.

Fortunately, however, Coach Father Hietpas has been sponsoring an extensive intramural class football program in which a hundred football hopefuls take part. It is from this roster that Father Hietpas hopes to find candidates to fill these vacancies.

The midget line has been strengthened by shifting former backfield stars to the front wall. The backfield assignment will fall upon the new pony recruits, averaging about eight pounds.

Pittsburgh—Billy Conn, 157, Pittsburgh, outpunched Honey Boy Jones, 161, Pittsburgh, 10-0.

Wilmington, Del.—Scheduled eight round bout between Charley Gomer, 127, Baltimore, and Johnny Mason, 133, Buffalo, declared no contest in fifth after Mason went down six times.

Birmingham, Ala.—Buck Everett, Washington, D. C., technically knocked out Clint Moran, Dallas, 66, (weights unavailable).

Atlantic City—Bobby Jones, 170, Atlantic City, knocked out Frankie Denofrio, 175, Philadelphia, 60, in the first round.

Wuxtry, Wuxtry! Doehling Gives Lueck Lowdown on His Chances With Viking Eleven

Editor's Note: The following arrived yesterday special delivery from Clem Lueck, who handles Ripon publicity, and he says it's a true and honest report of his interview with Coach Carl Doehling on the Ripon outlook for the Ripon-Lawrence football game Saturday.

Clem—Coach, McIntyre on the Appleton Post-Crescent would welcome the opportunity of giving the real low-down on Ripon prospects in the Lawrence game Saturday to his readers.

Carl—Low down? That's just the way I feel.

Clem—It's no time for punning. We want the facts.

Carl—What? Tell them about the Ripon casualty list? Why the infirmity record looks like a roster

LAWRENCE college football team, playing only homecoming engagements these days, will go to Ripon Saturday afternoon intent on spoiling the Redmen's celebration and clinching at least a tie for first place in the Midwest conference. Last week the Vikes dropped their own homecoming game and next week clash with Beloit in the Gold's homecoming feature.

Both Lawrence and Ripon will go into the contest badly battered as result of previous games and

STUDENTS PLAN TRIP
Sixty students and the pep band will attend the Ripon-Lawrence football game Saturday afternoon on three chartered busses. The arrangements for the trip have been made by the pep committee.

The cost of the ticket and transportation to Ripon will be $1.25 for each student. The busses will leave from Lawrence Memorial chapel at 12:30 Saturday afternoon and will return in time for supper.

Arrangements for a trip to the Beloit game on Saturday, Nov. 5, are now being made.

Both Ripon and Beloit games will be homecoming tilts.

the club which can muster the greatest number of its cripples probably will win. Incidentally, the cause of most of the injuries is Monmouth which Lawrence played two weeks ago, Ripon last week. The difference is that Lawrence won its game while Ripon suffered a loss.

Lawrence's cripples are Vince Jones, bit tackle, Leroy Lubenow, tackle, Ken Buesing, back, and Dick Garvey, center. Jones and Lubenow have injured ankles which weren't exactly in good shape Wednesday. Buesing's knee has healed to the point where it is almost O. K. but whether Garvey can move freely on his injured foot still has to be proved.

Ripon's casualties are Gerry, 190-pound right half, injured so badly he needed hospitalization; Co-Captain Roly Horky, a thorn in the side of Lawrence almost every year, a broken finger; Andy Rock, end, a bad ankle; and several other men various injuries.

However, it's Ripon's homecoming and the one game Coach Carl Doehling prizes for and to believe that the boys won't play, if at all possible, is fool.

Both Ripon and Lawrence have outstanding backs. The Crimson star is a Milwaukee youth, Svein Krcmar, who passes brilliantly and runs just as well. Lawrence's star back, of course, is Obbie Newman, ski, who can run with any and likewise toss passes.

If Lawrence can start the which galloped through Coe, Cornell and Monmouth, it will be a heavy favorite. If it can't, then the Redmen get the nod.

of my boys. Why tip our hand to the Vikes about the weak spots?

Clem—Courage, Carl. Out with it. Anyway, Coach Bernie is a good sport. Maybe, he'll instruct his boys to go easy on your weak spots.

Carl—All right, but it's against my better judgment. Co-captain and fullback Roly Horky has a broken finger. He's only about 50 per cent efficient. And if he isn't right, the team isn't. Andy Rock, senior end, came out of the Monmouth game with a useless ankle. Tom Pearman, Andy's logical replacement wrenched his shoulder Saturday and hasn't been out for practice this week. Les Harness, heaviest tackle we've got, took such a beating last week, that I'm doubtful about starting him. He can't last more than a quarter. His understudy, John Barth, was kicked in the head in Tuesday's practice and his legs have been wobbly ever since. Jack Gerrie, who went off the Monmouth field in an ambulance, was discharged from the hospital Monday, but I can't use him for at least two weeks, if at all the rest of the season. He's our best blocker.

Clem—That reeks of tragedy, Carl.

Carl—The trouble with you sports writers is, you don't face reality. Don't take my word for it. Look at the infirmity records. Talk to Doc Barnes.

Clem—All right, all right. I know you're shooting straight and I'll tip off Mac that he's getting the gospel. Still, you've got Krcmar in shape and he's no slouch as a ball carrier.

Carl—Maybe you ought to confine your writing to sorority teas. What good is a ball carrier without blockers? Haven't I told you about Horky and Gerry?

Clem—Just the same, I can't send another sob story to Mac. I did that last year.

7-5 Last Year

Carl—Weren't you right? We were doped to take Lawrence. We were lucky to come off the field with a 7 to 5 tie.

Clem—Well, if the offense is shot, what about the Ripon defense?

Carl—Why don't you come out to see the team practice before asking foolish questions? For the past three nights, young Ken Miller on the loose squad has been acting the Nerveless role and he's made the varsity look foolish. The Redmen haven't mused his hair yet.

Clem—But you have some reserve strength. The Vikes are supposed to be getting along with some 14 or 15 players. You have 30 on your roster.

Carl—On the roster, yes. But look at game lineups. We haven't used more than 16 men in any one game. We can't, because the ability isn't there.

Clem—So you concede the Vikes edge?

Carl—I concede nothing. But, if every Redman were fit for Saturday, we'd still rate the underdog role.

Clem—What, when the Vikes have only defeated you twice in the past 15 years?

Carl—Forget about the past. We're talking about Saturday. Lawrence has trimmed Coe, Monmouth, Carleton and hasn't lost a Midwest game. We've lost to Knox, 7 to 0; to Monmouth 22 to 13 and have one Midwest victory, that 7 to 6 last minute triumph over Beloit. Incidentally, remember that Lawrence took Monmouth 19 to 8.

Clem—True, but the Vikes may be on the down grade after that 32 to 7 loss at the hands of the Pioneer last week.

Carl—Somewhere during your college career you should have studied psychology. Mark my words, Lawrence will bounce back from that defeat, fast and hard.

Blackhawks End Drills For Intrastate Battle

Champaign, Ill. (AP)—The world champion Chicago Blackhawks packed up today and prepared to break camp at their University of Illinois training quarters after a wild intrasquad game last night indicated Bill Stewart's team would be an improved National hockey league entry this winter.

Newcomers played a large part in a Blue team's 5 to 4 defeat of the Reds in the second intrasquad game.

STOP THRUSTS AT CENTER OF APPLETON HIGH SCHOOL LINE

When Appleton High school gridders line up tomorrow afternoon against Manitowish High school at George A. Whiting field, you'll find the two boys above in the center of the Terror forward wall, Russell Becker, over the ball, is a veteran center and will be expected to stop a few forward passes on defense. He comes from a farm in Greenville and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Becker. The other lad is Frank Kamps, guard, who should make all-conference this season. He also is a senior and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Kamps, 408 W. Seventh street. (Post-Crescent Photo)

WHY MAKE APOLOGIES? We're only guessing and guesses are only guesses. So here's who we think will win weekend grid games:

Lawrence-Ripon—The Vikings have forgotten about last week's ball game, they're interested only in that Midwest title. If they beat Ripon Saturday they'll at least tie. Garvey's just about ready, Buesing is ready but Jones and Lubenow are questions. Monmouth softened up Ripon a bit last week so we'll pick Lawrence and hope and hope.

Appleton-Manitowish—Sure, and it'll be a great day for the Irish. Patie McDonnell and a lad named McDonnell and another named Morris should give Manitowish a victory.

Sheboygan North-Green Bay East—Just a romp for the East side reserves.

Marion-Manawa—We'll put our nickel on the Purgolds, especially after they upset Clintonville.

Lawrence-Fresh-Neenah—The yearlings should ramble.

West DePere-Kaukauna—It's possible that the Kaws will take this game too lightly. But we won't bet on West DePere.

Beloit-Lake Forest—This should be a great struggle. Lake Forest has a great record and Beloit has a couple men hurt. Lake Forest.

Fond du Lac-Oshkosh—Fond du Lac has been battered around this season and won't be in good shape for this game. Even if it was we'd still take Oshkosh.

Pitt-Fordham—The fourth chapter in the "battle of goose eggs." Both have shown point getting strength this season but don't take that as any guarantee they'll be able to overcome the scoreless habit. Still, Pitt.

Army-Notre Dame—This corner ignores a strong hunch of the Cadets and casts the customary ballot for Notre Dame.

Northwestern-Minnesota—This really is becoming a prognosticator's nightmare. Even a slide rule wouldn't help in measuring these Big Ten titans. But a week's rest and the return to full duty of Harold Van Every earns Minnesota the nod.

Tennessee-Louisiana State—You lay your money and you take your choice. This is a teetering ballot for Tennessee.

Duke-North Carolina—On perhaps irrelevant and incompetent evidence, Duke.

Texas-Christian-Baylor—Baylor's with Texas A. and M. may have been misleading, but Christian must be picked on the records.

California-Oregon State—California, there they go.

Columbia-Cornell—Cornell, but the Rhacans will need better anti-aircraft guns than they had against Syracuse.

Harvard-Princeton—The Harvardians lost four straight but this looks like the spot for their coach, ornithologist Dick Harlow, to start singing.

Holy Cross-Colgate—In a state of complete bewilderment, Holy Cross. New York University-Olio State: A little sad music, professor. Ohio State.

Penn-Navy—Where has that coin been hiding? Penn.

Penn State-Syracuse—Maybe close but take Syracuse.

Duquesne-Detroit—The Duke's "A" Day.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S GAMES
Sheboygan North at Green Bay East (non-conference).
Fond du Lac at Oshkosh.

SATURDAY'S GAME
Manitowish at Appleton.

BATTERED badly and somewhat low in spirits, Appleton High school gridders will oppose Manitowish here Saturday afternoon in a Valley conference game at Whiting field. The Terrors will be battling to keep from slipping further down the conference ladder while Manitowish will attempt to assure itself of third honors. The kickoff is scheduled for 2:15.

Defeated by the two Green Bay teams in its last two games and with practically every regular nursing an injury or two or three, the outlook for the Terrors is anything except hopeful.

Buesing and Besch at the ends appear to be all right but Brasch, at tackle, has several battered ribs and Heinritz, at the other tackle, has been complaining about a cold. The two top guards, Frank Kamps and Carroll Kramer, are in such condition that whether they'll start is a question. Kamps has a bad knee while Kramer has several injuries. Becker, at center, is in good condition again.

Sample probably will be missing from the backfield because of a shoulder injury, a kick in the groin and a weak ankle. At any rate he hasn't practiced all week. Filz seems to have recovered from a leg injury and will be in the backfield with DeLoach, Koehnke and Pegel.

Ships Are Tough
Manitowish will offer a much harder problem than in years past. The Ships have bowed only to the Green Bay teams and are confident they can topple every other club in the circuit.

Their offense is built around Patie McDonald, a chunky Irishman, who spins, reverses, gallops, side-steps, and skips around the field like a rabbit when running with the ball. When he takes it into his hands to pass, he drives the ball through like a bullet.

Others on the squad who will bear watching are McDonnell, a fullback who blocks hard and plunges as well, Roger Morris, whose forte is catching passes and then out-racing the field, and three guards who run a lot of interference. They are Keune, Wolfram and Wetenskap.

The only other conference battle this week will be staged at Oshkosh this evening when Fond du Lac invades the Indians' field. The Cardinals aren't given much chance because of sundry injuries and several defeats, while Oshkosh has been getting better with every start.

Green Bay East is the only other Valley team in action this week. It takes on Sheboygan North at Green Bay tonight in a non-league tilt. North formally becomes a member of the conference this winter when its efforts will be listed with the basketball standings.

Key Sports and tied the third game. C. Hoffman had games of 201 and 217 for the winners while Heiman bowled 496 for the Sports.

Victims of the Body Works attack were Petersen Press bowlers. Sharp was high for the winners with a 515 series. Dr. C. Kolb was the mainstay for the losers with a 204 game and 524 series.

Town Taxi picked up three games from Odd Fellows as J. Strebel cracked a 221 game and 559 series and L. Boelsen showed 206. W. Nissen was high for the losing squad with a 518 total.

Two games were credited to Lions Club in a match with Knoke Lumber Co. when H. Hinnenhal pinned 496. R. Heiss was hot for the losers with a 214 game and 541 series.

WEDNESDAY'S RESULTS Philadelphia 7, Chicago Cardinals 0.

GREEN BAY — Coach E. L. Lambeau and his Green Bay Packers, squad, first place team in the Western loop of the National Football league, left here today for Cleveland where on Sunday the Bayites will tackle the up-and-coming Rams at the baseball park.

The Packer pilot arranged his invasion so the players would have a chance to work out in Cleveland Saturday morning and then have plenty of time to rest up before the whistle blows Sunday at 2 p. m. (1 o'clock, Green Bay time).

Aside from a couple of lining gridders, the Packers are feeling fit, and the squad has hopes of throwing the conquerors of the Detroit Lions and Chicago Bears for a loss.

Four Tough Games It is a "neck and neck" race for the championship in the Western division of the National Football league as the Packers, Chicago Bears, Detroit Lions and Cleveland Rams are all in the running for the playoff assignment.

Green Bay now in top berth, has four games to play, Cleveland, Chicago Bears, Detroit Lions and New York Giants, all of them away from home and there isn't a "breather" in the quartet.

The Chicago Bears have five games remaining. Three of these contests, Detroit, Green Bay and Washington, are at Wrigley field. Away from home, the Bruins play a return engagement in Detroit with the Lions and battle the Dodgers in Brooklyn, Nov. 20. The same date that the Packers are tackling the Giants in New York.

Detroit has six contests to go and still of the games are at Bridges field in the Motor City. Both the Lions away from home combats are booked for Chicago as Dutch Clark and Co. is in the Windy City this Sunday for a tilt with the Bears and the Detroiters return to Wrigley field on Nov. 20 to have it out with the Cards. The Lions' home contests will be with Cleveland, Green Bay, Chicago Bears and the Philadelphia Eagles.

Cleveland has five to go and Sunday's fracas with Green Bay is the lone home combat. The Rams still have to rub elbows on foreign gridirons with Detroit, New York, Chicago Cards and Pittsburgh.

The schedule for the "Big Four" of Western division for the remainder of the season follows:

Green Bay
Oct. 30—Cleveland at Cleveland.
Nov. 6—Chicago Bears at Chicago.
Nov. 13—Detroit at New York.

Chicago Bears
Oct. 30—Detroit at Chicago.
Nov. 6—Green Bay at Chicago.
Nov. 13—Washington at Chicago.
Nov. 20—Brooklyn at Brooklyn.
Nov. 24—Detroit at Detroit.

Detroit
Oct. 30—Chicago Bears at Chicago.
Nov. 6—Cleveland at Detroit.
Nov. 13—Green Bay at Detroit.
Nov. 20—Chicago Cards at Chicago.
Nov. 24—Chicago Bears at Detroit.
Dec. 4—Philadelphia at Detroit.

Cleveland
Oct. 30—Green Bay at Cleveland.
Nov. 6—Detroit at Detroit.
Nov. 13—New York at New York.
Nov. 20—Chicago Cards at Chicago.
Dec. 4—Pittsburgh at Charleston, W. Va.

Two Appleton Men Help With Wisconsin Homecoming Plans

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau ADISON — Appleton alumni and others from that neighborhood who return to the University of Wisconsin campus this weekend to recapture their college days are going to have a splendid time, campus leaders promised today, as they rushed to completion of a homecoming celebration which they say will be the biggest and noisiest in years.

City and university folk today prepared for the biggest football crowd of the season, and one of the biggest on record for the Indiana-Wisconsin homecoming encounter at Camp Randall Saturday afternoon, a tussle which will feature between halves an elaborate colorful cavalcade of football in honor of 50 years of grid competition at the state school.

The university ticket office confidently predicted receipts based on more than 30,000 admissions, counter at Camp Randall Saturday afternoon, a tussle which will feature between halves an elaborate colorful cavalcade of football in honor of 50 years of grid competition at the state school.

IOLA MAN INVITED Post-Crescent Madison Bureau MADISON — Dr. T. E. Loope of Iola, who played end on the University of Wisconsin football team 50 years ago, has been invited to attend the university's homecoming celebration this weekend which will memorialize that pioneer grid team, university officials said today.

Loope is one of five survivors of the fifteen men who comprised the state school's grid representatives half a century ago. He is a retired physician and surgeon in the Waupaca county village now, according to the alumni association, which will be the biggest turnout of the year.

Old grads who return for the golden jubilee festivities will see a city and campus festooned for the occasion. Fraternity and sorority houses, as of yore, will outfit themselves in comic and spirited decorations in competition for annual prizes awarded by the university.

Saturday afternoon, between halves of the homecoming game, a carefully planned pageant representing the period of Wisconsin's first gridiron team will be staged on the playing field. While the grads sing their "Varsity," a game played in the uniforms and under the rules of 50 years ago will be watched by lovely young ladies in surrises and gay blades astride tandems.

Among the student chairmen who have worked for weeks on the event are Ben Houfek and Chris Retson of Appleton, and Fred Gage of Green Bay, a member of the exclusive men's society, Cardinal Key. Gage will also do his share as a member of the grid squad in the Indiana game Saturday afternoon.

2 Sophs May Start in Marquette Backfield Milwaukee — Two sophomores have been struggling for recognition as linemen were listed today as probable starters in Marquette university's backfield in the football game with Iowa State college here Saturday.

Benny Owens and Steve Seskowski, both Chicagoans, are the newest nominees of Coach Paddy Driscoll to lead his team out of the doldrums of a sub-par season. Seskowski, 193-pounder, has been working at fullback with Danny Koster on the sidelines, while Owens, who weighs 195 pounds, has been working as a blocking half. Indications after yesterday's workout were that Jonny Malisch would play quarterback and sophomore Paul Fejlik one of the halfbacks.

Pulaski High Has A White Who Runs Truckers Ragged

Gallops 90 Yards, 85 Yards to Score in 19 to 6 Victory

CLINTONVILLE — Last night Lucky Lucy Alberts' Pulaski football squad literally mopped up on the hapless Clintonville highs, 19 to 6. It was the second non-conference game the Trucks have dropped in succession. They lost to Marion a week ago.

Pulaski pulled a high school "Whizzer" White who really had class. Several times he got away for long gains and touchdowns and every time there were several Clints who had a good chance to spill him but somehow he wiggled out of their grasp.

In less than a minute Pulaski scored and White was the boy who first ran 18 yards to the 2-yard line and then plunged over. Pulaski kicked off to Billmeyer who ran the ball back to the 20, where he fumbled and it was Pulaski's ball. Then White came into action and in two successive plays carried the ball across the goal.

After Pulaski kicked off both teams had the ball and both were forced to punt and Clintonville wound up deep in its own territory. Clintonville tried several running plays and then Ozzie Goerlinger heaved a long pass to Lyle Roloff for 50 yards putting the ball on the Pulaski 32. Goerlinger got off another pass to Art Drumm who took it to the 19-yard stripe. Fourth down finally came around after line plays had failed and Jack Martin threw a basketball pass to Drumm who went over to tie the score at 6 to 6.

The score remained tied until the half. At the start of the third quarter the Trucks kicked off to Alberts' proteges. The ball got past White and rolled to the 10-yard line but the young "Whizzer" thought nothing of this and picked it up and ran in and out of the Clints' 90 yards for a touchdown. Pulaski chalked up its last score in the same quarter when Clintonville attempted to pass on Pulaski's 25. White intercepted the pass on his own 15-yard line and ran 85 yards and scored with no "Trucker" anywhere near him. Shedy dropped-kicked the extra point making the final score 19 to 6.

Coach Johnson of the Clints started the game with a second string line and part of a second string backfield. After Pulaski scored he sent his first string in and when they tied the score the seconds went in again. During the rest of the game mostly all second string men saw service and it gave Johnson a good opportunity to find out how to fill the shoes of the two first string men he lost because of ineptibility.

Wuxtry, Wuxtry! Here's Dope on Ripon's Cripples

WED BETTER OFF IF THE Vikings had won over Carroll. And, remember that Heseltun has a well-coached team. Stony McGlynn says it's one of the best on fundamental stuff he's seen in the Midwest in a long time. Our boys look pretty ragged on blocking and tackling late as the season may be.

Clum—Sure, but you'll have the homecoming crowd behind you! Carl—Do you think Lawrence is coming down with just a water boy? Clem—We've sparred long enough. Has Ripon a chance? What do you really think about Saturday?

Carl—Any team has a chance, regardless of the odds against it. As to Saturday—I think we'll have beautiful fall weather.

ARMY MOBILIZED Ripon — "Army Mobilizes as Viking Threat to Bonfire Looms" headlines the Ripon College Days, student newspaper, in its special homecoming edition this week. It's no joke, for the students are really planning to mobilize some of their R. O. T. C. members into a night watch to protect their huge bonfire from premature ignition by possible Lawrence invaders.

Jolson Moves Radio Show to New York to See Title Bout

BY SID FEDER (Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz) NEW YORK —(AP)— Is it the McCoy that Dana Bible sewed up 99 players (or thereabouts) for future U. of Texas use by using 'em in the first Longhorn freshman game this fall? . . . Seems there's a southwest conference rule that if a frosh plays even one minute for one school down there, he can't be accepted by another, so Dana (according to the story) just wanted insurance. . . . And it's a neat trick, even if he didn't do it. . . . Frank Milani, touted by scouts as a successor to Lou Gehrig in the not-too-distant future, takes the first step up the Yankees' farm chain next year, moving from Westchester (Wash.) to the Class "A" Binghamton club. . . . Maurice Strickland, the New Zealand heavy, sails from London tomorrow to try for a crack at Joe Louis here. . . .

Rattles 528 Total Schaefer Dairy collected three games from Oak's Candies as M. Lueckel pounded a 489 series. D. Wentworth rattled a 528 count for the Candy quintet.

Arcades game slammed Polka Dots as L. Lueders sizzled a 190 game and 521 series. M. Johnson totaled 474 for the losers.

Metropolitan Cafe won the odd game from Adler Bros as F. Lewis collected her high game and F. Gehring bowled a 465 series. V. Thayer paced the losing five with a 200 game and 522 series.

fire from premature ignition by possible Lawrence invaders. Two years ago the Vikes made a midnight raid, burning up the huge pile of bonfire material that freshmen had labored a week gathering together for the Friday night pep rally. And adding insult to injury, the midnight marauders daubed campus buildings with blue calcimine.

So the rumor is that this year picked freshmen squads will stand guard in shifts to see that the bonfire material is protected, and to guard against any other eventuality that may occur.

Last year, fearing a raid from Carroll when the Pioneers were the homecoming foe, the frosh staged their vigil unnecessarily.

Lewis, announcing "I beat him once and can do it again" was given the night edge because of the 12-round decision he won from Gainer in a non-title scrap in Pittsburgh in the summer of 1935.

Gainer, claiming he wouldn't take the 1st if he wasn't sure of winning, contended he was in no fit condition for the Pittsburgh bout because he was forced to stuff himself in order to scale over 175 pounds as the contest was demanded.

The promoters of the show predicted a crowd of between 6,000 and 7,000 and a gate of $25,000 to $30,000.

Tackles to Play Important Role in Grid Classic

Minnesota, Northwestern Pin Title Hopes on Line Smashes

BY WESLEY CARTY
CHICAGO—(AP)—Upon the four young men who line up at opposing tackles may rest the winning or losing of a Western conference championship for Northwestern or Minnesota Saturday.

Both the Wildcats and the Gophers, clashing in Dwyne stadium before a 47,000 capacity throng, are powerful, driving teams. Both have relied in previous games upon that crushing basic play of a good running attack—smashes at tackle, either inside or outside.

Minnesota has been rated an edge in passing because of the pitching of triple-threat Hal Van Every, but the Golden Gophers, are more noted for power plays.

Charley Schultz, 225 pounds, and Win Pederson, 210, are Bernie Bierman's regulars.

Keyed for Power
The Northwestern offense, with driving backs in Jack Ryan and Bernie Jefferson, is key to the power inside or outside a defensive tackle.

Ohio State's tackles came to Dwyne stadium rated as strong defensive players. In that scorching, Northwestern shot 57 plays at tackle. On cross backs, cutbacks, straight drives, spinners and reverses, Northwestern moved the Buckeye tackles and gained there a net total of 177 yards.

Against the Gopher Sentinels will be Nick Cutlich, 205, and Bob Voigts, 195. They are smaller and faster. Voigts was consistently good against Ohio State's lungers and played the best game in his three years against Illinois. Cutlich was steady, but not brilliant against Ohio State, and improved against the Illinois.

Yesterday both teams took light drills, the Gophers planning another brief workout this morning before boarding a train for Milwaukee where they will spend the night. The Wildcats were sent through a defensive and offensive dummy scrimmage with new plays emphasized.

Hopes for Upset
In other Big Ten games yesterday.

Indiana—Bo McMillin, at the end of a brief Hoosier drill, saw hope for an upset victory for his team in Madison.

Wisconsin—Harry Stuhldreher, smoothing offense, announced three sophomores would start for the Badgers against Indiana, two in the line.

Illinois—Bob Zuppke indicated in the final drill five sophomores would be in the Illinois starting line against Michigan.

Michigan—Dave Strong, a transfer, who beat Michigan for Illinois in 1936 with a field goal, was moved to a regular varsity post for the game against his former school.

Purdue—The Boilermakers went through a light drill for the Iowa clash while eight regulars were bothered with minor injuries.

Iowa—A complete regular backfield was expected to start against Purdue on the basis of the lineup Irt Tubb used in a light workout.

Chicago—The Maroons looked weak defensively against De Pauw plays and Clark Shaughnessy again shifted his linemen.

Ohio State—A brief defensive drill preceded the Buckeyes' entrainment for their game with New York university in New York.

New York Fans Noted for Their Loyalty to Notre Dame Gridders

BY GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK—(AP)—One of the most peculiar things about the football season is the annual game between Notre Dame and the Army, the 25th of which will be played tomorrow at Yankee stadium before about 80,000 alumni of the two institutions.

The game is unique because of this terrific outpouring of the old grads, most of whom bought their tickets back in August. Otherwise the contest is not particularly distinguished, because Notre Dame usually wins and national honors very seldom are in the balance.

The 80,000 alumni who scheme and scrap for the privilege of paying $4.40 to see the game are not to be confused with the calmer type of alumnus who actually attended classes at one of the two institutions. The latter is comparatively rare and has become scattered all over the world, while the Notre Dame football alumni is concentrated right here in New York.

300,000 "Old Grads"

There are estimated to be about 300,000 of them in the greater city, men who for years have suffered agonies every time Army threatened to score on their alma mater. Some of them have been loyal Notre Dame old grads ever since the days when Knute Rockne and Gus Dorais first came to the plains and forward passed the cadets into a state of collapse.

Naturally, they hold nothing but scorn for a great number of young-old grads who grabbed a Notre Dame football diploma only about 13 or 14 years ago, when the "Four Horsemen" were bringing fame to the South Bend academy. The veteran Irish supporters refer caustically to the members of this group as "ten-year men."

Loyal Rooters

At any rate, they are about the most loyal rooters in the country and they might make it unsafe to even suggest in a crowded subway that Notre Dame might not have the greatest eleven in the land. They're willing and even anxious to swing a fist for the old school, though the years might have made them a trifle hazy about whether it is located on the Hudson or on the Platte.

Almost as strange as this rabid partisanship is the way West Point gets worked up about the game. The cadets, if anything, are hotter to lick Notre Dame than they are to beat their service rivals, the Navy.

Visitors to the Point the last few days have been startled at the way the "Future Generals" carry on. Bed sheets bearing crisp commands like "Beat the Irish" hang from barracks windows, and there is something similar above every door.

Dutchmen Deny They Canceled a Game With Fondy
Little Chute Dutchmen footballers are up in arms over the story from Fond du Lac which appeared on this page yesterday, a story which inferred the Fond du Lac semi-pro football team couldn't get games because the other squads were afraid of Little Chute and Kaukauna in particular canceled games.

The Dutchman point out that the only scheduled game with Fond du Lac was for Sept. 18, at Fond du Lac, and was called off on Sept. 16, by H. W. Bub, manager, because the field was flooded.

On Oct. 13, Bub telephoned George Vanderloop, Chuter manager, that he was coming to Little Chute to arrange a game. He never arrived. Then the Chuters arranged a game with Preble for Tuesday evening, Oct. 18, at Kimberly. On Oct. 14, Bub called again and explained that a car accident had prevented his making the trip on Monday. He asked for a game on the night of Oct. 16 which the Chuters refused because they were playing on Oct. 18 and at Merrill on Oct. 22.

The Flying Dutchmen aren't afraid to play anyone, they say and have announced that if the game with Kaukauna at Kaukauna, scheduled Nov. 6, can be changed to Nov. 13, they'll take on the Fond du Lac squad at Little Chute on a 60-40 basis after deducting $10 for officials. The winner will take the long end of the purse.

Sunday the Chuters and Kaukauna will play at Little Chute.

Zeeland Chryslers were second with 2,808.

High individual series was Heinie Haupt with 608. Lam Schommer was a close second with 606 Casey Hanegraaf third with 588.

Paul Versteeg gets credit with bowling the highest game of the week with 228. Bill Jose and Lam Schommer each showed a 225.

Referendum to be Held Saturday on School Question

Clintonville Voters to Decide if New Grade School Will be Erected

Clintonville—School District No. 1 of the city of Clintonville will hold a special referendum election Saturday on the question of erecting a new grade school building and making alterations to the high school structure at a cost of approximately $300,000. Of this amount it is expected that 45 per cent, or $135,000 could be received through a PWA grant and the balance of $170,000 would have to be financed through a bond issue.

Both the grade and high school buildings are at present overcrowded as the school records show that enrollment has doubled within the last ten years. The high school was built 20 years ago and the grade building is more than forty years old. The proposed move also calls for the acquisition of additional land to the south for playground and athletic purposes. If the project is started, it is estimated that about 100 local men would be given employment.

Talks on the physical education program of the public schools curriculum were given by Miss Marion Wagner and Coach Johnson at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher association Wednesday evening. Miss Wagner, girls' physical education director, talked on the benefits derived from games and intra-mural activities. Leadership, sportsmanship and similar qualities are developed in the young people, she said.

Mr. Johnson's talk dealt chiefly with athletic teams, such as football, basketball and track. He showed how cooperation among the players is necessary to produce a good team. He also pointed out that good health habits are vitally important during the boys' adolescent age.

During the absence of President G. D. Simonds of the P. T. A., Arthur Rice was in charge. Robert Strassburg, treasurer of the association, reported that over $40 profit was realized from Mumm's radio revue, which was sponsored last week by the P. T. A. at the high school auditorium.

$100 Fire Damage
Damage amounting to about $100 resulted from a fire discovered at 6:30 Thursday morning at the August Genskow house on Eleventh street, which is occupied by the Leonard Goerlinger and Harold Devaud families. The Devauds, who live in the upstairs flat had lighted the oil stove in the basement preparatory to washing. A partition back of the stove became overheated and caught fire, afterward spreading to the adjoining partition in the basement. The house also filled with smoke, causing damage to the furnishings.

Word has been received by friends in this city announcing the birth of a son on Oct. 25 to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Monroe of Fennimore. The latter is the former Miss Elaine Roach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Roach of this city.

Mrs. O. C. Eberhardt entertained the Busy Twelve Wednesday afternoon at her home on N. Main street. The Leisure Hour club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arno Dessen on Torrey street. Three tables of bridge were followed by a luncheon. Those receiving prizes were Mrs. Joseph Zeiden, Mrs. Arthur Scheive, Mrs. Charles Wendler and Mrs. Oscar Klemp. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Eric Dessen on Pearl street.

200 Attend Program
Nearly 200 persons attended the covered-dish supper and program held Wednesday evening at the Masonic hall. Music during the supper hour was furnished by the high school orchestra, under the direction of Everett Goli. The program included: a comic skit; "Women at a Bridge Foursome" by Dr. Irving Auld, Howard Beeve, G. A. Seidel and M. O. Stockland; piano duets by Joan Stein and Hope Martin; vocal selections by Betty Spiegel; readings by Mrs. F. C. Klamath Falls, Ore.—(AP)—The Merrill High school football team let its game with Marlin high blow right out of its hands. A Merrill punter stood on his goal line and kicked into a gale. The wind blew the ball back into the end zone and the referee ruled it a safety for Marlin. Final score 2-0, Marlin.

If They Don't Like New York They Ought to Head for Home

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER
New York—Yes, I know what the constitution says. But, still and all, they come piling in here in hordes with a cardboard suitcase and a letter of introduction to someone who has preceded them to take advantage of the opportunities, and yet you will find thousands of them who never do come to feel that they belong here. They don't want to take a stake in home and cling together to keep alive the old traditions and avoid being assimilated. And all the time they are knocking, knocking, knocking and yearning for the day when they have made a pile here so that they can go home again and live like kings in retirement on the cheap rate of exchange.

You do a little nosing around in New York and you will find little groups and state societies—Hoosiers talking about the frost on the pumpkin and singing about the banks of the Wabash, southerners talking about their old colored mammys and singing about the fields of snowy white, Californians who were starving to death when they left home, yelling "California. Here I Come!" and even Kansans, giving themselves a buildup about the joys and kind fraternity of life on the steppes.

What I say is, if they loved it so well back where they came from why didn't they stay there? And if they are so fastened to the simple honesty and charm of life back home, well, the trains and busses still keep regular schedules, and if they aren't fast enough there are always the air lines. But can you picture a Hoosier going back to the candlelight which gleams through the cypresses in the song they love to sing and unlatching a swell job in New York at ten times the most he ever made back home? Candlelight! That is a hot one! Let the power go off for one night in New York on account of some labor trouble, for instance, and give them just a little taste of that candlelight stuff and listen to the squawks. Candlelight may be romantic on the banks of the Wabash in the song, but it would be darkness of the nation's hour of doom in New York.

First Thing You Know There's a Patch of Them
And clannish! One comes to town, hustles around for a few years, makes a nice little spot for himself, meanwhile sending New York dough home, and pretty soon he has got his nephew or his fraternity brother from old Siwash, or Spearfish, planted in the office while New York boys walk the street with O in their pockets and O to do. Then there comes along his deceased sister's daughter just out of college and he sends her in for a job with another back-homer up the street, and the first thing anybody knows there is a regular batch of them earning a living in New York—hating New York, constantly knocking New York, wishing New York was like the place they were so eager to get away from and treating the regular New Yorkers like dirt under their feet.

One moves into a neighborhood and—like those little shell gags in the ocean, those what-do-you-call-them, molluscs or something, they tie together—and pretty soon there is a regular island of them. One throws his business orders to the other and vice versa, and if there comes a little squeeze from one of the natives to obtain some business or a job, why, that only goes to prove what a lousy town New York is and what low ethics New York has. And they are appalled by the graft and crime, as though nobody ever used the squeeze or took down any political lug or stuck up a jug back home. In Oklahoma or Ohio, for instance.

They Just Refuse To Get Assimilated
Yes, I know what the constitution says, but I say if this town is good enough to make a living in they ought to have to make up their minds whether they are going to be New Yorkers or not, and if not get the hell back where they came from. Or, anyway, quit nattering about how they wish they were back there when everybody knows you couldn't bribe them to give up the soft living and big money they get here.

The only reason they think they want to go back home is that they land, George Frisch, G. A. Seidel and Howard Beeve.

Four Wheel Drive Girls club met for a Halloween party Wednesday evening at the Parkview hotel. Twenty-five were present for a dinner followed by card games. Honors at bridge went to Miss Mildred Brackob and Miss Marcella Beschta; while the prizes at hearts were won by Mrs. Ethel Chandler and Miss Irene Kahl. The committee in charge of the party arrangements included: Mrs. Even Vaughn, the Misses Noreen Tanner, Rosella Boehler and Marcella Beschta.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Simonds are spending several weeks on a trip to New York and other places in the east.

Gains Reported in Reemployment and Industrial Output

Washington—(AP)—Strengthened federal indices for employment and industrial production nudged upward today the prosperity indicators of two government agencies.

Secretary Perkins said September figures showed reemployment of 640,000 workers in non-agricultural occupations since June. About 440,000 returned to work since the labor department's August survey.

The federal reserve board announced its index of industrial production had risen from 76 in May to 90 in September, including a gain of two points over the August figure.

The index is based on 1923-25 as 100, and last night's report put it at 100.

CANDIDATE DIES
High Point, N. C.—(AP)—The death of Judge Lewis E. Teague of High Point left the Sixth congressional district without a nominee today in the general election.

The district Democratic committee is expected to name a candidate, who will be unopposed.

WHEEL CHAIR TOURIST
Palestine, Tex.—(AP)—Jim Britton, 54, is gaining a reputation as the "wheel chair tourist."

Recently he made a trip from Palestine to Houston and return, a distance of 600 miles. He averaged 30 miles a day and his best day's "run" was 40 miles.

Britton paid the trip's cost by selling small articles along the way.

St. Mary Gridders Will Oppose Green Knights Saturday

Advance Date for Final Conference Game at DePere One Day

Menasha — St. Mary High school gridders will close their conference season Saturday afternoon at DePere instead of Sunday as originally scheduled. The date of the game has been advanced to Saturday because this weekend will be a double holiday at St. Norbert college.

The Zephyrs lead the conference with three straight victories. The St. Norbert college high team has won one and lost one while the St. John team rests at the bottom of the conference with three straight defeats. The game Saturday will start at 2 o'clock in the new St. Norbert college stadium, the gift of Dr. J. R. Minahan of Green Bay.

St. Mary High gridders will be favored to win the game Saturday and repeat as Fox Valley Catholic conference champions. They already hold a 26 to 0 victory over St. Norbert. They also have won two games from St. John High school while the Green Knights were able to score a 1-point victory over the Flying Dutchmen.

Expecting a tricky attack from the Green Knights, Coach Marvin Miller has put his team on defense this week and staged stiff practices. The reserves, many of whom played against Kimberly last Saturday, got in a good practice session against the Neenah High school reserves this week.

Keefe to Address Republican Rally

County-Wide Meeting Will be Held in Germania Hall

Menasha — A county-wide Republican rally will be held in the Germania hall on next Thursday night according to Oscar A. Lichtenberger, chairman of the Menasha county G. O. P. club. Frank B. Keefe, Oshkosh, Republican nominee for congress in the Sixth district, will be the speaker.

Arrangements for the meeting are being completed by Alton K. Cross, Republican precinct committeeman. A musical program will precede the speech which is scheduled for about 8:15. Mr. Keefe is to speak at Winneconne at 7 o'clock in the village hall the same evening.

The Menasha meeting probably will be the major Republican gathering in the county. Mr. Lichtenberger said, Mr. Keefe's list of speaking engagements in other parts of the Sixth district is so extensive that he may not have time to deliver another major address in the county before the Nov. 8 election.

Arrangements also are being made for a Republican meeting at Oshkosh on Friday, Nov. 4, at which Julius Heil, Milwaukee, Republican candidate for governor, will be the speaker.

More Money Needed For Maintaining New County Courthouse

Neenah — The cost of operating the new Winnebago county courthouse will be more than $13,000 more than it cost to operate the old structure, according to the appropriation which will be requested of the county board by the public buildings committee. The committee's budget will be $18,335, which compares with former budgets of about $5,000.

Although the increase was anticipated by the board of supervisors, the comparison is not quite accurate, for the 1939 budget includes items not included formerly, such as $1,300 as rent for the 50 telephones and typewriter maintenance. Also, the committee was required to operate both the old and the new courthouses during a part of this year.

Some of the items in the 1939 budget are salaries of four janitors, telephone operator, cleaning women, $7,520, fuel, $1,500, electric power and gas, $5,000, water and sewer rental, $400, supplies, $1,000, elevator service, $570, miscellaneous and repairs, $500.

Neenah Auto Crashes Into Oshkosh Window

Neenah — An automobile, driven by Ernest A. Kramer, 42, 512 Grove street, Neenah, crashed into a plate glass window in the front of the Gilbertson Motor company garage at Oshkosh Wednesday evening. Damage was estimated at several hundred dollars.

The accident was the result of a collision between Kramer's car and an automobile driven by an Oshkosh man, Robert Wegener, 24. When the cars collided, police said, Kramer lost control of his automobile which veered to the left, crossed the sidewalk and crashed through the window. No one was injured and neither car was damaged extensively.

The Twin Cities office of the Appleton Post-Crescent for its editorial, circulation and advertising departments is located at 510 N. Commercial street and the telephone number is 4100. News items, copy or orders for advertising and orders for subscriptions may be left at the office or may be telephoned. This number may be called before 7 o'clock in the evening.

Roll Call Leaders Outline Plans for Menasha Campaign

Menasha — Preliminary plans for the annual roll call drive of the Menasha chapter of the American Red Cross were made at a meeting of ward captains and leaders at the home of Mrs. Andrew J. Hopfensperger, roll call chairman, Thursday afternoon.

Those who attended the meeting included Mrs. Charles J. Campbell, first ward captain; Mrs. Blanche Kolosinski, second ward captain; Mrs. William Karrow, Jr., third ward captain; Mrs. William H. Jensen, fourth ward captain; Mrs. J. Cyril Hyand, fifth ward captain; Miss Vivian Knorr, town of Menasha chairman; Mrs. Morgan H. VanderHynd, business group chairman; Mrs. H. O. Fenner, teachers group chairman; Harry Kosloske, group chairman; and the Rev. W. A. Jacobs, publicity chairman.

NYA Offers Rural Youth Training At Co-Op Centers

Information on Enrollment Available at Relief Office

Menasha — Rural youths who desire an opportunity to learn what work they are best fitted for may secure information on the NYA cooperative training centers at Marinette and Green Bay from the Neenah-Menasha Relief group at S. A. Cook armory, according to Harry M. Bishop, director.

The training centers, which were organized last February, are in full swing for the school year of 1938-1939. Occasional vacancies are created by the finding of private employment or other causes and are filled from a waiting list of applications held at the NYA district office in the federal building at Green Bay.

These centers have been established to provide an opportunity for needy young men, 18 to 25 years of age who live in rural communities, to attend vocational classes with a view to discovering what kind of work they are best adapted for and finding out how to acquire the training needed for their chosen trade, profession or occupation.

In order that these young men may receive this training, the National Youth administration employs them part time and their earnings are sufficient to pay their expenses, which are shared equally by all workers while they attend school. All live together in a house rented for dormitory purposes.

Work, school and recreation enter into the day's activities. Leisure time is spent on such amusements, diversions and hobbies as the individual youths may choose.

It Is Said--

That the Menasha Lake road football team laid claim to another victory Thursday night when the Fourth ward team failed to appear for its game. Coach N. A. Calder and Leslie Ansgore of the Menasha High school physical education department were out to watch the game. They saw a good exhibition of football still the same for the squad chose sides. The squad led by Frank Heckrodt defeated the one captained by Red Drucks. The players were more than pleased that Coach Calder was watching the game and Coach Calder started to plan for some of the boys on his Bluejay teams a few years hence.

That the last yellow-painted barrel and flaming kerosene torch finally has disappeared from the Brim theater corner at Menasha and the safety islands now can be called complete. City employees Thursday placed the final light in the concrete safety islands. The problem of what kind of safety islands to build and what kinds of lights to install occupied council sessions intermittently for over a year.

Committees, Trustees Confer at Sanatorium

Menasha — Members of the sanatorium committees representing Winnebago and Fond du Lac county boards were guests Wednesday evening at Sunnyside to meet with the trustees of the institution and the superintendent, Miss Cava Wilson.

Winnebago county was represented by E. F. Dornbrook, Menasha; Joseph Drexler, Oshkosh; and Clarence Fisher, town of Rushford. C. A. Keroske, Neenah, was unable to be present.

No major appropriations for 1939 other than the plans contained in the usual budget for maintenance and operation, will be requested, the county board representatives were told. Department heads summarized their work.

Campaign for Country Home Funds Underway

Neenah — The drive to raise funds for the Children's Country Home at Winneconne is underway, and members of the board of directors and other interested persons are carrying on the subscription campaign. The officers expect to raise $20,000 through private subscriptions.

Mrs. L. S. Leighton is leading the drive in Neenah, while R. E. Tuckers is the leader for Menasha. Mrs. William Buchanan is leading the campaign in Appleton. Other places being subscribed are Oshkosh and Winneconne. The drive, however, is statewide.

Auxiliary of Dental Society To Hold District Conference

Neenah — District conference of the Auxiliary to the Wisconsin Dental Society will be held at Manitowish Tuesday, Nov. 1, and Neenah and Menasha members of the Winnebago auxiliary are making plans to attend. A business session will precede the 1 o'clock luncheon and bridge will be played during the afternoon. Mrs. F. Kronzer, Oshkosh, is president of the district.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Berendsen and Mrs. George Terrio, Mrs. Gerald Kiefer and Mrs. Roy Hoffman attended the Rebekah meeting at Green Bay Wednesday evening. The Green Bay lodge initiated seven new members and held a social hour after the business session.

Miss Sara Sande won high honors in bridge Wednesday evening with Miss Sadonna Elmer Jackson street, was hostess to members of her bridge club.

Mrs. Gordon Parker and Mrs. Herbert Parker were hostesses to a group of friends Wednesday evening at a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Parker, 117 Jackson street. Cards provided entertainment with prizes awarded Mrs. Oswald Zachow, Mrs. Melvin Wingrove, Mrs. George Wingrove, Mrs. Kathryn Gallmeier and Mrs. Norman Hoeper.

The Rits club, meeting at the Twin City Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening, made plans to divide the club into two groups, one of which will be known as Rits, the "Reserves in True Spirit," and the other is to be known as the S. S. club. The officers of the S. S. club elected include Gladys Junion, president; Pearl Kolgen, vice president; Mary Beth Pfandt, secretary; Joyce Jarvey, treasurer; Arlene Haber, reporter and Alice Zehner, dance chairman. The meeting was featured by a floor show at which Miss Junion presented an acrobatic tap dance and Miss Zehner sang.

Mrs. Alda Ott and Mrs. Adeline Rogers entertained the Royal Neighbor Drill team Thursday evening at the Twin City Y. W. C. A. Following a short business meeting, cards were played with prizes in which awarded Mrs. Della Cloutier and Mrs. Emma Danielsen, in schafkopf Mrs. Meta Larsen and Mrs. Lillian Smith. Guest prize was awarded Mrs. Emma Cyrtmus. Hal-louven decorations were used by the hostesses.

Halloween decorations were used by Mrs. E. C. Kiesow, Second street, Thursday evening when she entertained members of the I. D. K. club at her home. Bridge lovers were given by Mrs. John Schultz, Mrs. E. C. Jape, Miss Ruth Lansing and Mrs. Kiesow. Mrs. Paul Radtke won the traveling prize. The club will meet Tuesday evening next week at the home of Mrs. Radtke, Lincoln street.

Ladies society of Immanuel Lutheran church will attend services at the church Sunday morning as special Ladies Aid Sunday services and installation of officers are planned. The Rev. H. A. Feilerabend will be guest preacher. Mrs. Henry Pukall will be installed as president, Mrs. Henry Blohm as vice president, Mrs. Ernest Blank, treasurer and Mrs. Henry Blank secretary.

Mrs. Louis Nelson won first prize in schafkopf at the card party.

Episcopal Young People Will Hear Talk by National Leader

Menasha — Miss Cynthia Clark, national leader in Episcopal youth organizations will be guest speaker at the all day rally of the young people of the diocese of Fond du Lac Thursday, Nov. 3, at St. Thomas Episcopal church, Menasha. Miss Clark has done outstanding work at the Cathedral in Evanston and during the last three years has been attached to the department of religious education of the National Council. The rally will open at 10 o'clock Thursday and close with a buffet supper at 6 o'clock. William Spengler heads the diocesan youth organization.

Women's Auxiliary of St. Thomas Episcopal church will hold a supper meeting at 6:15 this evening in the parish house.

Twenty-five members of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, St. Mary's court, attended the meeting Thursday evening in the school hall. Mrs. Anna Eckrich was hostess chairman. Plans for the next meeting, postponed from Nov. 24 to Nov. 30, were discussed.

Eagles National Head Addresses Aeries at Neenah

Representatives of Eight Units Hear President Of Order

Neenah — Representatives from eight Eagles aeries heard Dr. Fred C. Dilley, national president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, speak at the meeting of the Neenah Eagles Thursday night in the lodge hall. About 250 persons from lodges at Neenah, Kaukauna, Oshkosh, Berlin and Chilton attended the meeting.

A class of eight candidates was initiated into the order by the degree team of the Neenah. The state president was represented by Dr. William T. Doyle, Fond du Lac, district director of the third district, who announced that the first district meeting will be held Sunday afternoon, Nov. 27, in Fond du Lac. Other state officers who were guests included Michael T. Gaffney, state vice president; and William Lindeman, Menasha, state outside guard.

"The first and foremost aim of the Fraternal Order of Eagles has always been and will always be to make America a happier place in which to live," declared Dr. Dilley, as he pointed out that as practical idealists, the Eagle order has realized for many years that for happiness there must be economic security.

Because of the realization of the need for economic security, more than 30 years ago we set out to work for these groups powerless to help themselves. Eagles worked for mothers' pensions, for old age pensions, and we were active in support of workmen's compensation legislation which gives some security to the victims of occupational accidents and their families.

In addition, aeries all over the country have been active in local movements for civic improvement as well as movements to aid underprivileged children. Dr. Dilley outlined the history of the fraternity, its benefit plans, and the nation-wide membership drive now being conducted. He discussed the Eagles' Ludlow bill and explained its provisions.

Rockets to Meet Lawrence Frosh In Booster Game

Proceeds Will Help Finance Neenah All-Athletic Banquet

Neenah — A large crowd of Neenah grid fans as well as followers of the Lawrence college football team is expected to witness the Neenah-Lawrence Frosh contest at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the high school gridiron.

The conflict will be of especial interest because it will be a booster game and proceeds will help finance the all-athletic banquet to be held at the Valley Inn Dec. 9. Harry Stuhldreher, athletic director and head football coach at Wisconsin university, will be the guest speaker. All high school letter winners will be guests and the banquet will be open to the public.

The game has another draw, for three former Neenah High school grid aces, Clyde Coenen, Alvin Staffeld, and Harold Borenz, will be in the starting line-up for the Lawrence Frosh eleven. Coenen is a guard, Staffeld a tackle and Borenz a center.

Grid fans also will be given an opportunity to see some of the college's next year varsity players, for a number of the freshmen will be candidates for regular berths on the first eleven.

Scrimmage Thursday Coach George Christoph sent his squad through a scrimmage session Thursday afternoon, and this afternoon only a light workout was scheduled. It will be the final home game for the Rockets who will beat the Bluejays at Menasha Nov. 11.

The Rockets' tentative starting cast will include Krause and Gentzen at ends, Anderson and Blank at tackles, LaBumbar and Nesson at guards, Lambert at center, Bunker at quarter, Kettering and Sword at halfbacks and Krueger at full-back.

It is likely that Co-captain Robert Vanderwalker will see action as a guard after having been out practically all season with a broken collar bone.

Elect Menasha Woman President Of Music Groups

Mrs. H. J. C. Rosenow Heads 6th District of Federated Club

Menasha—Mrs. H. J. C. Rosenow, Riverway, who is president of the music department of the Menasha Economics club, was elected president of the Sixth District, Wisconsin Federated Music club, at the fall convention Thursday at Hotel Reliance, Fond du Lac. Mrs. A. D. Sutherland, Fond du Lac, was named vice-president; Mrs. A. Westermeyer, Sheboygan, secretary, and Mrs. E. W. Ridgway, Neenah, treasurer. Mrs. Robert Connor, Sheboygan, was elected district junior counselor.

Members of the nominating committee for the election were Mrs. E. H. Schultz, Menasha, chairman, Mrs. G. Tennant, Fond du Lac and Mrs. A. Gillette, Sheboygan.

The outstanding objective of the federation this year is a state supervisor for public school music and the district group will aid in the realization of this objective. During the morning session, Mrs. Rosenow and Mrs. Gillette were guest speakers. Sixty women attended the noon luncheon at Hotel Reliance during which reports of all clubs in the district were presented. Mrs. Rosenow gave the report of the Menasha club and the two Neenah junior groups were reported on by Joan Miller and Katherine Dexter.

Boy Scout Leaders Map Program Plans At Dinner Meeting

Menasha—Program plans for the coming year for Twin City Boy Scout troops were discussed at a dinner meeting of Neenah and Menasha scoutmasters, their assistants, and valley council officials at Hotel Menasha Thursday night. The first item on the program will be the annual bean feed in November. Valley council officials who attended the dinner included Walter Dixon, Appleton, council executive; Russell Flom, district commissioner; and Robert Schwartz, field commissioner.

All five Twin City scout troops were represented at the meeting. The representatives included Scoutmaster J. Wesley Olsen and James Flynn, assistant, of Troop 9, sponsored by the Menasha Wooden Ware; Scoutmaster Emmett Below of Troop 14, sponsored by the First Congregational church; Scoutmaster Otto Hoffman and George Sorrensen, assistant, of Troop 29, sponsored by the Menasha Elks; Hugh Strang, Jr., assistant scoutmaster of Troop 3, sponsored by St. Thomas Episcopal church; Scoutmaster Ralph Parker and Jack Meyer assistant, of Troop 45, sponsored by St. Margaret Mary church; Scoutmaster R. M. Billings, and Gordon DeCoudres, assistant, of Troop 43, sponsored by the First Methodist church.

Tolverson Lists Rules for Living For Rotary Club

High School Honor Students are Guests At Meeting

Neenah—John S. Tolverson, who was captain of the 1897 Neenah High school football team, told members of the Neenah Rotary club and the club's guests, eight honor students from Neenah High school, in a talk at the noon meeting Thursday at the Valley Inn that touchdowns can be made and goals can be kicked more often in life's battle if one knows the rules.

He listed them: Health, high energy, persistency, thoroughness, technical training, social sense, self knowledge and self understanding, adaptability, willingness to work for a time at jobs requiring less than one's best abilities and a knowledge of the local affairs and a wide acquaintanceship with local people.

Mr. Tolverson is a Rotarian himself. His definition of education is this: "The ability to do the thing that ought to be done at the time it ought to be done whether or not you like to do it."

Defines Rotary

Mr. Tolverson also gave a definition of Rotary for high school students. "Know yourself, know your neighbor, know your country and know the world."

And he outlined the three necessary friendships: "Friendships for the upright, friendship with the sincere and friendship with the man of much observation."

The guests were Royden Ginnow and Dorothy Metzger, freshmen; Alfred Christian and June Walther, sophomores; Sally Stroebel and Matt Becker, juniors, and Robert Vanderwalke and Marquette Fulk, seniors.

CABBAGE PILED IN LONG ROWS AT CANNING PLANT

New London—The seasonal cabbage rush is at its peak and the Hamilton and Sons Canning company at New London this week began its annual practice of storing the harvest temporarily to await the canners. Visible in the picture above are several of dozens of the cabbage piled against bins and covered with hay for protection against frost. Several city blocks and adjoining fields are being filled with the long rows, representing the accumulation of hundreds of tons of the vegetable. Workers are shown at right unloading one truck while several in the background unload others at the factory. The surplus cabbage is absorbed by the plant in about a month after hauling ceases. Sugar Beet Crop Is Good This Year

Farmers in New London Area Shipping 1 1/2 Cars a Day

New London—Sugar beets are leaving the New London area at the rate of a car and a half a day as farmers are capitalizing on an exceptionally good crop this year, according to Hugo Toltzman, car loader at the Chicago and North Western railway freight yard.

More acreage and better production will bring the output of this area to 30 or 35 carloads, averaging about 45 tons each, compared to 11 of last year. The yield is from five to seven tons better per acre than last year, farmers report.

Alvin Handschke, route 2, is harvesting better than 20 tons to the acre from a 9-acre tract. Last year he took an average of 13 tons to the acre. Ernest Beckert, route 2, is averaging 16 tons to the acre this year.

The harvest is at its peak now having started Oct. 13 and expected to run about 30 days. The abundance of the crop will have no effect on the price, all the beets in this area having been contracted by the Superior Sugar Refining company. They are being shipped to company mills at Menominee, Mich. Jess Collier of Hortonville is acting as field man for the company.

4-H Club to Give One-Act Play on Achievement Day

Pleasant Corners 4-H club has been asked by R. C. Swanson, county agricultural agent, to present its 1-act play, "Whar's Mah Pants?" and to sing at the achievement day program to be held Nov. 5. The cast of characters met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Leo Schreier, Greenville, for a rehearsal.

The club will have a Halloween party next Wednesday night at the home of Mae Huebner, route 2, Dale. Games and other entertainment appropriate to the occasion will take place.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Suttner are general chairmen of a Halloween dance to be given Friday night at Triangle school. The lunch committee includes Mrs. O. Bergsbaken, Mrs. John Weber, Mrs. W. Hill and Mrs. John Wilhams.

Another of the series of open car parties will be given by women of St. Mary Catholic church of Greenville at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at the school hall. Schafkopf and schear will be played and the committee will include Mrs. Frank Dorn, Mrs. Oscar Tennie and Mrs. Theodore Schmit.

Standards for Dry Milk Industry in State Established

Standards for Wisconsin's dry milk industry are established in regulations which have been issued by the state department of agriculture, according to R. C. Swanson, county agricultural agent. The regulations will take effect after Dec. 1.

This is the first time standards ever have been prescribed by a governmental agency for this rapidly growing industry. Hitherto, however, many manufacturers of dried or powdered milk products have faithfully followed standards drawn up by the American Dry Milk Institute.

The regulations apply to dried or powdered milk, dried or powdered buttermilk, and are based on conclusions drawn from hearings conducted in Chippewa Falls and Madison.

Their purpose is twofold:

1. To protect consumers by preventing unscrupulous dealers from mixing skim milk powder intended for animal food with the product intended for human consumption.
2. To eliminate unfair competition among the trade by preventing unscrupulous dealers from selling a mixed product of that type in competition with powder made under sanitary conditions.

The standards fixed by the state will limit butterfat content, moisture content, and bacterial count per cubic centimeter in dry milk milk produced for human consumption.

Packing requirements which would prevent contamination of the product from dust, and identification marks to be placed on the packages are also prescribed.

Fertilizer Needs Are Determined By Field Tests

Laboratory Work Supplements Soil Observations

Specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture look upon field tests as the most reliable means of determining fertilizer needs of any soil, and many tests are underway on important soil types with different crops and different combinations of crops, R. C. Swanson, county agent, has been informed.

It is not possible, however, to have controlled field experiments everywhere. Federal scientists and at least three quarters of the states use laboratory tests to supplement field observations of soil types and of crops to detect unusual conditions and as an aid in planning and interpreting field experiments. They find that, although chemical analyses show the total of various soil constituents, they may not show the supply available to plants. Special chemical methods are required to show relative amounts of available plant nutrients.

In addition to tests for soil acidity, the so-called "rapid" chemical tests are widely used to estimate the phosphate and potash requirements of soils. At present these tests are not well standardized. Those most widely used are the ones that correlate best with field plot tests. Yet even tests that correlate well with field tests on one group of soils may not correlate well with field tests on a different group of soils.

Soil specialists in the department and in most of the state experiment stations use pot tests in the greenhouse largely to determine soil deficiencies of secondary elements such as manganese, boron, and zinc. These are also valuable in the preliminary testing of new fertilizers and new fertilizer mixtures. Through use of pot tests in the greenhouse it is frequently possible to eliminate some field plot tests and concentrate on those most necessary.

Only 9 State Counties Quarantined for Rabies

Although rabies is recurring throughout the nation, the disease is reported as less widespread in Wisconsin than in other states, R. C. Swanson, county agent, has been informed. In Wisconsin the disease remains confined to local areas, with only portions of nine of the state's 71 counties under quarantine. Outagamie county is not one of those under quarantine.

State Produces Record Corn Crop

Wisconsin Yield Is Well Above That of 1932

The largest corn crop in the history of Wisconsin, nearly 88 million bushels, was produced this year, according to recent estimates of the Crop Reporting service received by R. S. Swanson, Outagamie county agent. The crop is about four million bushels above the record harvest of 1932.

This spring farmers in the state planted slightly less corn than the acreage harvested last year, but the yields have been much better and it is expected that the corn crop will be about 15 per cent larger than that harvested a year ago.

In spite of some field damage by water in southern Wisconsin the crop has generally ripened well and the reported yield is 37 bushels per acre compared with 31.5 bushels a year ago. In the absence of any frost damage the corn crop has had good chance to mature throughout the state. About 25 per cent of this year's planting is estimated to have been hybrid seed, which tends to further increase the yield.

Dairying and livestock raising in Wisconsin require large quantities of feed. Of the total crop acreage in the state, about 1-3 is used in the production of corn. The great dairy industry of this state has caused the building of more silos than will be found in any other state. About one-half of the corn raised in the state is used for silage.

Since the general introduction of silos in Wisconsin the acreage of corn in the state has increased greatly. The utilization of corn as silage has made it possible to grow this crop in counties beyond the northern limits of heavy corn production for grain. In the northern districts more than two-thirds of all the corn is used for silage.

Clyde Roepke Is Pace Setter for Verifine Keglers

Team Takes Two Games To Increase Refreshment League Standings

Verifine	14	7
Eggers Tavern	11	10
Miller High Lites	9	12
Orange Kists	8	13

New London—Clyde Roepke banged out a 555 series for a new high in the refreshment league at the Verifine tavern last night and paced the Verifines to new league laurels. The quintet took the high team game with a 925 count in the first game and bettered its own series total at 2,594.

Roepke hit games of 190, 213 and 197. Boosting the team were Ed Wolf's 539 total and C. H. Kellogg's 537 series. Both clocked a 211 game in the first line.

The Verifines added to their league standing with two wins over Eggers. Log Taverns, 925, 834 and 815 to 636, 870 and 791. William Eggers led his squad with a high 574 count that featured a 215 line.

The High Lites pushed the Orange Kists behind by taking two games. Lester Meshke led the losers with 514 and 201.

BORDEN LEAGUE

Standings:	W.	L.
Lebanon	12	6
Royalton	12	6
Maple Creek	11	7
Bordens	11	7
Bear Creek	9	9
Ostrander	9	11
Black Creek	5	13
Hortonville	5	13

Lebanon and Royalton relegated Bordens to the background as the two squads pounded their way to a tie lead night.

Lebanon made the most of a 106-pin handicap to win three straight and nearly would have managed without aid. B. Crain smashed a 190 line and finished with a 457 total while Mike Crain hit 183. Leonard Dernback paced the Bordens gang with a 522 count.

Black Kelly's 196 and 479 combination out-tripped keggers in the other matches as Royalton took Ostrander for two games.

Connelly Begins Survey of Sewers

Data Will be Basis for Future Improvement Projects

New London — R. M. Connelly, Appleton, City Engineer, began work this week on the city-wide sewer survey ordered by the city council as a basis for future improvements and with a view to the ultimate construction of a sewerage disposal plant.

Mr. Connelly at present has one assistant working with him. The project will include a complete survey of all present sewers, manholes, catch-basins, with grades and elevations; a survey of all present streets lacking sewers and a survey of all unplanned areas in the city.

The finished work will be presented in a complete topographical map, a large size plan showing the location of all present sewers, recommended size, grade and location for future sewers, and a plan showing the size, location and grade for interceptors and a sewerage treatment plant.

The completed plans must be approved by the state sanitary engineer. In many cases the work will require the digging up of manholes hidden under the street surfaces, asphalt making the work more difficult.

Dr. Mrs. Woodruff Arrive for Winter's Stay in New London

New London—Dr. and Mrs. George E. Woodruff, recently of St. Louis, Mo., arrived in New London this week. They have taken up residence at 15 E. Cook street and may spend the winter in New London. Both were formerly known to New London residents. Mrs. Woodruff was the former Miss Mary F. Bradbury who taught school here and Dr. Woodruff is the son of the Rev. Warren Woodruff, pastor of the Methodist church here from 1870-1877.

Four members of the New London High school faculty attended a meeting of the Fox River Valley Schoolmasters association at Hotel Redlaw, Fond du Lac, Wednesday evening. Attending were A. F. Christ, principal; L. W. Warner, R. M. Shurtell and A. A. Verba. Mrs. Christ presided and the group and visited the various teacher friends in Fond du Lac.

Board Employs English Teacher

Miss Martha Linder to Succeed H. H. Brockhaus on Faculty

New London — Miss Martha Linder, formerly of Chilton, was hired by the board of education at a meeting Wednesday night to succeed H. H. Brockhaus as English and dramatics instructor at Washington High school. She is expected to start Nov. 7 after the annual teachers' convention.

Miss Linder is a native of the state of Pennsylvania and has had 15 years teaching experience, mostly in the schools of that state. She received practical dramatics experience with the Little Theater of Pittsburgh, was granted her bachelors degree from Pennsylvania State college in 1936 and took graduate work at Penn State college and Pittsburgh university. She also studied at Chautauqua school, the University of Chicago and the Pittsburgh School of Speech.

The 1939 school budget was approved by the board at the meeting.

Catholic Women's Study Club Formed

In Lebanon Parish

New London—A Catholic Women's Study club was organized in St. Patrick's parish, Lebanon, yesterday afternoon by Mrs. D. B. Egan of this city, deanery club chairman.

Mrs. Arthur Crain was elected president by the new group; Mrs. John Fitzgerald, vice; president; Mrs. William Laughlin, secretary; Miss Dora Clegg, treasurer; Mrs. Mark Madden and Mrs. Joseph Laughlin were named co-chairman in charge of programs. Music chairman is Mrs. John Garrity and Mrs. William Madden is general chairman of social activities.

The newly organized club was invited to attend the regular meeting of the New London club of the Most Precious Blood church next Monday evening at the parish hall. Mrs. L. Fitzgerald, program chairman of the New London club, accompanied Mrs. Egan on her mission and suggested programs to the group. The purposes and aims of the clubs were explained by Mrs. Egan.

Committee Will Map C. Y. O. Program Plans

New London — About 60 young people of the Most Precious Blood parish met at the parish hall last evening to reorganize the Catholic Youth Council for the year. A committee of 10 was named to meet next Monday evening to determine the program of action. Possibilities of forming separate junior and senior groups were discussed informally after the business meeting.

Named to the special committee were Miss Lou Monroe, Miss Phyllis Wilson, Miss Marie Butt, Miss Valere Wagner, Miss Valeria Dernback, Andrew Butt, Phil Clark, Louis Butler, Alvin Brault and Russell Jorgensen.

Franklin Neuschaefer Is Hurt While Plowing on His Wolf River Farm

Freemont — Franklin Neuschaefer, town of Wolf River farmer and chairman of that township, received severe fractures to his left leg Wednesday when he was engaged in plowing with a tractor on his farm when the accident occurred. The leg became wedged between a fence and logs of a wheel while the machine was in operation. Charles Miller, a neighbor, was called to see him and took him home. Mr. Neuschaefer will be confined to his bed for several weeks, it is believed.

Senior Sodality Makes Plans For Bazaar at Catholic Church

New London—The annual cash bazaar of the Most Precious Blood church will be held Sunday, Nov. 13, according to plans made by the Senior sodality at the parish hall yesterday afternoon. Ticket sales will begin immediately under the direction of ward chairmen who will select their own corps of workers.

Second and Fifth wards will be covered largely by the two co-chairmen, Mrs. L. J. Polaske and Miss Rose Kische in the Second ward, and Mrs. Archie Burton and Mrs. Louis Kurszevski in the Fifth. Mrs. A. J. Brice is in charge of the First ward, Mrs. M. H. McDonnell the Third, and Mrs. F. J. Murphy the Fourth.

A bake sale and social was held after the business meeting. Prizes at cards went to Mrs. Vern Sawyer in bridge, Mrs. Eugene Bessett in schafskopf and Mrs. David Rickaby in five hundred. Mrs. William M. Knapstein received a special prize.

New London Squad Will Meet Shawano Gridders Tonight

Homecoming Battle Will Begin Under Lights At 8 O'clock

New London—At 8 o'clock tonight the interest of the town will be centered on the opening kickoff of the annual New London homecoming football game under the lights at the city ball park against the Shawano Indians in a North-eastern Wisconsin conference game.

Officials for the game will be Robert Kolf, Oshkosh; Merlin Seims, Appleton; and George Berg, Green Bay.

At a special pep meeting in the high school assembly yesterday afternoon, E. N. Calef of the faculty told of the hardships of early football and the crude equipment and manner of play.

Several hundred students attended the victory bonfire at the high school grounds at 7 o'clock last evening, after which they paraded behind the band through the business section. Pep speakers around the fire were Norman Pronold of the faculty, Warren Spurr, Harry Herres and Howard Fox, seniors; and Dave Knapstein, post graduate student speaking for the alumni.

Game May Be Close

With the Shawano eleven reported in a weakened condition because of injuries to their best passers and kickers, Billy Reed and Jerry Doan, a nip and tuck battle may result. The Stacyns have the advantage of the home field, the homecoming spirit, and the accumulation of another week's intensive drill work under Coach D. N. Stacy.

Substitutes likely to see action are Bernard Freiburger, No. 39; Lester Schimke, No. 29; Robert Houk, No. 24; Delbert Ous, No. 32; Harold Pies, No. 25; Junior Prah, No. 23; Allen Ziebur, No. 26; Dave Wilson, No. 37; Karl Heimbruch, No. 20.

The high school band will provide music, maneuver between halves, and the homecoming dance will follow the game at the high school gymnasium.

Commission to Study Rates of City Utility

New London—An investigation into the books, accounts, practices and activities of the New London Light and Water Utility will be conducted by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission to make a certification of its depreciation rates, according to notice received this week by L. M. Wright, treasurer.

At the request of the commission last spring a check-up was made on the present flat rate system used by the utility and the more complex system proposed by the commission and there was little difference in the final result, according to Mr. Wright.

All costs of the investigation will be charged to the city.

CAPITOL GUIDE LAST 15 YEARS

Most ordinary citizens of Wisconsin don't have much contact with the officials of their state government. It isn't unlikely that Sherman T. Dodge, shown above, chief capitol guide for the last 15 years, is known to more local residents than the chairman of the public service commission, or the insurance commissioner, or the attorney general. Dodge has now been placed on semi-retirement, will work only half-time in the future in line with a new state policy of reducing the number of government employees over 70. (Wisconsin State Journal Photo)

Capitol Guide Has Lectured To 525,000 People in 15 Years

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau — Seven or eight times the population of Outagamie county, that's the number of people who have walked behind Sherman T. Dodge, chief state capitol guide, and have listened to his lecture during his 15 years of service as tourist maestro in the marble-domed structure which is the chief pride of Wisconsin's capital city.

Since Dodge became a guide in 1915, after serving as a building policeman for 14 years before that, he has been leading little groups of Wisconsin and out-of-state folk up and down the stairs of the capitol, more than 525,000 in all. In one exceptionally busy year he delivered his lecture to 54,000 people.

This year he will fall below his average, far below, for he, with other capitol employees over 70, has been placed on half-time. He is now off the job completely, will return for a six months period next January. He is now 74.

Possessing a bold, clear, eloquent voice, Dodge has delivered his speech thousands of times, and isn't tired of it yet. Not infrequently during his long service in the statehouse he has been told that he missed his calling, that he should have entered politics.

Chapple Wants Chief Opponents to Testify To Expose 'Ugly Deal'

Fond du Lac — (P)—John B. Chapple, independent Townsend Republican candidate for United States senator whose candidacy has been denied the endorsement of L. W. Jeffery of Chicago, national vice president of the Townsend old age pension organization, telegraphed the attorney general's office last night as follows:

"The facts just revealed have corroborated in every detail my prediction of Tuesday concerning the Heil-Jeffery-Wiley deal to smash up the Townsend vote in Wisconsin and make it ineffective. The facts already dictated to you concerning the activities of a Milwaukee under-cover worker will be amplified by me.

"I now demand that before you complete your investigation of violations of the corrupt practices act that you put Julius Heil (Republican candidate for governor), L. W. Jeffery of the Chicago Townsend office, and Alexander Wiley (Republican nominee for United States senator) under oath and force them to expose this ugly deal by which efforts are being made to break Townsend strength because efforts to bribe me and buy me off have failed.

"My sworn statement to you already indicates clearly the relationship between the latest Heil-Jeffery-Wiley deal and the efforts to force me to quit the race."

In letters sent to secretaries of Wisconsin Townsend clubs, the organization's national headquarters urged club members to support Wiley.

X-MUSSOLINI'S "VICTORY"

The war against Ethiopia made the rest of the world speak plainly against Italy. Here was a nation which had gone to war with another country and was carrying on a plain program of conquest.

In the Kellogg-Briand peace pact, the Italian government had promised to give up war, and always to settle things peacefully. This promise had been broken.

Still worse, Italy was a member of the League of Nations, and so was Ethiopia. Both nations had given their pledge to behave in a civilized way, and let reason rule. Ethiopia was willing, but Italy wasn't.

What could the League do? It could impose "sanctions." This very thing, it did, in a small way. A list was made of things which could not be sent into Italy, and Italian trade was cut down a great deal.

The list did not include oil, but some members of the League of Nations said this item should be added. "It is not enough for the nations not to let Italy have guns, shrapnel shells and the other things on the list. We should add oil. The Italians do not have a large supply of oil, and if we shut off the trade in it, the war soon will come to an end. They won't be able to run their motor trucks, or airplanes."

"What you say is true," replied others, "but how can we shut off Italy's supply of oil? The United States produces more oil than all the rest of the world, but the United States is not a member of the League of Nations. Members of the League could stop selling oil to Italy, but American companies would supply Italy with all the oil she needs."

So the weeks and months dragged on. Italy was hurt by the loss of trade, but was not hurt enough to cause her to stop the war. The Ethiopians fought as well as they could, with their poor weapons, but Italy won. In May, 1938, Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital city, was captured.

That was Mussolini's "victory," but it has brought him little, if any, honor, and a great deal of dishonor. He had expected to obtain riches from the mines of Ethiopia, and it may be that such riches will come in the future, but they have not amounted to much so far. Last fall, an Italian army officer told me Italy had spent far more money on Ethiopia than had come back from the new colony.

THEY'RE LONELY

Winnipeg, Man.—In spite of continued unemployment, there is a shortage of girls to work as domestics, and social service agencies here think they know why. They cite long hours and low wages, but especially loneliness, as the reason girls are turning to other employment.

Four social service agencies have been working to provide recreation for domestics and to do what they can to regulate hours and wages.

New York —(AP)—Railway stocks had the buying almost exclusively in today's market as recent industrial leaders were shoved to lower levels by shifting profit factors.

Utilities and electrical equipments were in the advancing limelight for a while, following announcement from Washington by the national defense power committee of a huge expansion program adopted by the country's important utility corporations in cooperation with the governmental agency. These stocks, though, quickly lost vitality and, except for a handful, were under water at the close. The opinion was expressed by some analysts that the "good news" may have been discounted to a certain extent.

Spurring carriers was word from the president at his press conference that the fact-finding committee in the rail wage controversy would make its report after noon tomorrow and hopes were revived at least part of the cut desired by the roads would be recommended.

In dealings that approximated 1,600,000 shares for the day, steels, motors, rubbers, aircrafts, oils and specialties found the going a bit too rough for comfort, and, with offerings stepping up at the close, losses of fractions to around 2 points predominated.

Rail loans were the principal upward movers in the bond division. Commodities were uneven. Wheat at Chicago was off 1/2 to 1 cent a bushel and corn was down 1/2 to 1 cent. In late transactions, was up 10 to down 20 cents a bale. Near mid-afternoon sterling was off 1/2 of a cent at $4.76-9.16 and the French franc was up .004 of a cent at 2.66 1/2 cents.

Prices of Wheat Turn Downward On Chicago Market

Moisture Relief in Midwest Is Factor in Lowering of Values

Chicago —(AP)—Moisture relief at various places both sides of the Kansas-Nebraska border led to 11 cents a bushel late downturn of Chicago wheat prices today.

Indications that frost in Argentina had done no damage to crops counted also as a late bearish factor, notwithstanding prospects were for frosts there again tonight. Exports demand for North American grains today was negligible.

Receipts were: Wheat 11 cars, corn 651, oats 18.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1/2 to 1 cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, Dec. 65-65 1/2, May 66 1/2, corn 1/2 down, Dec. 45 1/2, May 48 1/2, and oats 1/2 off.

Wiley Criticizes Political Tactics Of Campaign Foes

Sheboygan —(AP)—New Deal Democrats and the LaFollettes, Alexander Wiley charged in a campaign address here last night, are trying to divert attention from a national economic situation that exposes "their failure to remedy conditions."

Wiley, Republican candidate for the United States senate, declared: "The youth of our country has been discouraged by statements of the so-called leaders of the radical forces to the effect that our frontiers of opportunity are no more. Our young people are unable to obtain jobs in careers of their own choosing or to learn trades in crafts for which they are equipped because these alleged leaders have tinkered so much with the American economic machine."

"In trying to cover up their shortcomings the leaders are resorting to the political smokescreen of abusing individuals who differ with their crackpot theories."

Such tactics, Wiley said, were not fooling farmers "who know they have been sold short," nor labor, "which is awakening to the fact that Progressive-New Deal theories have not produced jobs or bettered conditions for the working man."

Double-Scaled for Greater Results

Charged ads will be received by telephone, and if paid at the Appleton Post-Crescent office within six days from the first day of insertion, cash will be allowed.
Ads offered for three, five or eight days and stopped before expiration will be charged only for the number of times the ad appeared and adjustment made at the rate earned.
Above rates for more than one day apply only on orders for consecutive daily insertions. Irregular insertions take the one day rate.
Publishers reserve the right to edit or reject any "Want Ad" copy.
Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Appleton Post-Crescent will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.

Supply of Ready Cash at New High

National Income Climbs For Fourth Consecutive Month

Washington, Oct. 27.—The nation's supply of ready cash stood at a new high today, while national income had climbed for the fourth consecutive month.

The commerce department's index of income payments to individuals rose from 82.5 per cent of the 1929 level in August to 83.3 per cent in September. The September index for the year was 83.3 per cent, for the year before was 82 per cent below the 1937 peak.

Federal reserve experts estimated bank deposits and currency in circulation had reached the unprecedented total of $57,700,000,000, including a near-record supply of idle funds that might be loaned to stimulate business.

About $6,700,000,000 of the total was in currency and the rest in deposits. The lendable portion of deposits was estimated at $3,280,000,000, compared with normal needs of $500,000,000.

Deposits and currency have expanded by $1,000,000,000 since June 30, largely due to the influx of foreign money seeking a haven from European war threats.

Officials made efforts to arrange a meeting today or tomorrow of the presidential committee which has been working on a program of large-scale expenditures by private utilities.

The committee has been trying to work out a project which would provide adequate power facilities in event of war and at the same time stimulate heavy industries.

Today and Tomorrow

BY WALTER LIPPMAN

The Foundation of Another Empire

It is useless to underestimate the magnitude of the Japanese victory in China. With the conquest of Canton the Japanese are able to close all the doors to China. Communication by sea is now completely under Japanese control. There remain only as exits and entrances to what is left of an independent China the overland route from French Indo-China and a long and not very practicable highway through central Asia to Russian Siberia. The French door will soon be closed because the Japanese have the power to compel the French to close it. The Russian door, even if it remains open, is a mere crack in the iron ring that places China at the mercy of Japan. Even though the Chinese continue to offer some active and even more passive resistance, the Japanese have won the war, and the operations from now on are likely to be not much more than the mopping up that follows any great victory. The consequences of the victory are enormous. China, which has been a center of formidable resistance to the advancing Empire of Japan, will become a vassal contributing to the power of the Japanese Empire. What was once a liability of the first order has been changed by the conquest into an asset of incalculable value.

In eastern Asia, where live one-quarter of the population of the globe the Japanese are supreme. The Russians are helpless, the French are intimidated, the British position is shattered, and the Americans are withdrawn, though we are still entangled in the Philippines. The strategic foundations of one of the greatest empires of history have been, it would seem, securely established.

There's Believe That This Will Satisfy Conquerors

There is a view, widely held in Great Britain and to some degree also in this country, that the opening of Eastern Europe to German conquest and of China to Japanese conquest will divert, pre-occupy, and even satisfy the conquerors for a long time to come. It is held that having bitten off so much, the conquerors will require a long time to chew and to digest it, and if it does not choke them, it will at least keep them quiet and well-fed for a generation. This is what Mr. Chamberlain and those who think as he does have in mind when they say that, though the price has been a big one, they have bought with it peace in their own time.

In the last analysis this theory rests on an idea which has been current since the war, that the world is divided into satisfied and unsatisfied nations, into the haves and the have-nots, and that the aggressiveness of the have-nots will subside when they too become the possessors of great empires. If the theory is correct, it is one in which Americans might find a great deal of comfort. For if Japan can be satisfied for a generation by letting her have China and perhaps Russian Siberia, if Germany can be satisfied for Hitler's lifetime by letting him have a free hand in central Europe, the Balkans, and the Ukraine, then later on, if the appetite for conquest is still strong, the United States can still enjoy security in this hemisphere while the British Empire is being distributed.

Doesn't Follow That Energy Will Subside

There is, however, ground for thinking that the fashionable theory of haves and have-nots is a half-truth. It is undoubtedly half the truth to say that inadequate opportunity for the congested populations of Germany and Japan which they suddenly find themselves living. The series of tragic miscalculations made in the past few years were due to the illusion that the age of conquest and empire building was as dead as Caesar whereas, in fact, we have since 1931 been living in the first years of a new age of conquest and empire building.

The foundations of two empires, potentially as great as any in history, have been laid between the peace of Munich and the fall of Canton, and our minds are as yet unable to keep pace with the speed of world history in the making. But we may get some practical measure of the speed of events when we realize that whereas it takes three years to build a battleship, it has taken only about fifteen months to conquer China.

Members of the Santal sect of India take oaths on a piece of tiger skin. They believe a tiger will eat them if they swear falsely.

Traffic Accidents Claim Lives of 12 Children in Month

No fatal accidents occurred at intersections protected by the state highway commission's schoolboy patrols, but 12 school-age children and 7 pre-school children were killed in September traffic accidents. No age was safe, however, as 10 persons over 65 years of age were killed. Most of these were elderly people walking on highways or streets.

Outagamie county had 14 traffic accidents reported to the state highway commission in September of this year, with 2 fatalities and 5 personal injuries. For the same month of last year, this county reported 18 accidents, 3 deaths, and 13 injuries.

Counties with no traffic fatalities during the first nine months of 1938 were Crawford, Green Lake, Marquette, and Pepin. Florence and Rush counties didn't report a single serious accident in September. Brown county listed 17 accidents last month with no fatalities and 12 injuries, while Shawano county had 14 accidents with 1 fatality and 13 injuries. Waupaca county reported 13 accidents to the state highway commission, with no deaths and 11 injuries, and Winnebago registered 15 accidents, 1 death, and 15 persons injured.

Valley Boxing Club Formed at Kaukauna

Articles of organization have been filed by the Valley Boxing club, Kaukauna, with A. L. Collar, Outagamie county register of deeds. Purpose of the organization will be to promote athletic contests, especially boxing and wrestling. Signers of the articles are George Zwick, John Coppes and Jacob Miller, Kaukauna.
